Five Men Held For Gun Attack Against Police

DETROIT (AP) — Five men who police believe to be members of a group which planned to kill police officers were to be arraigned in Detroit today on charges stemming from the shooting of three policemen early Sunday morning.

Petitions of habeas corpus filed on behalf of all five men were denied Sunday by a Detroit Recorder's Court judge.

Two of the men, Lawrence White, Jr. 26, and Michael Anderson, 22, were booked on preliminary charges of attempted murder. Bond was set at $25,000 for each man.

Patrolmen Shot

Three others, Anthony Williams, 28, Hayward DeVrille, 20 and Richard Edmonds, 21, were jailed pending investigation of a conspiracy to murder. Bond was set for Williams at $1,500 and $500 for the other two.

Detroit Patrolmen Richard Gordon, 24, and Norman Sieloff, 28, were shot as they patrolled a street on the city's east side shortly after midnight Sunday.

According to police, the officers' car was struck by gunfire as they slowed for an intersection. Both men were wounded when they jumped out of the car returning the fire.

Responding to the wounded men's call for help, Chief Inspector Anthony Bertoni was also slightly injured when his car was struck by several shots, one of which shattered the windshield.

Chased Men

Police said they chased two men to a house where they were met with gunfire. Police returned fire and then began firing tear gas into the house.

A few minutes later, Anderson emerged from the building and surrendered, police said. They said White surrendered after conversations with his father, Lawrence White Sr., who urged his son to give himself up.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Jay Nolan, testifying in court Sunday, said that police arrested six more men, including Williams, DeVrille and Edmonds, based on informaton developed by surveillance units that linked them with the shooting.

Planned Attack

Nolan said all five men had been under surveillance Saturday before the shooting, as they drove to and from the house where Anderson and White later surrendered. He said two of the five men left the automobile within two blocks of the shooting scene. Nolan said the surveillance car continued to follow the automobile, and police arrested the three men remaining in the car moments after the shooting occurred. The three were later identified as Edmonds, Williams and Devrille, Nolan said.

Nolan also testified that police intelligence officers had received information that an unidentified group planned to attack and kill uniformed policemen at random. But he did not say whether that information had resulted in the Saturday night surveillance of the five men accused in the shooting.

Sieloff was treated for gunshot wounds and released in good condition. Gordon was admitted to a Detroit hospital, where he was reported in fair condition Sunday.

Election Attacks Take 22 Lives

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese officials claimed more than 72 per cent of the voters turned out Sunday for provincial elections despite Viet Cong attacks that killed at least 22 persons and wounded 81.

The highest toll was in the northernmost provinces, where enemy troops mortared Mo Duc, a district town in Quang Ngai Province, killing seven persons and wounding 11 at a polling place.

In some areas, Viet Cong political cadres summoned voters together and warned them not to vote. But government officials claimed 72.6 per cent of the 6.1 million turned out in the 44 provinces, with a heavier participation in rural areas than in the cities.

The claims appeared highly questionable in some areas, however, as witnesses to the voting reported turnouts apparently much below the figures issued by the government.

In Da Nang, for example, officials reported 104,421 voters, or about 73 per cent of the total in South Vietnam's second largest city. But another Vietnamese source said the actual showing probably was below 50 per cent.

At stake were 554 provincial council seats contested by 1,930 candidates, an average of more than three candidates for each post.

The provincial elections were the first since 1967 and the first under a reform program that gives the councils more power and a more representative base.

Nasser Huddles With Russians

By The Associated Press

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser arrived in the Soviet Union today and was expected to discuss with Soviet leaders the new American Middle East peace proposals and his country's defense needs.

The Arab leader's visit came in the wake of statements by Palestinian guerrilla leaders that they would sabotage any effort at reaching a political settlement between Arab governments and Israel.

On the battle fronts, Israeli warplanes raided Jordan and southeast Lebanon Sunday in retaliation for Arab guerrilla attacks that killed one civilian and wounded two civilians and two policemen. The Israeli air force also kept up its day-and-night attacks on Egyptian posts along the Suez Canal.

The military command in Tel Aviv said its planes attacked Arab guerrilla strongholds on Mt. Hermon in southeast Lebanon for 35 minutes and hit guerrilla bases in Jordan three times Sunday. Large numbers of planes also bombed intermittently along the canal during the day, and the strikes continued through the night.

No Israeli planes were lost, a spokesman said.

Arab and Israeli leaders continued to discuss the new American peace proposals for the Middle East. In Amman, one influential guerrilla official declared: "We are the joker in the pack. Without our consent they can do nothing and we will never agree to a peaceful settlement."

Legislature Begins Final Week Of Work

LANSING (AP)— The Michigan Legislature today began a hectic scramble to get its work done by Friday, so members might adjourn for some equally frantic campaigning before the Aug. 4 primary election.

Left up in the air when the House and Senate adjourned late Friday were such pressing issues as the more than $1.7 billion budget for the fiscal year that begins Wednesday, a school aid bill including parochiaid, the 18-year-old vote and drug law reform.

Leaders had already pushed the Legislature, however, to final action on a $92 million revenue bill—revoking a lion's share of property tax credits against the state income tax—and a major antipollution bill that allows private citizens to sue government and industry for endangering the state's environment.

Work Acknowledged

Leaders acknowledged the load of work still remaining. But they eyed the calendar that shows only one month before the primary and spoke confidently of completing the immediate business of the session by week's end.

State government normally would be shut down on Friday, the day before the Fourth of July, but all signs pointed to business-as-usual for the lawmakers and their staffs.

Chief order of business for both houses is action on the long-stalled school aid bill for 1970-71.

The Senate passed the bill last year, calling for some $972 million. But the House completely revamped the bill and passed a $1.2 million measure tied to a plan for increased reliance on income taxes for paying school bills.

Vote To Be Battle

A $22 million grant for parochiaid was included in both versions of the school aid bill.

The antiparochiaid forces still are working against the state subsidy for private and church-affiliated schools—to the point that Gov. William Milliken said Friday the vote on the school aid bill would be a "battle."

But with the tax bill to pay for increased school aid on the way to Milliken's desk for signing, the school aid fight appeared nearly over.

Several appropriations bills, doling out specified sums of money for state-supported institutions and agencies, remained on legislative schedules. Chief among them is the $335.3 million appropriation for higher education, now a topic of a House-Senate conference committee.

Voting Age Bill

Both House and Senate have passed resolutions that would put the question of lowering Michigan's voting age on the November ballot. But lawmakers still must settle the hassle over which proposal to give full legislative endorsement.

The House passed a lowered voting age proposal authored by Rep. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit, while the Senate approved one introduced by Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo.

The Senate also is facing final action on proposals that revise Michigan laws dealing with the classification of marijuana and penalties for sale of narcotics.

Senate Nears Vote On Future War Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Nixon's promised deadline for withdrawing U.S. forces from Cambodia less than two days away, the Senate moved toward the climax of its two-month debate on limiting future American operations there.

Following today's GOP efforts —led by Assistant Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin and Colorado Sen. Gordon Allott—to water down the proposal, the Senate votes Tuesday afternoon on the Cooper-Church amendment to cut off funds for U.S. actions in Cambodia after June 30.

That date was picked by the amendment's sponsors—Republican John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Idaho Democrat Frank Church—because Nixon said all American troops would be out of Cambodia by then.

Today's Republican moves were the rear guard of constant efforts by defenders of Nixon Southeast Asia policies to take the edge off Cooper-Church—such as Griffin's try at softening the language.

Wanted War Debate

Allott's proposal to seek an earlier vote than war critics originally sought on the amendment to cut off all funds for the Indochina war after Dec. 31, 1971, had been introduced in hopes it would be defeated now.

Its original sponsors wanted action later this summer so the proposal could serve as another vehicle for extended debate on Vietnam and opposed Allott's maneuvering for a quicker decision.

Today's Senate action was played against these other developments:

—Secretary of State William P. Rogers said in advance of his scheduled meeting with the President at the Western White House that Nixon would make a renewed peace initiative after all U.S. forces are out of Cambodia.

—The President continued preparing a written statement to be issued Tuesday on the Cambodian operation.

—North Vietnam broadcast Sunday a statement that the United States had obtained none of its objectives in Cambodia and was claiming an "imaginary victory."

House Action

—Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the House Republican leader, said the Cambodian incursion had been successful "far beyond expectations" and he personally thought it might even lead to an accelerated withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam. He also said the House might knock out the Cooper-Church amendment even if the Senate passed it.

Irish Violence Subsides, Death Toll Rises To Six

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Violence subsided in Northern Ireland today. Britain's Cabinet went into emergency session in London and defense officials there moved to dispatch even more troops to help stop religious fighting.

The death today in a hospital of a man brought to six the toll of dead from fighting between Roman Catholics and Protestants over the weekend. More than 200 other persons have been injured.

Soldiers with orders to shoot armed civilians on sight patrolled rubble-strewn sections of Belfast.

Bombs Thrown

Violence developed in the independent Irish Republic in the south when Irish raiders threw gasoline bombs into British railroad offices and a British veterans' organization building in Cork.

That republic's foreign minister Patrick Hiller, flew to London to discuss the crisis with the British foreign secretary, Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

There was considerably less violence Sunday night as the British government rushed more troops in and emergency measures were proclaimed. Another 40 persons were injured in street fights, an explosion started a fire at an oil depot, but only one shooting was reported —a shotgun blast that wounded two soldiers slightly.

Police reported all quiet by 4 a.m.

Violence began Friday night over the jailing of Bernadette Devlin, the fiery young Roman Catholic leader sentenced to six months in prison for leading anti-Protestant riots last summer. The bloodiest toll came in 12 hours of fighting Saturday night as Catholics and Protestants fought each other and the steel-helmeted troops with rocks, bottles and gasoline bombs, and troops and snipers exchanged gunfire. Five civilians were killed and 161 civilians and soldiers were injured.

Provincial Premier James Chichester-Clark declared that his government was facing an attempted revolution. He ordered emergency measures into force, including a partial curfew and early closing of bars. He also promised new laws to deal with rioters but ruled out martial law for the time being.

"All civilians carrying firearms or using firearms in any way whatsoever are liable to be shot without warning," said Lt. Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, commander of British forces in Northern Ireland.

Britain's new Conservative prime minister, Edward Heath, dispatched another 3,000 troops to Northern Ireland, bringing the total to 11,350.

Golf Clubhouse Leveled By Fire

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) —A raging fire destroyed the clubhouse at Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens Sunday.

Firemen from eight communities fought the blaze, which apparently started as a kitchen grease fire. Three firemen suffered smoke inhalation injuries.

A club official described the building as "a total loss" and there were estimates of damage ranging as high as $2 million.

Advisors Ready To Leave By Tuesday Night

SAIGON (AP) — The last American combat troops in Cambodia pulled back into South Vietnam this afternoon, in effect completing the U.S. withdrawal one day ahead of President Nixon's deadline.

Still in Cambodia but scheduled to leave by midnight Tuesday were a handful of American advisors to some of the 39,000 South Vietnamese troops also still there. Although these Americans also are being pulled out, the South Vietnamese will keep forces beyond the border for an indefinite period to bolster the shaky government of Premier Lon Nol.

Light Contract

Only very light contact was reported as the last mud-caked 1,800 men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division walked or flew across the border north of Saigon, closing out the 60-day drive into enemy munitions and supply dumps that Nixon has called the "most successful" operation of the Vietnam war.

Meanwhile, Premier Lon Nol of Cambodia said in Phnom Penh that he hoped Nixon would send U.S. troops back into his country if his government's military situation deteriorated further.

Nol made clear at a news conference that U.S. air forces have been giving tactical air support to Cambodian ground troops and said the Pentagon had assured him this would continue after June 30.

No Deaths Reported

U.S. officials contend that all U.S. air attacks in Cambodia have been against enemy supply lines, and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said last Friday that this bombing would continue after June 30. But Laird refused to say whether American planes would also provide support for Cambodian troops, commenting: "I don't believe that it's good practice . . . to give flat answers on operational orders as far as the future is concerned."

The U.S. Command announced that no Americans were killed in either South Vietnam or Cambodia in the 24-hour period ending at midnight Sunday, the first time this had occurred since last Christmas Day when a cease-fire was in effect. But early today three Americans were killed and 11 wounded in a North Vietnamese attack

Judge Rejects Trial Change

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A defense request that the first-degree murder trial of John Norman Collins be moved to a site outside the county was denied today in Washtenaw Circuit Court.

Judge John W. Conlin ruled that there was not sufficient cause to believe that an impartial jury could not be chosen.

In denying the change of venue motion made by defense attorney Joseph Louisell, Conlin said that of 164 prospective jurors who have been questioned and excused only 46 were were excused because they had opinions about the case.

Conlin said this was not a high enough percentage to warrant moving the trial from the county.

New Panel Ordered

Conlin ordered a new panel of 300 prospective jurors to be drawn for the case. The judge also denied a defense motion which asked that the 13 jurors tentatively seated be dismissed because their terms expired on Sunday.

Conlin ruled that state law permits jurors to remain on a case until it is completed.

The 23-year-old Collins is accused of slaying Karen Sue Beineman on July 23, 1969 when Miss Beineman and Collins were students at Eastern Michigan University in nearby Ypsilanti. Miss Beineman was the seventh young woman found slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area over a two-year period.

No charges have been filed in the other six cases.

Appeal Possible

Louisell said that Conlin's ruling was "tantamount to forcing a trial in this community."

"It has been fairly demonstrated," Louisell added, "that there is such a feeling in this community and that that feeling is so widespread and general that it is impossible to draw a fair and impartial jury here."

Louisell said "the entire atmosphere of Washtenaw County has been permeated by a feeling of prejudice.

"This community feels it has been victimized."

Louisell did not say whether he would appeal Judge Conlin's ruling.

General Asks U.S. Help For Lockheed On New Cargo Jet

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general has suggested to Congress that the government share up to half Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s predicted $647 million loss on the C5 cargo jet and loan Lockheed money to cover the rest.

Lt. Gen. Otto J. Glasser, a deputy Air Force chief of staff, denied it is a bailout plan for Lockheed.

"We are in the same boat with them," Glasser told the House defense appropriations subcommittee April 20 in testimony released today. "So we are bailing us out, if that is the word to use."

He said this might be the best and even cheapest way for the Air Force to get the giant transport plane.

Suggesting Lockheed hid its cost problems in 1968 so the Air Force would buy more of the planes, Glasser said the company's management has been "less than satisfactory." His suggested solution includes an Air Force voice in Lockheed's management of the program.

The C5 loss-sharing, loan plan was included in testimony in closed-door hearings on the military's full range of aircraft, missiles, ships, tanks and other hardware procurement requests.

Other highlights:

—The Air Force plans to halt its purchases of the controversial F111 swing-wing jet fighter with the 40 requested next year, for a total force of 554 of the planes. Glasser said he is "not completely satisfied" with the F111—he said it is a little heavier and slower than originally planned—but he said it is a good plane and will carry out its mission.

—The Air Force has 10 MIRV - tupped Minuteman III missiles in silos and plans to install 500, apparently by 1975 although the censored transcript left the time schedule unclear.

Four Flint Men Caught In Raid

HARRISON (AP)—Four men from Flint were arrested early today by state police and charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

The arrests came after troopers said they received reports from two service station attendants who reported the men tried to lure them into card games. Troopers were also checking to see whether the men may have been involved in a $150 robbery at a Grayling service station.

The arrested men were identified as Mrvin Riley, 33, Peter S McLeish, 37, Raymond W. Hill, 29, and Richard L. Youmans, 48.

That republic's foreign minister Patrick Hiller, flew to London to discuss the crisis with the British foreign secretary, Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

There was considerably less violence Sunday night as the British government rushed more troops in and emergency measures were proclaimed. Another 40 persons were injured in street fights, an explosion started a fire at an oil depot, but only one shooting was reported —a shotgun blast that wounded two soldiers slightly.

Police reported all quiet by 4 a.m.

Violence began Friday night over the jailing of Bernadette Devlin, the fiery young Roman Catholic leader sentenced to six months in prison for leading anti-Protestant riots last summer. The bloodiest toll came in 12 hours of fighting Saturday night as Catholics and Protestants fought each other and the steel-helmeted troops with rocks, bottles and gasoline bombs, and troops and snipers exchanged gunfire. Five civilians were killed and 161 civilians and soldiers were injured.

Provincial Premier James Chichester-Clark declared that his government was facing an attempted revolution. He ordered emergency measures into force, including a partial curfew and early closing of bars. He also promised new laws to deal with rioters but ruled out martial law for the time being.

"All civilians carrying firearms or using firearms in any way whatsoever are liable to be shot without warning," said Lt. Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, commander of British forces in Northern Ireland.

Britain's new Conservative prime minister, Edward Heath, dispatched another 3,000 troops to Northern Ireland, bringing the total to 11,350.

Golf Clubhouse Leveled By Fire

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) —A raging fire destroyed the clubhouse at Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens Sunday.

Firemen from eight communities fought the blaze, which apparently started as a kitchen grease fire. Three firemen suffered smoke inhalation injuries.

A club official described the building as "a total loss" and there were estimates of damage ranging as high as $2 million.

Advisors Ready To Leave By Tuesday Night

SAIGON (AP) — The last American combat troops in Cambodia pulled back into South Vietnam this afternoon, in effect completing the U.S. withdrawal one day ahead of President Nixon's deadline.

Still in Cambodia but scheduled to leave by midnight Tuesday were a handful of American advisors to some of the 39,000 South Vietnamese troops also still there. Although these Americans also are being pulled out, the South Vietnamese will keep forces beyond the border for an indefinite period to bolster the shaky government of Premier Lon Nol.

Light Contact

Only very light contact was reported as the last mud-caked 1,800 men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division walked or flew across the border north of Saigon, closing out the 60-day drive into enemy munitions and supply dumps that Nixon has called the "most successful" operation of the Vietnam war.

Meanwhile, Premier Lon Nol of Cambodia said in Phnom Penh that he hoped Nixon would send U.S. troops back into his country if his government's military situation deteriorated further.

Nol made clear at a news conference that U.S. air forces have been giving tactical air support to Cambodian ground troops and said the Pentagon had assured him this would continue after June 30.

No Deaths Reported

U.S. officials contend that all U.S. air attacks in Cambodia have been against enemy supply lines, and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said last Friday that this bombing would continue after June 30. But Laird refused to say whether American planes would also provide support for Cambodian troops, commenting: "I don't believe that it's good practice . . . to give flat answers on operational orders as far as the future is concerned."

The U.S. Command announced that no Americans were killed in either South Vietnam or Cambodia in the 24-hour period ending at midnight Sunday, the first time this had occurred since last Christmas Day when a cease-fire was in effect. But early today three Americans were killed and 11 wounded in a North Vietnamese attack

General Asks U.S. Help For Lockheed On New Cargo Jet

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general has suggested to Congress that the government share up to half Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s predicted $647 million loss on the C5 cargo jet and loan Lockheed money to cover the rest.

Lt. Gen. Otto J. Glasser, a deputy Air Force chief of staff, denied it is a bailout plan for Lockheed.

"We are in the same boat with them," Glasser told the House defense appropriations subcommittee April 20 in testimony released today. "So we are bailing us out, if that is the word to use."

He said this might be the best and even cheapest way for the Air Force to get the giant transport plane.

Suggesting Lockheed hid its cost problems in 1968 so the Air Force would buy more of the planes, Glasser said the company's management has been "less than satisfactory." His suggested solution includes an Air Force voice in Lockheed's management of the program.

The C5 loss-sharing, loan plan was included in testimony in closed-door hearings on the military's full range of aircraft, missiles, ships, tanks and other hardware procurement requests.

Other highlights:

—The Air Force plans to halt its purchases of the controversial F111 swing-wing jet fighter with the 40 requested next year, for a total force of 554 of the planes. Glasser said he is "not completely satisfied" with the F111—he said it is a little heavier and slower than originally planned—but he said it is a good plane and will carry out its mission.

—The Air Force has 10 MIRV - tipped Minuteman III missiles in silos and plans to install 500, apparently by 1975 although the censored transcript left the time schedule unclear.

Four Flint Men Caught In Raid

HARRISON (AP)—Four men from Flint were arrested early today by state police and charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

The arrests came after troopers said they received reports from two service station attendants who reported the men tried to lure them into card games. Troopers were also checking to see whether the men may have been involved in a $150 robbery at a Grayling service station.

The arrested men were identified as Mrvin Riley, 33, Peter S. McLeish, 37, Raymond W. Hill, 29, and Richard L. Youmans, 42.

Fire Protection Plan Discussed With Townships

The cost of protecting life and property from fire in the Escanaba area continues to rise, as it does in other sections of the country, and here the units of government are discussing a more equitable method of sharing the cost.

Fire protection cost is likely to go higher in the coming fiscal year in Escanaba with the firemen's union and the city now engaged in arbitration in efforts to arrive at a wage contract.

For several years Escanaba has, with the cooperation of some townships in the area, extended fire protection service on a more or less nominal basis.

At the City Hall in Escanaba tonight City Manager George Harvey and representatives of the townships will meet to further discuss a proposed new —and more effective—fire protection agreement.

Townships Buy Truck

"We have been committed to our neighbors in the adjacent townships for many years and they have been most cooperative in the past in increasing their financial support as the cost of fire services continue to rise," said Harvey.

Wells, Ford River and Escanaba Townships purchased a fire truck a couple of years ago and this equipment is housed in the North Escanaba station and manned by city firefighters. It is used for both township and city calls.

Harvey reports that the discussions include consideration of cost sharing among the townships and the city on both the basis of population and assessed valuation. For example, the per capita cost in Escanaba for fire protection is $20.

If the question of financial participation were based on population, the three townships would contribute a total of about $35,000.

Equitable Basis

On the basis of assessed valuation, fire protection costs Escanaba about 8 mills of property tax or $318,000 annually. Escanaba has a valuation of $40,520,800.

The total assessed valuation of the three townships (Wells Township alone has a valuation of nearly $30 million) is $35,330,575.

On the basis of assessed valuation, therefore, "townships on a millage basis would be paying a substantial amount for such fire protection," said Harvey.

Manpower is the basic need in the fire department, Harvey continued, and in preliminary meetings with the townships it was suggested they pay for three additional men.

Proposed Plan

The proposal the township representatives were to carry back to their boards, and to be discussed tonight, essentially provides:

Three townships will pay for the cost of four firemen in the Escanaba department.

Wells Township will pay the cost of two firemen, Escanaba and Ford River townships will pay for one each.

The city will advertise and will hire three of the four under regular city civil service procedures, "but we will advertise these firemen positions so that the citizens in the townships will be able and be allowed to apply," said Harvey.

Presently the Escanaba City Council holds to a policy of long standing that positions with the city be held by persons residing within the city.

Cyclists Arrested After Rock Festival Shootings

IOLA, Wis. — Three rock festival patrons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds Sunday following a confrontation between members of a motorcycle group and young persons during the last day of the three day fest near here.

There also were complaints that up to 45 women were raped by the motorcyclists prior to the fight, Portage County Sheriff Nick Check said.

Twenty-three members of a motorcycle group—19 men and four women — were arrested after the fracas. Check said they could not immediately be identified and he could not specify the charges. They were being detained in the Portage County jail.

Victims Unidentified

The three young persons shot were taken to St. Michael's Hospital in Stevens Point and were reported in fair or good condition. They were not immediately identified.

Witnesses and police gave this account of the confrontation:

About 7 a.m. Sunday, members of a motorcycle group, who had been drinking heavily throughout the night and bothering some of the estimated 45,000 rock fans, began ganging up and beating a small group of young persons near a barn on the 200 acre fest site. The barn, which was used as a campsite by several motorcycle groups, was located about 80 yards downhill from the rock fans' main campsites.

Rock Throwing

As the cyclists were fighting with the group of spectators, another group of youths began throwing rocks from the top of the hill.

The angered cyclists began riding up the hill on their motorcycles.

One shot was fired, officials said, but there were conflicting reports on whether the cyclists first fired the shot or whether a spectator fired a warning shot into the air from the top of the hill in an attempt to force the cyclists back.

The cyclists began shooting into the crowd as they backed their vehicles down the hill and fled the festival site.

Stopped At Roadblock

They were stopped by a sheriff's department roadblock at the junction of County Trunk MM and Highway 92. A handful of officers forced the 23 cyclists off their vehicles and ordered them to strip. They were detained until they were taken to the jail.

When asked why the motorcyclists were ordered to strip, Check replied "When you only have a few men, you've got to do something."

Following the shooting incident, Check went on stage and asked for co-operation from witnesses who had either seen or taken photographs of the confrontation. He added that the fest patrons helped in every way possible with the investigation.

Multicolored Affair

The state's second rock festival, which began Friday, was a hodgepodge of multicolored tents, makeshift shelters, water and sound problems and an abundancy of drugs, some selling at ridiculously high prices.

More than 35 acid rock jazz and blues groups performed during the event although promoters had problems getting the sound system to work during the first six hours of the festival. Most of the fans could not hear the music even after the system was repaired.

From the time the festival began at least eight persons were treated for acute drug reactions in area hospitals. A larger number, however, were treated at the festival's medical center.

May Liquor Sales Show Sharp Increase In U.P.

May was colder than usual weather-wise, but apparently there was a "hot time" in some places in the Upper Peninsula.

Liquor sales in the U.P. jumped from $521,000 in 1969 to $584,000 for the month this year, according to Dexter Babcock, Escanaba, district manager for the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Babcock commented as the Liquor Control Commission convened at 10 a.m. today in the conference room of the State Office Building. The meeting is required by Michigan law to allow the commission to obtain first-hand suggestions and complaints from the Upper Peninsula.

Business Good

Business is better than ever, Babcock reported.

Although figures for fiscal 1969-70 are not available, Babcock pointed out that in fiscal 1968-69 all of the state stores in the Upper Peninsula showed an increase in sales except Laurium, where the shutdown of Calumet & Hecla mining operations caused economic problems. Escanaba was up 19 per cent, Manistique 16 per cent, and Hancock and St. Ignace each 12 per cent, he said.

Through five months this year, he said, sales in the Upper Peninsula have increased from $2,293,000 to $2,483,000.

Some of the increase in sales revenue can be attributed to price increases, Babcock said, but the impact has been small in the Upper Peninsula. The brands which made the most significant price changes have not been big sellers in the U.P., he said.

Seminar To Open

A two-day training seminar for managers of Upper Peninsula stores in store operations, tax laws, liquor laws, etc., will begin in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington at 9 a. m. Tuesday. The program will be conducted by John C. Bennett, Lansing, director of stores operations, and Babcock.

Costas S. Tentas, chairman of the New Hampshire Liquor Control Commission and head of the National Alcoholic Board of Control Association, will be featured on the program.

Officials attending the meeting and program this week are:

Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor, Control Commission chairman; Commissioners Joseph L. Wisniewski of Detroit, Edward J. Wiest of Wyoming Louis G. Jarboe of Rogers City and Thomas A. Van Tiem of Lansing, and the following LCC officials from Lansing—George —. Burke Jr., business manager; John Q. Adamson, acting director of finance; Bennett; Joseph T. Keating, administrative officer; Roger J. Rosendale, director of licensing; Earl V. Shewell, executive assistant and manager of District II; David Savidge, director management systems; Harland K. Johnson, assistant director of finance; Wayne Dunlap, chief auditor, and Daniel Samohovetz, distribution.

Besides Babcock, Roland L. Collins, stores supervisor, Joseph C. Chaison, warehouse superintendent, and Robert P. Killips, U.P. auxiliary store manager will attend from the Escanaba office.

U.P. liquor store managers who will participate in the program Tuesday and Wednesday are:

Clarence B. Jacobs, Newberry; Morris J. Parker, Mackinac Island; John A. Fisher, Escanaba; Joseph LaBissonniere, Laurium; Gordon E. Brazil, Sault Ste. Marie; Francis R. Lesica, Ishpeming; Edward J. Ross, Hancock; Joseph N. LaFave, Iron Mountain; Ervin J. Beaudo, Menominee; Nestor Hendrickson, Ironwood; Charles C. Molle, Iron River; Joseph P. Harvey, Manistique; John Hintsala, Marquette; Reino F. Pennala, Ontonagon; Jack R. Fenlon, St. Ignace; William Wallin, L'Anse, and Robert M. Legault, Munising.

Death Claims Mrs. Halligan

Mrs. Mary Ethel Halligan, 84, of 318 Lake Shore Drive, died Sunday morning at St. Francis Hospital following an illness of several weeks.

She was the widow of Dr. Raymond H. Halligan and he died in November of 1955. Since his death Mrs. Halligan has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. William LeMire of Escanaba. She was a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Mrs. Halligan was born March 16, 1886 in Marcellus, Mich. and she had lived here since 1956.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Louis A. (Kathryn) Weil Jr. of Lansing and Mrs. William (Margaret) LeMire of Escanaba, seven grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 7 to 9 p.m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. Joseph's Church with the Rev. Fabian Gerstle officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

In Service

Pat J. Douck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll F. Douck, 1119 6th Ave. S., has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U.S| Air Force. Sgt. Douck, an aircraft mechanic at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, serves with a unit of the Military Airlift Command, which provides global airlift for U.S. military forces. He is a 1964 graduate of Holy Name High School and attended Bay de Noc Community College.

Residents Don't Fear Indians

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— White residents of the Bay Mills Subdivision on Lake Superior near here say they are not afraid they will be displaced by angry Chippewa Indians, who claim the land is theirs.

The Chippewas, who are also seeking the Iroquois Point Lighthouse and land surrounding it, claim the Bay Mills land was leased from them for 99 years on a lease which has now expired.

Abstract records at the Chippewa Abstract Co. in the Soo show that the Bay Mills land has been deeded to white men since 1851 and that the deed apparently originated from a government charter.

There is no record of any lease from the Chippewas.

Representatives of the U.S. Forest Service, which owns the Iroquois Point Light and the land around it in the Hiawatha National Forest, have promised to help the Indians obtain the land to build a youth center and museum.

Business Good

Business is better than ever, Babcock reported.

Although figures for fiscal 1969-70 are not available, Babcock pointed out that in fiscal 1968-69 all of the state stores in the Upper Peninsula showed an increase in sales except Laurium, where the shutdown of Calumet & Hecla mining operations caused economic problems. Escanaba was up 19 per cent, Manistique 16 per cent, and Hancock and St. Ignace each 12 per cent, he said.

Through five months this year, he said, sales in the Upper Peninsula have increased from $2,293,000 to $2,483,000.

Some of the increase in sales revenue can be attributed to price increases, Babcock said, but the impact has been small in the Upper Peninsula. The brands which made the most significant price changes have not been big sellers in the U.P., he said.

Seminar To Open

A two-day training seminar for managers of Upper Peninsula stores in store operations, tax laws, liquor laws, etc., will begin in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington at 9 a. m. Tuesday. The program will be conducted by John C. Bennett, Lansing, director of stores operations, and Babcock.

Costas S. Tentas, chairman of the New Hampshire Liquor Control Commission and head of the National Alcoholic Board of Control Association, will be featured on the program.

Officials attending the meeting and program this week are:

Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor, Control Commission chairman; Commissioners Joseph L. Wisniewski of Detroit, Edward J. Wiest of Wyoming Louis G. Jarboe of Rogers City and Thomas A. Van Tiem of Lansing, and the following LCC officials from Lansing—George —. Burke Jr., business manager; John Q. Adamson, acting director of finance; Bennett; Joseph T. Keating, administrative officer; Roger J. Rosendale, director of licensing; Earl V. Shewell, executive assistant and manager of District II; David Savidge, director management systems; Harland K. Johnson, assistant director of finance; Wayne Dunlap, chief auditor, and Daniel Samohovetz, distribution.

Besides Babcock, Roland L. Collins, stores supervisor, Joseph C. Chaison, warehouse superintendent, and Robert P. Killips, U.P. auxiliary store manager will attend from the Escanaba office.

U.P. liquor store managers who will participate in the program Tuesday and Wednesday are:

Clarence B. Jacobs, Newberry; Morris J. Parker, Mackinac Island; John A. Fisher, Escanaba; Joseph LaBissonniere, Laurium; Gordon E. Brazil, Sault Ste. Marie; Francis R. Lesica, Ishpeming; Edward J. Ross, Hancock; Joseph N. LaFave, Iron Mountain; Ervin J. Beaudo, Menominee; Nestor Hendrickson, Ironwood; Charles C. Molle, Iron River; Joseph P. Harvey, Manistique; John Hintsala, Marquette; Reino F. Pennala, Ontonagon; Jack R. Fenlon, St. Ignace; William Wallin, L'Anse, and Robert M. Legault, Munising.

Residents Don't Fear Indians

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— White residents of the Bay Mills Subdivision on Lake Superior near here say they are not afraid they will be displaced by angry Chippewa Indians, who claim the land is theirs.

The Chippewas, who are also seeking the Iroquois Point Lighthouse and land surrounding it, claim the Bay Mills land was leased from them for 99 years on a lease which has now expired.

Abstract records at the Chippewa Abstract Co. in the Soo show that the Bay Mills land has been deeded to white men since 1851 and that the deed apparently originated from a government charter.

There is no record of any lease from the Chippewas.

Representatives of the U.S. Forest Service, which owns the Iroquois Point Light and the land around it in the Hiawatha National Forest, have promised to help the Indians obtain the land to build a youth center and museum.

'Honor America' Day Scheduled In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is, its sponsors say, going to be just a plain Fourth of July celebration, like in the old days, with fireworks, a speech, some prayers, some band music, some entertainment and a grand display of Old Glory.

Except that in 1970 America, especially in Washington, especially when it's designated "Honor America Day," there will be bigger fireworks, a most important speaker, more music and entertainment and more flags than Grandma ever saw on the town square. And more people.

Just the motive behind an Honor America Day is suspect in the quarters that have used the same arena—the area of Washington's proudest monuments—to proclaim their dissent, and so this particular Fourth of July celebration also is more controversial than most preceding it in the 194 years since America's birth.

No Political Speeches

But the Honor America Day committee made it plain the only speech will be by evangelist Billy Graham and none of the day will be political.

"Everybody included in this program is going to be interested in building up America to make people appreciate the great joy of being an American citizen," said J. Willard Marriott, chairman of the event, a restaurant-motel magnate and good friend of President Nixon.

Honor America Day's entertainment will be headlined by Bob Hope and the big-name show people.

The day will begin at a patriotic-religious service at the Lincoln Memorial with a speech by Graham, benedictions by ministers of different faiths, and a parade of flags to the Ellipse, the grassy area south of the White House.

Nixon Won't Attend

President Nixon is in San Clemente, Calif., and won't come back for Honor America Day. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's plans haven't been announced, but Marriott says he will not be a speaker.

In the afternoon there will be activities on the long mall between the Lincoln Memorial and the Capitol.

Police say the crowd estimates have ranged to a half million people and they are prepared for a peaceful crowd.

Picture Changes

In just one year the job prospects of a young college gradaute with a teaching degree have undergone a radical change.

No longer can a prospective teacher pick his place of employment at will. Superintendents and boards of education are getting plenty of applications for all available jobs. Some Upper Peninsula superintendents already have dozens of applications from hopeful English, math, science, home economics and physical education teachers, including many from natives and former residents of the area.

This is not to say that there are no openings for new teachers, but the young teacher who expected to pick a choice spot to start his career is likely to be disappointed. Jobs are not that easy to find. Nationally, although the supply of teachers has not caught up with the demand, that point is not far in the future.

* * *

Dr. John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction in Michigan, touched on the subject in a recent statement to the Michigan Association of Student Teaching:

"We have lived for a long time with the idea that anyone can be a teacher and that there is a job for every teacher produced."

But he pointed out that the nation expects a national surplus of three-quarters of a million teachers by 1975. "These circumstances will necessitate teachers becoming more skilled in what I call the ABC's of the 1970's — accountability, bargainability and comparability," Porter said.

In Porter's view, the concept of accountability calls for a revamping of thinking about the roles of educational personnel and educational institutions at all levels.

"It links student performance with teacher performance; it implies precise educational goals; it forecasts the measure of achievement.

"It means, in effect, that schools and colleges will be judged by how they perform, not by what they promise," he said.

Bargainability, Porter added, means that teachers must sharpen their skills in dealing with people — school administrators, parents or students — so that they can be as successful in providing the services that are needed and wanted as they wish to be in securing their own terms of employment.

Comparability, Porter said, deals with the fact that every child in Michigan is entitled to an educational opportunity as good as that of every child, regardless of where he lives or how much money his parents have.

* * *

In the past, school superintendents have had to go looking on college campuses to find teachers. Today, unemployed teachers are walking unanounced through superintendents' doors, seeking employment.

There are a number of reasons for the change in the teacher employment picture. Many teachers have been released from their contracts in some districts, due to cutbacks, half-day sessions, lack of millage support from taxpayers. An ever-increasing number of college students are being poured into the market each year, many with no marketable skills except teaching.

Many teacher layoffs have been blamed on the uncertain budget situations faced by boards of education because of the delay in action by the Legislature on the state aid bill. The state aid hangup, in fact, has led to the gloomy prediction that Michigan schools will not be able to open their doors in September.

It all adds up to an unexpectedly difficult task for college gradautes who are attempting to join the teaching fraternity.

Florence Miller Scott celebrated her 105th birthday at the Mackinac Medical Care Facility in St. Ignace. Mrs. Scott was born in Perryville, Ohio, June 23, 1865 — the year President Lincoln was assassinated. She moved to Cedarville in 1953. Recalling events of by-gone days, she said she well remembers the first airplane and the first car. "We all ran to see it (the first car)," she said. "We called it the buggy on wheels." Her eyesight has failed since she reached the century mark, but her health is good. She attributes her longevity to the use of lemon juice.

Iron Mountain Mayor Philip Rahoi and Kingsford Mayor Bruno Maule today urged residents of their cities to call the respective city halls if they have any reason to believe they were not counted in the 1970 census. The two cities along with several other Upper Peninsula municipalities have questioned preliminary census figures. Mayor Rahoi noted that the preliminary figure for Iron Mountain is about 8,800 persons, a loss of approximately 677 from 10 years ago. Maule pointed out that preliminary totals revealed Kingsford had only gained 126 resients during the past decade. He questioned this figure since 109 residents were added with the construction of Pine Manor, which leaves Kingsford with only 17 others since 1960.

Germans Too Efficient For Their Own Good?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

FRANKFORT—At first, listening to officials of the Bundesbank, the West German equivalent of the Federal Reserve, and the Commerzbank, which is third among the big publicly owned business banks, you think, like Bob Hope in Vietnam, that you have never left home.

The economic woes of West Germany sound so terribly familiar. Costs and prices here are on a steady upward climb.

The recent revaluation of the mark, combined with stiff wage increases, has trimmed the German lead in the export markets. The 11 per cent rise in what is paid out in both wages and salaries is double the increase in productivity.

In capital goods, the price inflation is 9 per cent; in consumer goods it is 5 per cent. The rise in the overall cost of living stands at 4 per cent for the year, though there has been a slight tendency recently toward price stability. The prediction is that building costs will mount by 16 per cent by 1971.

As for profits, it also seems to be the American story all over again. The yields of business were good in 1969. But profit margins are now under pressure, and the Comerzbank says that by next December the earnings of private enterprises will be feeling the effects of a "hefty squeeze." Profits will be down in spite of an increase in the volume of sales.

The building trades, as in the U. S., have been running on old contracts. And there has been a trend towards a moratorium on public projects. Both federal and local government projects are suffering because of a national decision to retrench.

* * *

When you dig below the surface, however, you learn that the West German problem differs from the U. S. problem in important ways. In certain respects West Germany is blessed beyond other nations. Willy Brandt's government has many worries, but it will not be voted out of office because of unemployment, which is negligible.

The labor shortage here is so spectacular that the demand for foreign workers, from all the countries of southern Europe, is still climbing. It will probably go from 1.7 million to 1.8 million by October. If they could find workers, German industrialists could put 860,000 extra people to work by the middle of next week.

The advocates of the "zero population" concept (two children per family) would cheer the tendency of modern Germans to have small families, but the economists don't exactly like the prospect that, by the middle of the 1970s, there will be fewer people of employment age. It will take considerable automation to keep the volume of German production on the upgrade—either that, or still more foreign workers will be needed.

* * *

With full employment a presumably long-term reality, one is tempted to scoff at the long faces the local bankers pull because wages are outdistancing productivity. Nobody seems to be suffering. But the very fact that there is some inflation creates a special fear in these parts.

Twice in a generation the Germans have been totally ruined because their money became worthless. It happened in 1923—and Adolf Hitler and the disasters of World War II were the ultimate result. It happened again because of the loss of World War II. Thus inflation has a meaning here that it has never had in the U. S., or even in countries like Brazil.

The trouble is that the Germans seem condemned by their own transcendent abilities to import inflation. They revalued their currency to make it less profitable for foreigners to buy in Germany and so contribute to the internal price rise. To some extent imports were encouraged to increase faster than exports.

Nevertheless, the export surplus for the first four months of 1970 stood at 4.1 billion marks (almost $1,000,000,000). There will likely be a favorable trade balance this year of 12 billion marks as compared to 16 billion the year before.

President Nixon, looking across the ocean, might very well say that he wished he had the German troubles. But if it takes unemployment to kill inflation—and who has succeeded in finding another way in this age of trade union strength?—the Germans are on the spot.

There is no prospect of recession through unemployment. And the employed workers don't want to see taxes eat away their wage increases.

Who, in the western world, can impose austerity on the workers. Echo answers, who?

Council Forum

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Council for Environmental Quality will hold a forum at Lansing July 8 on the problem of heat discharges from power plants into the Great Lakes. Loring Oeming, council chairman, said citizens are invited to express their concern. Oeming said discussions will be held later with power companies constructing facilities along the Great Lakes and state and federal regulatory agencies.

Opening lead — three of hearts.

You wouldn't think that such a simple hand could produce a spectacular result, but it just goes to show you never can tell when things will pop at the bridge table. The deal arose in the Italy-Argentina match in 1959.

Nothing much happened at the first table, where the Argentine South bid and made a notrump for 90 points.

But at the second table, with Italy North-South, the bidding went:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1 ♣ | Dble |
| Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass | Pass |
| 1 NT | Dble | | |

The Argentine West, deliberately playing with fire, was unwilling to sell out for one spade and ventured a notrump which got doubled. North led a low spade. South won with the jack and shifted to a low diamond.

North took West's queen with the ace and returned the ten. South overtook with the jack, cashed two more diamonds, then led the ace and another spade to produce this position:

When North cashed the nine of spades, dummy and South each discarding a heart, the Argentine declarer elected to part with a club. This discard proved very expensive when North led the queen of clubs, covered by the king and ace.

The defense then cashed three more clubs and the outcome was that West went down six—1,100 points!

Father's New Job Has Daughter Upset

Dear Ann Landers: Two weeks ago my husband was offered a beautiful promotion. It means we will have to move from Louisville to Omaha by September 1. We love Louisville, but how well I remember that we hated to leave St. Louis to move here. And we loved Evansville before that. It's been the story of my life.

Our 13-year-old daughter hasn't stopped crying since her father told her about the upcoming transfer. Joyce hasn't eaten enough to keep a bird alive. She is begging us to let her live with her best friend's family for one year — until she is ready to enter high school. Then she will join us in Omaha.

Joyce has an 11-year-old sister, Molly, who is looking forward to the move, although she has many friends here. Molly is an "A" student, which Joyce is not.

I don't know how much longer I can put up with Joyce's mooning around the house and crying. Her best friend's mother has telephoned me to say Joyce is welcome to stay with them for a year and she hopes I say yes because her daughter has been crying, too. Please advise. — Mrs. Van Oriented

Dear Mrs.: Someone should tell those two girls to turn off the waterworks. They are wasting the natural resources. I hope you won't cave in and let Joyce have her way. A 13-year-old gril belongs with her family. And Omaha isn't exactly Outer Mongolia. There are good schools and friendly people there.

The challenge of making a place for herself in a new city will be a healthy experience for Joyce. Don't allow her to evade it.

Dear Ann Landers: You are right most of the time but when you are wrong — oh, baby, are you wrong! I refer to your comment to "Can't Get A Word In Edgewise." You said a person faced with a non-stop talked should end a senseless conversation by frankly saying it's time to stop. Obviously you have never lived in Ottawa, Canada.

All the women up here are born talking and they don't let up until a physician declares them officially dead. They learn from their mothers (who learned from THEIR mothers) the skillful art of tacking "so" or "and" or "but" to the end of every sentence. This enables them to hold the floor indefinitely.

I have listened to these non-stop talkers all my life and I can tell you there is no polite way to get in your say. I learned long ago, if you live in Ottawa, manners be damned. The only way to fight these females is to break in when they come up for air. Even then you can't wait forever because in addition to having superb voices they have fantastic lungs and can go without breathing for incredible periods of time. (They could all swim the English Channel.)

So please, Ann Landers, when you hand out advice, be aware that the advice that works in Chicago might not work in Ottawa. The yakkity yak of the women up here is indeed a difficulty which I'm sure is not found elsewhere on the North American continent. What we need is special help, not support for the loquacious females who will be thrilled when they see that Ann Landers says it is impolite to interrupt. — Capital O

Dear Cap.: I have known plenty of women who have never left the U. S. who are incessant talkers, so please get it out of your head that Ottawa has a corner on this market because it just isn't true nor is it fair to make a regional problem out of what is in reality a human weakness and I thank you for writing.

Letters To The Press

GUARD, WAR, GAP

I have been in Milwaukee since September attending business college. Since I have been here I have had the Escanaba Daily Press sent to me and have read some of the letters in the Press about the war, riots and others.

There has been a lot of talk since the killings of the Kent University students. A lot of this talk was geared to the National Guardsmen. Too many people said it was their fault. It seems that whenever there is trouble and our Guardsmen are called out, they get blamed for everything that happens. They are only doing their job. That job is a very big one; protecting the people. If those kids did not want trouble and if they did not want to get killed they should not have been there.

My brother is in the Michigan National Guard. While at summer camp, two years ago, he and all the other Michigan Units were called down to Detroit to one of the worse riots around this area. They had a pretty rough time while they were there. There again the Guards got blamed for something. Only because they were doing their job.

You cannot tell me that you would not protect yourself if you were in danger. Would you go into a crowd of angry people unarmed? Would you walk among them as they pushed you around? Say they throw stones and sticks at you. Would you not defend yourself? I am sure you would, just like our Guardsmen are doing. They are protecting the people as well as themselves. So the next time our guardsmen go out to stop a riot think of them as protecting the people of the United States of America!

About the Viet Nam situation, I feel that we have the right to be there. Let us just say that we pulled our troops out of there and every country that we have our troops in. Now, also, let us say that the Communists came in and took over all the countries. If that happens, we would become a very small country enclosed by a Communistic Fence. We would not be able to turn around. Nor would we be able to ask for help because there would not be any country free to help us.

Let us also say that we were a small country being invaded by Communistic forces. Would we want help from other countries? I am sure we would. How would we feel if all the other countries said "No, we do not want to get involved." What President Nixon is doing is good. . .

Everyone is complaining about the Generation Gap. I don't believe there is one, at least not as big as what everyone says. Sure older people and young people do not understand each other all the time but hasn't it always been like that?

Do not forget we have good young people and bad young people. We also have good grownups and bad grownups. So grownups, if you have kids that are bad take a darn good look at yourself. Are you one who swears in front of the children? Do you sit in a bar as soon as you get out of work? Do you ever take time out of your so called busy day to sit down and play with your children? Do you listen to them when they try to tell you something? Do you go to them if you might have something on your mind?

Young people will listen if you take time out of your day to listen to them. But do not forget, like adults, teens want to be their ownselves. They want to be able to make decisions on their own. Do not tell them what to do but be there to guide them.

HOUSEKEEPING

The world's largest cement plant at Alpena has had an acute dust problem since 1909. The citizens of Alpena have lived with and complained about excessive dust all these years. Now the owners of the plant, National Gypsum, after much study will spend up to $12 million for a filter system. It is said the proposed system will stop up to 90 per cent of this limestone and cement dust from floating in the breeze. The collected dust will be made into bricks.

The Abitibi fiber plant, also located at Alpena, will install a new system which will eliminate much of the odor of pulping. After all, most large corporations are owned by thousands of people (now all of whom are rich or even half rich by today's standards) and managed by qualified executives.

As far as all around pollution, fire traps, etc., there should be a law to have all homes inspected at least once a year. This, in turn, would prompt careless folks to clean up their homes more often. Careless housekeepers should also be fined, the fine to be raised with each repitition of the offense.

Picture Changes

In just one year the job prospects of a young college gradaute with a teaching degree have undergone a radical change.

No longer can a prospective teacher pick his place of employment at will. Superintendents and boards of education are getting plenty of applications for all available jobs. Some Upper Peninsula superintendents already have dozens of applications from hopeful English, math, science, home economics and physical education teachers, including many from natives and former residents of the area.

This is not to say that there are no openings for new teachers, but the young teacher who expected to pick a choice spot to start his career is likely to be disappointed. Jobs are not that easy to find. Nationally, although the supply of teachers has not caught up with the demand, that point is not far in the future.

* * *

Dr. John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction in Michigan, touched on the subject in a recent statement to the Michigan Association of Student Teaching:

"We have lived for a long time with the idea that anyone can be a teacher and that there is a job for every teacher produced."

But he pointed out that the nation expects a national surplus of three-quarters of a million teachers by 1975. "These circumstances will necessitate teachers becoming more skilled in what I call the ABC's of the 1970's — accountability, bargainability and comparability," Porter said.

In Porter's view, the concept of accountability calls for a revamping of thinking about the roles of educational personnel and educational institutions at all levels.

"It links student performance with teacher performance; it implies precise educational goals; it forecasts the measure of achievement.

"It means, in effect, that schools and colleges will be judged by how they perform, not by what they promise," he said.

Bargainability, Porter added, means that teachers must sharpen their skills in dealing with people — school administrators, parents or students — so that they can be as successful in providing the services that are needed and wanted as they wish to be in securing their own terms of employment.

Comparability, Porter said, deals with the fact that every child in Michigan is entitled to an educational opportunity as good as that of every child, regardless of where he lives or how much money his parents have.

* * *

In the past, school superintendents have had to go looking on college campuses to find teachers. Today, unemployed teachers are walking unanounced through superintendents' doors, seeking employment.

There are a number of reasons for the change in the teacher employment picture. Many teachers have been released from their contracts in some districts, due to cutbacks, half-day sessions, lack of millage support from taxpayers. An ever-increasing number of college students are being poured into the market each year, many with no marketable skills except teaching.

Many teacher layoffs have been blamed on the uncertain budget situations faced by boards of education because of the delay in action by the Legislature on the state aid bill. The state aid hangup, in fact, has led to the gloomy prediction that Michigan schools will not be able to open their doors in September.

It all adds up to an unexpectedly difficult task for college gradautes who are attempting to join the teaching fraternity.

Her eyesight has failed since she reached the century mark, but her health is good. She attributes her longevity to the use of lemon juice.

Iron Mountain Mayor Philip Rahoi and Kingsford Mayor Bruno Maule today urged residents of their cities to call the respective city halls if they have any reason to believe they were not counted in the 1970 census. The two cities along with several other Upper Peninsula municipalities have questioned preliminary census figures. Mayor Rahoi noted that the preliminary figure for Iron Mountain is about 8,800 persons, a loss of approximately 677 from 10 years ago. Maule pointed out that preliminary totals revealed Kingsford had only gained 126 resients during the past decade. He questioned this figure since 109 residents were added with the construction of Pine Manor, which leaves Kingsford with only 17 others since 1960.

Germans Too Efficient For Their Own Good?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

FRANKFORT—At first, listening to officials of the Bundesbank, the West German equivalent of the Federal Reserve, and the Commerzbank, which is third among the big publicly owned business banks, you think, like Bob Hope in Vietnam, that you have never left home.

The economic woes of West Germany sound so terribly familiar. Costs and prices here are on a steady upward climb.

The recent revaluation of the mark, combined with stiff wage increases, has trimmed the German lead in the export markets. The 11 per cent rise in what is paid out in both wages and salaries is double the increase in productivity.

In capital goods, the price inflation is 9 per cent; in consumer goods it is 5 per cent. The rise in the overall cost of living stands at 4 per cent for the year, though there has been a slight tendency recently toward price stability. The prediction is that building costs will mount by 16 per cent by 1971.

As for profits, it also seems to be the American story all over again. The yields of business were good in 1969. But profit margins are now under pressure, and the Comerzbank says that by next December the earnings of private enterprises will be feeling the effects of a "hefty squeeze." Profits will be down in spite of an increase in the volume of sales.

The building trades, as in the U. S., have been running on old contracts. And there has been a trend towards a moratorium on public projects. Both federal and local government projects are suffering because of a national decision to retrench.

* * *

When you dig below the surface, however, you learn that the West German problem differs from the U. S. problem in important ways. In certain respects West Germany is blessed beyond other nations. Willy Brandt's government has many worries, but it will not be voted out of office because of unemployment, which is negligible.

The labor shortage here is so spectacular that the demand for foreign workers, from all the countries of southern Europe, is still climbing. It will probably go from 1.7 million to 1.8 million by October. If they could find workers, German industrialists could put 860,000 extra people to work by the middle of next week.

The advocates of the "zero population" concept (two children per family) would cheer the tendency of modern Germans to have small families, but the economists don't exactly like the prospect that, by the middle of the 1970s, there will be fewer people of employment age. It will take considerable automation to keep the volume of German production on the upgrade—either that, or still more foreign workers will be needed.

* * *

With full employment a presumably long-term reality, one is tempted to scoff at the long faces the local bankers pull because wages are outdistancing productivity. Nobody seems to be suffering. But the very fact that there is some inflation creates a special fear in these parts.

Twice in a generation the Germans have been totally ruined because their money became worthless. It happened in 1923—and Adolf Hitler and the disasters of World War II were the ultimate result. It happened again because of the loss of World War II. Thus inflation has a meaning here that it has never had in the U. S., or even in countries like Brazil.

The trouble is that the Germans seem condemned by their own transcendent abilities to import inflation. They revalued their currency to make it less profitable for foreigners to buy in Germany and so contribute to the internal price rise. To some extent imports were encouraged to increase faster than exports.

Nevertheless, the export surplus for the first four months of 1970 stood at 4.1 billion marks (almost $1,000,000,000). There will likely be a favorable trade balance this year of 12 billion marks as compared to 16 billion the year before.

President Nixon, looking across the ocean, might very well say that he wished he had the German troubles. But if it takes unemployment to kill inflation—and who has succeeded in finding another way in this age of trade union strength?—the Germans are on the spot.

There is no prospect of recession through unemployment. And the employed workers don't want to see taxes eat away their wage increases.

Council Forum

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Council for Environmental Quality will hold a forum at Lansing July 8 on the problem of heat discharges from power plants into the Great Lakes. Loring Oeming, council chairman, said citizens are invited to express their concern. Oeming said discussions will be held later with power companies constructing facilities along the Great Lakes and state and federal regulatory agencies.

Opening lead — three of hearts.

You wouldn't think that such a simple hand could produce a spectacular result, but it just goes to show you never can tell when things will pop at the bridge table. The deal arose in the Italy-Argentina match in 1959.

Nothing much happened at the first table, where the Argentine South bid and made a notrump for 90 points.

But at the second table, with Italy North-South, the bidding went:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1 ♣ | Dble |
| Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass | Pass |
| 1 NT | Dble | | |

The Argentine West, deliberately playing with fire, was unwilling to sell out for one spade and ventured a notrump which got doubled. North led a low spade. South won with the jack and shifted to a low diamond.

North took West's queen with the ace and returned the ten. South overtook with the jack, cashed two more diamonds, then led the ace and another spade to produce this position:

When North cashed the nine of spades, dummy and South each discarding a heart, the Argentine declarer elected to part with a club. This discard proved very expensive when North led the queen of clubs, covered by the king and ace.

The defense then cashed three more clubs and the outcome was that West went down six—1,100 points!

The only way to fight these females is to break in when they come up for air. Even then you can't wait forever because in addition to having superb voices they have fantastic lungs and can go without breathing for incredible periods of time. (They could all swim the English Channel.)

So please, Ann Landers, when you hand out advice, be aware that the advice that works in Chicago might not work in Ottawa. The yakkity yak of the women up here is indeed a difficulty which I'm sure is not found elsewhere on the North American continent. What we need is special help, not support for the loquacious females who will be thrilled when they see that Ann Landers says it is impolite to interrupt. — Capital O

Dear Cap.: I have known plenty of women who have never left the U. S. who are incessant talkers, so please get it out of your head that Ottawa has a corner on this market because it just isn't true nor is it fair to make a regional problem out of what is in reality a human weakness and I thank you for writing.

City Swelters After Showers

Although the forecast called for variable cloudiness and the chance of occasional showers or thundershowers, temperatures in the Escanaba area this morning soared into the high 80's, with all indications that they would go even higher.

At 10 a.m. this morning, the temperature in Escanaba was 86 degrees, giving the possibility that the city may be in for its hottest day of the summer and making the beach a rather crowded place to be.

Sunday's rain was the first the Escanaba area has received in over two weeks and amounted to .11 inch. There was a 30 per cent chance of precipitation today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Tuesday.

The highest temperature record at the U.S. Weather Bureau on Sunday was 66 degrees and the lowest temperature overnight was 60 degrees .

Indications are that Tuesday would be as warm or warmer than today, as the forecast calls for temperatures to be around the 85 degree mark.

The forecast for tonight calls for fair to partly cloudy conditions with a low expected in the mid 50 to 60 degree range.

City, Electricians Wage Pact Now Up To Council

Ratification of a wage contract between the city and its electrical union is scheduled at a meeting of the City Council to be held at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The wage contract is similar to that approved between the electrical union and the U.P. Power Co.

Other business to come before the Council:

Acceptance of an offer in the amount of $1,126,000 of a state grant for the sewage works project; the vacating of N. 25th St. in the shopping center development area; and report on bids for an aerial lift truck for the electrical department.

Petition to pave one block of 16th Ave. N. from Stephenson Ave. to N. 18th St.; and consideration of a change in the parking meter ordinance to provide for parking meter stickers for commercial vehicles.

Special Clothing Meetings Planned

Special meetings on clothing construction have been scheduled for 1 p.m., Thursday, July 2 at the Charles Rassmussen home in Garden and 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 8, at the Fayette town hall. The meetings are open to all interested women and older 4-H members.

Clothing construction techniques to be included are understanding information given with a pattern, sewing knit fabrics, hem and seam finishes, a new method for putting in a zipper, a new snap closure and a few other details. The group will also look at a few simple-to-make garments that will include slacks, topper, dress and coverall apron.

Foods, materials and recipes will also be distributed.

For any further information, call Mrs. Bernard Grenier in Garden or Mrs. Garth Briggs in Fayette. Ingrid Tervonen, Extension Home Economist, will be the instructor.

Senate Nears Vote On Future War Operations

R-Md., said in a Senate speech prepared for today he had suggested to the White House 10 days ago creation of "fire-free" no-combat zones in South Vietnam as a peace initiative. He told newsmen he had received no response but thought such an idea was under consideration.

—In another speech prepared for today, Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., suggested Borneo might be a good place to send pro-U.S. South Vietnamese in the event of a Communist takeover of their country.

Tax To Expire, Checks To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The initial installment of a $6.5-billion boost in the public's spending power shows up in workers' paychecks starting next Wednesday when the 5 per cent income surcharge expires and personal income tax exemptions rise.

While acknowledging the buildup of spendable income won't help anti-inflation efforts, administration economists said privately it may be a needed boost for the economy.

"The economy is soft and personal income has begun to decline," one official said.

"Dropping the surtax may be just about the right thing to do at the right time, though it wasn't exactly planned that way."

A 10 per cent surtax on personal and corporate incomes was imposed in April 1969, effective for all that year. It added about $9 billion to tax collections for 1969.

The rate was cut to 5 per cent last January under the new tax reform act and the surtax itself set for expiration as of midnight June 30.

On the basis of various federal fiscal moves, purchasing power worth $18.5 billion a year will have been handed consumers and businesses as of July 1—a boost in Social Security payments, a government pay raise, the phaseout of the surtax and the start of tax reductions.

In the same period, government spending has shifted from surplus to deficit. While tightening credit even more, it is not necessarily inflationary, the administration insists, because there is ample slack in the private economy to absorb the flow of federal dollars.

Besides the elimination of the surtax, July brings the first major benefits of the tax relief voted by Congress in December.

This includes an increase in the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $650 a person. In subsequent years it will rise to $750. The change will be built into the withholding schedules, along with a cut in the tax liabilities of lower-income families through a new low-income allowance.

These gains in immediately disposable income should offset the weakness of personal income, which turned downward in May for the first time since 1965.

Assistant Chief Late For Wedding, Nabbed Speeding

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Deputy Kalamazoo Police Chief Orville Ragan was best man at his boss' wedding, but he arrived a little late because of a speeding ticket.

After being told he was driving 41 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone, Ragan talked the traffic patrolman into letting him continue to the wedding and delivering the ticket later at the reception Saturday for just-married Chief of Police Dean Fox.

Elks Club And Shops Entered

Escanaba police are investigating several burglaries and attempted burglaries in the city over the weekend.

The Elks Club in the 500 block of Ludington St., was broken into Sunday night and a quantity of beer is missing. Entry was made through a rear door.

Buckbee Labels manufacturing plant at 2300 20th Ave. N., was entered and vending machines were broken open. Money, candy and cigarettes were taken.

Erickson's Warhouse at 1325 Sheridan Rd. was entered by breaking a lock on the front door, but nothing appeared to have been taken.

There was an attempted breaking and entering at the Palm Bar, 203 N. 18th St.

The Mayflower restaurant rear storage room was broken into sometime over the weekend and eight cases of empty pop bottles are missing.

Escanaba police are also investigating the theft of an automobile owned by John Pratt of 809 N. 18th St., which was found abandoned near the Pine Ridge School on Sunday.

Firm Sold

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has approved the sale of the Glenn Telephone Co. to the New Glenn Telephone Co., a subsidiary of Mid-Continent Telephone Co. of Hudson, Ohio. The company serves some 350 customers in southwestern Allegan County.

Violence Probers Run Out Of Money

LANSING — Members of the State Board of Education delayed their probe into high school violence to get their $60 a day allowance under the new budget for 1970-71.

Financial spokesmen said the board has run out of money in the account to pay the members.

The new board budget is snagged in a political struggle in the House but after July 1 the members will be able to draw on the account at the current rate of spending until it is ready.

Four of the next seven meetings of the board will take up the problem of disturbances in the high schools, but will not discuss violence on the college and university campuses .

Dr. John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction, said the meetings in Marquette, Cadillac, Pontiac and Kalamazoo would get into the student problems.

Other meetings will be in Lansing (3) and will be limited to regular board business. Members earlier stated they wanted to hold outstate meetings to familiarize the public with its operations.

Porter said the board hopes to set up guidelines for school administrators in the event of student disturbances and determine what rights of procedure must be guaranteed to the students.

At each of the meetings on student problems, the board will have experts from the colleges and universities, the state Civil Rights Commission and the Michigan State Police.

The student violence meetings will be scheduled for Cadillac, July 21-22; Marquette, Aug. 11-12, Pontiac, Sept. 22-23 and Kalamazoo, Oct. 13-14. Regular meetings will be held in Lansing July 14-15, Aug. 25-26 and Oct. 27-28.

The meetings on student problems was prompted by disturbances in a high school in Oak Park.

Police Capture Prison Inmates

L'ANSE—Two inmates who fled Camp Baraga June 23 were back in custody Saturday, after being apprehended Friday noon by Michigan State Police from the L'Anse post.

Truman H. Lay, 43, and Herbert R. Grenke, 32, offered no resistance when they were picked up on the King Lake Road in Baraga County's Covington Township, state police reported.

The trusties, who had been in the Upper Peninsula only a matter of days, after being transferred from downstate facilities of the Michigan Corrections Department, were reported missing Tuesday night from Camp Baraga.

Lay was sentenced from Kent County April 8, 1970, to a 2-5 year term for larceny by conversion; Grenke from Macomb County Feb. 28, 1969, to a 5-10 year term for breaking and entering.

Both were to be brought to Marquette State Prison and will face breaking prison charges.

Special Clothing Meetings Planned

Special meetings on clothing construction have been scheduled for 1 p.m., Thursday, July 2 at the Charles Rassmussen home in Garden and 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 8, at the Fayette town hall. The meetings are open to all interested women and older 4-H members.

Clothing construction techniques to be included are understanding information given with a pattern, sewing knit fabrics, hem and seam finishes, a new method for putting in a zipper, a new snap closure and a few other details. The group will also look at a few simple-to-make garments that will include slacks, topper, dress and coverall apron.

Foods, materials and recipes will also be distributed.

For any further information, call Mrs. Bernard Grenier in Garden or Mrs. Garth Briggs in Fayette. Ingrid Tervonen, Extension Home Economist, will be the instructor.

Tax To Expire, Checks To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The initial installment of a $6.5-billion boost in the public's spending power shows up in workers' paychecks starting next Wednesday when the 5 per cent income surcharge expires and personal income tax exemptions rise.

While acknowledging the buildup of spendable income won't help anti-inflation efforts, administration economists said privately it may be a needed boost for the economy.

"The economy is soft and personal income has begun to decline," one official said.

"Dropping the surtax may be just about the right thing to do at the right time, though it wasn't exactly planned that way."

A 10 per cent surtax on personal and corporate incomes was imposed in April 1969, effective for all that year. It added about $9 billion to tax collections for 1969.

The rate was cut to 5 per cent last January under the new tax reform act and the surtax itself set for expiration as of midnight June 30.

On the basis of various federal fiscal moves, purchasing power worth $18.5 billion a year will have been handed consumers and businesses as of July 1—a boost in Social Security payments, a government pay raise, the phaseout of the surtax and the start of tax reductions.

In the same period, government spending has shifted from surplus to deficit. While tightening credit even more, it is not necessarily inflationary, the administration insists, because there is ample slack in the private economy to absorb the flow of federal dollars.

Besides the elimination of the surtax, July brings the first major benefits of the tax relief voted by Congress in December.

This includes an increase in the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $650 a person. In subsequent years it will rise to $750. The change will be built into the withholding schedules, along with a cut in the tax liabilities of lower-income families through a new low-income allowance.

These gains in immediately disposable income should offset the weakness of personal income, which turned downward in May for the first time since 1965.

Assistant Chief Late For Wedding, Nabbed Speeding

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Deputy Kalamazoo Police Chief Orville Ragan was best man at his boss' wedding, but he arrived a little late because of a speeding ticket.

After being told he was driving 41 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone, Ragan talked the traffic patrolman into letting him continue to the wedding and delivering the ticket later at the reception Saturday for just-married Chief of Police Dean Fox.

Elks Club And Shops Entered

Escanaba police are investigating several burglaries and attempted burglaries in the city over the weekend.

The Elks Club in the 500 block of Ludington St., was broken into Sunday night and a quantity of beer is missing. Entry was made through a rear door.

Buckbee Labels manufacturing plant at 2300 20th Ave. N., was entered and vending machines were broken open. Money, candy and cigarettes were taken.

Erickson's Warhouse at 1325 Sheridan Rd. was entered by breaking a lock on the front door, but nothing appeared to have been taken.

There was an attempted breaking and entering at the Palm Bar, 203 N. 18th St.

The Mayflower restaurant rear storage room was broken into sometime over the weekend and eight cases of empty pop bottles are missing.

Escanaba police are also investigating the theft of an automobile owned by John Pratt of 809 N. 18th St., which was found abandoned near the Pine Ridge School on Sunday.

Firm Sold

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has approved the sale of the Glenn Telephone Co. to the New Glenn Telephone Co., a subsidiary of Mid-Continent Telephone Co. of Hudson, Ohio. The company serves some 350 customers in southwestern Allegan County.

Violence Probers Run Out Of Money

LANSING — Members of the State Board of Education delayed their probe into high school violence to get their $60 a day allowance under the new budget for 1970-71.

Financial spokesmen said the board has run out of money in the account to pay the members.

The new board budget is snagged in a political struggle in the House but after July 1 the members will be able to draw on the account at the current rate of spending until it is ready.

Four of the next seven meetings of the board will take up the problem of disturbances in the high schools, but will not discuss violence on the college and university campuses .

Dr. John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction, said the meetings in Marquette, Cadillac, Pontiac and Kalamazoo would get into the student problems.

Other meetings will be in Lansing (3) and will be limited to regular board business. Members earlier stated they wanted to hold outstate meetings to familiarize the public with its operations.

Porter said the board hopes to set up guidelines for school administrators in the event of student disturbances and determine what rights of procedure must be guaranteed to the students.

At each of the meetings on student problems, the board will have experts from the colleges and universities, the state Civil Rights Commission and the Michigan State Police.

The student violence meetings will be scheduled for Cadillac, July 21-22; Marquette, Aug. 11-12, Pontiac, Sept. 22-23 and Kalamazoo, Oct. 13-14. Regular meetings will be held in Lansing July 14-15, Aug. 25-26 and Oct. 27-28.

The meetings on student problems was prompted by disturbances in a high school in Oak Park.

Police Capture Prison Inmates

L'ANSE—Two inmates who fled Camp Baraga June 23 were back in custody Saturday, after being apprehended Friday noon by Michigan State Police from the L'Anse post.

Truman H. Lay, 43, and Herbert R. Grenke, 32, offered no resistance when they were picked up on the King Lake Road in Baraga County's Covington Township, state police reported.

The trusties, who had been in the Upper Peninsula only a matter of days, after being transferred from downstate facilities of the Michigan Corrections Department, were reported missing Tuesday night from Camp Baraga.

Lay was sentenced from Kent County April 8, 1970, to a 2-5 year term for larceny by conversion; Grenke from Macomb County Feb. 28, 1969, to a 5-10 year term for breaking and entering.

Both were to be brought to Marquette State Prison and will face breaking prison charges.

'Fatigue, Overindulgence' Plaguing U.S. Economy

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — At midyear the economy of the United States is suffering from symptoms of fatigue and overindulgence, and while dutiful assurances from Washington might tranquilize fears they cannot smother facts.

Unemployment is growing more than was expected, sales are sluggish, production is off and prices are rising steeply. Figuratively speaking, the red lights are flashing and the dials on statistical indicators are pointing down.

By this time, it is generally should have been turning up. But the failure of expectations to be realized has become chronic and is turning some economists into pessimists.

The administration, however, maintains that its game plan is about as plotted, and that while the layman may not be able to detect the changing conditions, the more sophisticated analysts can see an upturn coming very soon.

Dial Needs Turning Up

It isn't only statistics that disturb the disbelievers and suggest to them that the problems of the economy may be more than temporary. Some ominous signs have appeared.

The Penn Central Railroad bankruptcy reorganization seems to be the greatest of them. Unable to meet its bills, the big railroad was forced to file for reorganization under Section 77 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

Other companies, some of them associated with the glamor-growth syndrome of the late 1960s, have met similar fates. And more companies, laden with debts, are trying to work without sufficient immediate cash.

Investors are so suspicious that companies may be having liquidity crises that trading in the stock of Chrysler Corp. was delayed a good part of one day by an influx of sell orders. Chrysler issued a statement saying it was liquid, that it had assets readily convertible to cash. But the need to issue such a statement was considered noteworthy.

Appeal Needed

Lockheed Aircraft has had to appeal to the federal government for payment on some contracts in which its money is tied up. And two other aerospace companies, McDonnell Douglas and North American Rockwell, have had to suspend supplemental unemployment benefits to laid-off workers.

On Wall Street, the financial condition of many brokerage houses is dismal, lending urgency to plans for a federally backed insurance program to protect investors from the insolvency of their brokers.

Internationally, the United States is still running a deficit in its payments to other nations, but this problem has been forced to the rear, temporarily, by domestic problems. It could, however, mean more pressure on the dollar later in the year.

Statistics Don't Tell Story

Statistics don't tell the full story either of the decay in the physical plant of America: the local road and sewer jobs postponed for lack of funds or because of high interest rates; the rotten housing that isn't being replaced because the mortgage markets have been depleted of funds.

The problems are not new. They have developed for years and are now serious illnesses because medication wasn't used in time. There were too many other things to do, among them, fighting a war.

The Nixon administration sees a key to all these problems in attacking inflation. It is dedicated to the proposition that the ills troubling the economy have a common source in that financial malady.

Questions Arise

At midyear the big economic question is this: Is the administration's anti-inflation program working? Will results be forthcoming from its use of fiscal and monetary policy?

Or, somehow, will the forces of inflation continue to defy the measures so far used: cutbacks in federal spending and, until recently, a tight clamp on the artery through which money flows from the Federal Reserve?

Pressure has been rising for the administration to step into the marketplace with restraints —even a freeze—on wages, prices and some forms of credit.

The conflicting opinions are scheduled to be highly publicized during the next few weeks. On July 8 the Joint Economic Committee of Congress will begin hearings on just these questions.

Statistics don't tell the full story either of the decay in the physical plant of America: the local road and sewer jobs postponed for lack of funds or because of high interest rates; the rotten housing that isn't being replaced because the mortgage markets have been depleted of funds.

The problems are not new. They have developed for years and are now serious illnesses because medication wasn't used in time. There were too many other things to do, among them, fighting a war.

The Nixon administration sees a key to all these problems in attacking inflation. It is dedicated to the proposition that the ills troubling the economy have a common source in that financial malady.

Questions Arise

At midyear the big economic question is this: Is the administration's anti-inflation program working? Will results be forthcoming from its use of fiscal and monetary policy?

Or, somehow, will the forces of inflation continue to defy the measures so far used: cutbacks in federal spending and, until recently, a tight clamp on the artery through which money flows from the Federal Reserve?

Pressure has been rising for the administration to step into the marketplace with restraints —even a freeze—on wages, prices and some forms of credit.

The conflicting opinions are scheduled to be highly publicized during the next few weeks. On July 8 the Joint Economic Committee of Congress will begin hearings on just these questions.

Side Slit Skirts Highlight Fall Fashion Showing

NEW YORK — (AP) — "They're clothes. The important thing this season is to smile. Nobody's smiling," says designer Stan Herman.

Herman, who designs for Mr. Mort, introduced his fall collection Thursday at the American Designer Showings, Fall 1970.

In spite of the fact many people find the somber-colored midis depressing, there were bright moments at Thursday's showings.

For one thing, Victor Joris for Cuddlecoat presented some of the highest side slit skirts of the season.

Herman said he believes in long skirts "with a bravado and appeal far surpassing the mini," read the commentary. It would definitely take bravado to wear some of the skirts, believe it or not.

Aside from the quiet colors in his midi collection, Joris showed a cheerful tomato-red pants ensemble.

"I think we're going to more color next spring," said Stan Herman. "I don't want to see the people depressed."

His colors were often dark reds, camels and greys.

His "knee knockers" are two inches below the knee. His coats are midcalf. His standard lengths are four inches longer than last year.

However, he says, "I don't think the short skirt is completely dead. It may come back in new shapes and sizes."

Designer Lynn Stuart of Mister Pants said her short skirts didn't sell for fall, but longer lengths sold well.

"If a woman is not ready for the midi, she'll wear pants before she'll wear a short skirt," she says.

State Champs Win Gladstone Tourney

CLASS C-D FINAL

By DON HOWES

GLADSTONE — Petoskey, the defending 1969 State Class D Champions, behind top notch pitching performances, emerged victorious in the First Annual Gladstone Invitational Softball Tournament held here over the weekend.

Petoskey, who never lost a game in the double elimination tournament, squeezed by a good Trenary nine by identical scores of 3-0 in the final and semi-final games. Ted Potter, the No. 1 hurler for Petoskey, blanked Trenary in both games by tossing a one hitter in the semi-final and a two hitter in the final game.

Sonny Pasanen, Trenary's hard working pitcher, who pitched three games on Sunday and hurled five games overall in the tournament, kept Trenary in contention by winning four and losing only to Petoskey in the semi-final round.

Championship Tilt

In the final game, Petoskey scored all three runs in the first two innings on only two hits off Marv Parrot, Trenary's back up pitcher and held off two rallies by Trenary to win the championship.

Don Kelly and Frank Mayle paced Petoskey to victory in the final game with two hits apiece while Dennis Ylinen and Jerry Mytinen had the only two hits for Trenary.

Trenary gained the finals, by stopping Jolly Roger and Gladstone in the semi-finals. Behind the three hit pitching of Pasanen and a big third inning outburst in which Pasanen hit a three-run homer, Trenary eliminated Jolly Roger 6-1.

Jolly Roger gained the semi-finals the hard way, coming out of the losers bracket after losing to Trenary 5-4 on Saturday. They then registered a 5-1 victory over Perronville behind the four hit pitching of Tom Bourdeau and edged Powers 2-0, as Bourdeau hurled another four-hitter. Mike King played the big role in the Powers game, as he hit a double after Dennis Lancour walked and Bob Bourdeau singled in the fifth inning to drive in both runs.

Gladstone Come-Back

Gladstone gained the semi-finals the hard way also. It lost to the Paper Mill 11-10 on Saturday, defeated the Escanaba Independents 8-6 in the first game Sunday and then gained revenge on the Paper Mill by blanking the Papermakers 2-0 before losing to Trenary.

Cliff Young, Gladstone's ace pitcher, hurled all five games and after the first three games opposing batters had a hard time getting hits off of him, as he shut the Paper Mill out on two hits and gave up only three hits in a losing effort against Trenary.

The highlight of the 24 game tournament was a sparkling perfect pitching performance by Petoskey's Jack Ingalls, who is the Gladstone basketball coach, against Michigan Hotel. Ingalls retired the first 15 batters in a row in the five inning affair in which Petoskey won 16-0.

In other tournament games Paper Mill defeated Michigan Hotel 5-1 before losing to Trenary 7-1; Powers upended Tri-County rival Bark River 10-3; the Escanaba Independents topped Goebels 7-4 and 8-1; Perronville surprised Goebel 9-6; Bark River edged Rapid River 5-4 and Powers won a slugfest from Schaffer 14-10 to round out the tournament action.

MSU Senior Wins State PGA Golf Crown

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — When he showed up for the start of Michigan's 59th Amateur Golf Championship, Denny Vass reported, he felt good and "might be able to go all the way." He did.

Vass, 21, a senior next year at Michigan State, defeated Rod Sumpter of Grand Blanc, on the last putt on the 18th hole Saturday for a 1-up victory.

In previous competition in the Michigan Amateur, Vass failed to qualify twice and two years ago was defeated in the first round. Last year he did not enter.

Last year, Sumpter was low amateur in the Michigan Open, finishing sixth. This year, he won the Michigan medal play championship at Grosse Ile.

NHL To Expand To Four More Teams By 1973

FREDERICTON, N.B. (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, predicts the NHL will add four more teams, probably by 1973.

He said in an interview following the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame Dinner Saturday that he expects Atlanta, Kansas City, Dallas and Seattle to be in the league by 1973.

Campbell said this probably mean the NHL would operate in three divisions with six teams in each league, instead of the present two divisions.

He predicted there would eventually be a European division with Russia, Sweden and Czechoslovakia taking part. The European division would never become a member of the NHL because the players are government employes, he said.

Cubs, Chiefs Post Waubung Victories

Sunday's Results
Escanaba 10, Schaffer 3
Manistique 2, Powers 1

The Escanaba Cubs behind the two hit pitching of Tom Kangas won their fifth straight game in Waubung League Action Sunday by defeating Schaffer 10-3, while Manistique moved into second place in the league standings with a narrow 2-1 victory over Powers.

The Cubs took an early 5-0 lead in the second inning against Schaffer when Kangas singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Bill Baum followed with a single to score Kangas and Jeff Sheedlo followed Baum with another single. Three errors and a sacrifice fly put the Cubs on top for the remainder of the game.

Schaffer came within three runs of the Cubs in the fifth when Terry Bittner and Terry Schaaneman singled and both scored on a double by Ed Pach.

Escanaba clinched its victory in the eighth inning when they scored four more runs. The key hits in the inning were by Bob McGinn, Joe Joran and Brian Larson, who all had singles in the inning.

Kangas, in picking up the mound victory, struck out 145 and walked two. Mark Kleiman took the defeat for Schaffer with Dale Klein finishing the game in relief. Joran paced the Cubs to victory with two hits while Scheeneman led Schaffer with three hits.

At Manistique, the Chiefs, behind the three-hit pitching of Russ King, who battled Power's Tim McClure in a pitching duel all afternoon, scored both of their runs in the fifth inning to win its third game of the season.

Powers scored their only run and all three of its hits in the first inning before King found the range and shut them out the remaining eight innings. Tim Moran had the key hit for Powers, a single to score the only run for his teammates.

Kim Hartman hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning with the bases loaded to score the Chiefs' first run and on the throw in from the Powers centerfielder the ball hit the base runner and the final run scored.

King, in picking up the mound victory, had 14 strikeouts while McClure, who gave up only four hits, fanned nine batters.

Tigers Concerned About Poor Playing Conditions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers — Cesar Gutierrez in particular—were pretty concerned about the playing condition of the Tiger Stadium infield today as they awaited Denny McLain's return to the majors Wednesday.

Gutierrez was felled by a rifle like drive Sunday while the Tigers were splitting a doubleheader with the free swinging Cleveland Indians. The Indians romped away with the opener 8-2 while Detroit took the second game 5-1.

The Indians, paced by shortstop Jack Heideman with five consecutive singles in the opener, racked up 16 hits in that swingfest before Mike Kilkenny slowed them down to a walk in the nightcap in which he gave up only six hits.

The drive which felled Gutierrez came in the seventh inning of the second game as Chuck Hinton hit a sizzling grounder which bounced up and hit "Coco" just over the right ear and bounced into short left field.

Gutierrez was felled by the drive but staggered to his feet after first aid treatment.

"I turned my head at the last possible moment and that is all that saved me from a possible serious injury," Gutierrez explained after the game.

Tiger general manager Jim Campbell expressed concern about the way the ball was hopping on the unusually hard surface of the infield. "Mayo Smith (Tiger manager) told me quite a few of the players were upset about the way the ball was bouncing and the Indians said pretty much the same thing," Campbell said.

He summoned Jess Walls, Tiger stadium manager to an informal meeting after the doubleheader to see what could be done to make the field more playable.

"Maybe we could put a crew out there and give the field a real good, deep raking, opening up some air holes so the grass could breathe easier," Campbell said.

Wall said that a work detail had been assigned right after the conclusion of the second game to give the infield a real through overnight soaking.

Walls expressed some doubts that the raking would be very effective but he agreed the stadium turf is causing infield balls to take some weird hops, with balls which normally would be easy outs, turning into funny bouncing, tough chances for infielders.

The Indians found base hits fairly easy to come by in the opener Sunday as they jumped on Tiger starter Earl Wilson in a two run, three hit first inning to get a lead they never relinquished. The win went to Indians lefthander Sam McDowell (11-4) who outlasted Wilson (4-5) and three Tiger relief pitchers.

"I knew we were in trouble when the Indians got those two quick runs for McDowell is the kind of a pitcher who is tough in a situation like that," said Campbell.

The Tigers came up with some strong pitching on their own in the nightcap as Mike Kilkenny, who had failed to last an inning in his last two starts, cooled off the Indian batters with six safeties.

He had to work all the way as Mike Paul, still looking for his first win after suffering four losses, protected a 1-0 Cleveland lead until the roof fell in on him during a five run, six hit Tiger sixth inning.

Gutierrez opened that inning with a single and Dick McAuliffe walked. Indian manager Alvin Dark reached into his bullpen in a hurry for relief pitcher Fred Lasher, a former Tiger. Mickey Stanley greeted him with a double down the right field line, scoring Gutierrez and McAuliffe. Lasher got Willie Horton on an infield out and Dark then switched pitchers again, bringing in Dick Ellsworth.

That move backfired as Jim Northrup singled and Norm Cash did likewise. Dean Chance was rushed in as the fourth Indian pitcher of the inning and pinchhitter Gates Brown greeted him with a single, scoring Northrup. Mike Kilkenny scored Cash on a sacrifice fly to wrap up the Tigers outburst. Up to that inning, they had managed only two hits off Paul.

Dark told newsmen in the postgame interview that Paul had turned in five strong innings in each of his last two appearances but that he then had weakened in a hurry. "I figured we had to get him out of there in a hurry once he showed signs of faltering," Dark said.

Tiger home run bats were stilled in the doubleheader but the Indians managed to pick up one as hard hitting Roy Foster collected No. 9 off relief pitcher John Hiller in the opener.

Wild Races Top Speedway Card

For the second consecutive week, racing fans witnessed a wild racing card at the Escanaba Speedway, that saw Canadian Ed Powley capture the modified feature, and Wennel Tourangeau of Bark River the sportsman feature.

The action was witnessed by the largest crowd of the year, 2,698, and the fans also saw the largest number of cars this year, 40 sportsmen and 33 modified. The track was in excellent condition and the races were the fastest they've been this year.

A wild 20 lap feature highlighted the action that saw many of the top drivers drop out of the race for various reasons. Bob Iverson and Jerry Richer went out early with car trouble. Gary Randall lost a front wheel, Ray Gardner caught on fire, and Don Benoit hit the concrete wall. No injuries were reported in any of the mishaps.

After two restarts in the first six laps, the track was cleared and Powley got down to serious work. After seven laps the veteran driver moved into the lead and held off the challenges of the remaining drivers. Herb Iverson of Hyde and Allen Yelle of Sands moved up to challenge late in the race, but Powley had too big of a lead and they couldn't catch him, and they finished second and third respectively.

In the semi-feature Bob Derouin of Escanaba led for all 15 laps and won easily over his only challenger Dave Seabrook of the Soo.

The second heat saw Ed Provo of Escanaba, and Gary Randall of Escanaba battle bumper to bumper for all 12 laps, and when the checkered flag dropped Provo was just ahead for the victory.

The second heat featured two crack-ups before the race could get underway. The second crack-up was the most serious as Tom Chailler of Wells and Dave Christiansen of Escanaba collided in front of the grandstand, sending both into the concrete wall. The drivers were uninjured, but their cars were severly damaged.

Bob Iverson of Hyde captured the third heat easily winning over Powley and Jerry Richer of Schaffer, while Seabrook egded out Derouin and Duke Gardiner of Escanaba in the first heat.

Gene Coleman of Menominee took top time for the fourth time this year with a clocking of 21.33.

Tourangeau captured the sportsmen feature, but the number one ranked driver had to work hard and drive a near perfect race to beat Joe Haferkorn of Norway. The two battled from lap eight to the finish, with Tourangeau leading for the last 12 laps. Carl Chaltry of Marinette was a distant third.

Another close race saw Jim Hansen of Norway edging out Paul Smith of Sands for honors in the semi-feature. The two battled side-by-side for 15 laps, with Hansen just ahead at the finish. John O'Polka of Hermansville picked up third place money.

Heat winners saw Pat Temple of Norway edge Haferkorn out on the last lap, as a lapped car slowed Haferkorn down, in the third heat. O'Polka picked up his first win, winning the second heat, while Ken Viau of Escanaba won for the first time in the first heat.

Billy Peterson of Escanaba won sportsmen time trials for the fourth time this year in a clocking of 23:30.

GLADSTONE — Petoskey, the defending 1969 State Class D Champions, behind top notch pitching performances, emerged victorious in the First Annual Gladstone Invitational Softball Tournament held here over the weekend.

Petoskey, who never lost a game in the double elimination tournament, squeezed by a good Trenary nine by identical scores of 3-0 in the final and semi-final games. Ted Potter, the No. 1 hurler for Petoskey, blanked Trenary in both games by tossing a one hitter in the semi-final and a two hitter in the final game.

Sonny Pasanen, Trenary's hard working pitcher, who pitched three games on Sunday and hurled five games overall in the tournament, kept Trenary in contention by winning four and losing only to Petoskey in the semi-final round.

Championship Tilt

In the final game, Petoskey scored all three runs in the first two innings on only two hits off Marv Parrot, Trenary's back up pitcher and held off two rallies by Trenary to win the championship.

Don Kelly and Frank Mayle paced Petoskey to victory in the final game with two hits apiece while Dennis Ylinen and Jerry Mytinen had the only two hits for Trenary.

Trenary gained the finals, by stopping Jolly Roger and Gladstone in the semi-finals. Behind the three hit pitching of Pasanen and a big third inning outburst in which Pasanen hit a three-run homer, Trenary eliminated Jolly Roger 6-1.

Jolly Roger gained the semi-finals the hard way, coming out of the losers bracket after losing to Trenary 5-4 on Saturday. They then registered a 5-1 victory over Perronville behind the four hit pitching of Tom Bourdeau and edged Powers 2-0, as Bourdeau hurled another four-hitter. Mike King played the big role in the Powers game, as he hit a double after Dennis Lancour walked and Bob Bourdeau singled in the fifth inning to drive in both runs.

Gladstone Come-Back

Gladstone gained the semi-finals the hard way also. It lost to the Paper Mill 11-10 on Saturday, defeated the Escanaba Independents 8-6 in the first game Sunday and then gained revenge on the Paper Mill by blanking the Papermakers 2-0 before losing to Trenary.

Cliff Young, Gladstone's ace pitcher, hurled all five games and after the first three games opposing batters had a hard time getting hits off of him, as he shut the Paper Mill out on two hits and gave up only three hits in a losing effort against Trenary.

The highlight of the 24 game tournament was a sparkling perfect pitching performance by Petoskey's Jack Ingalls, who is the Gladstone basketball coach, against Michigan Hotel. Ingalls retired the first 15 batters in a row in the five inning affair in which Petoskey won 16-0.

In other tournament games Paper Mill defeated Michigan Hotel 5-1 before losing to Trenary 7-1; Powers upended Tri-County rival Bark River 10-3; the Escanaba Independents topped Goebels 7-4 and 8-1; Perronville surprised Goebel 9-6; Bark River edged Rapid River 5-4 and Powers won a slugfest from Schaffer 14-10 to round out the tournament action.

MSU Senior Wins State PGA Golf Crown

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — When he showed up for the start of Michigan's 59th Amateur Golf Championship, Denny Vass reported, he felt good and "might be able to go all the way." He did.

Vass, 21, a senior next year at Michigan State, defeated Rod Sumpter of Grand Blanc, on the last putt on the 18th hole Saturday for a 1-up victory.

In previous competition in the Michigan Amateur, Vass failed to qualify twice and two years ago was defeated in the first round. Last year he did not enter.

Last year, Sumpter was low amateur in the Michigan Open, finishing sixth. This year, he won the Michigan medal play championship at Grosse Ile.

NHL To Expand To Four More Teams By 1973

FREDERICTON, N.B. (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, predicts the NHL will add four more teams, probably by 1973.

He said in an interview following the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame Dinner Saturday that he expects Atlanta, Kansas City, Dallas and Seattle to be in the league by 1973.

Campbell said this probably mean the NHL would operate in three divisions with six teams in each league, instead of the present two divisions.

He predicted there would eventually be a European division with Russia, Sweden and Czechoslovakia taking part. The European division would never become a member of the NHL because the players are government employes, he said.

Cubs, Chiefs Post Waubung Victories

Sunday's Results
Escanaba 10, Schaffer 3
Manistique 2, Powers 1

The Escanaba Cubs behind the two hit pitching of Tom Kangas won their fifth straight game in Waubung League Action Sunday by defeating Schaffer 10-3, while Manistique moved into second place in the league standings with a narrow 2-1 victory over Powers.

The Cubs took an early 5-0 lead in the second inning against Schaffer when Kangas singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Bill Baum followed with a single to score Kangas and Jeff Sheedlo followed Baum with another single. Three errors and a sacrifice fly put the Cubs on top for the remainder of the game.

Schaffer came within three runs of the Cubs in the fifth when Terry Bittner and Terry Schaaneman singled and both scored on a double by Ed Pach.

Escanaba clinched its victory in the eighth inning when they scored four more runs. The key hits in the inning were by Bob McGinn, Joe Joran and Brian Larson, who all had singles in the inning.

Kangas, in picking up the mound victory, struck out 145 and walked two. Mark Kleiman took the defeat for Schaffer with Dale Klein finishing the game in relief. Joran paced the Cubs to victory with two hits while Scheeneman led Schaffer with three hits.

At Manistique, the Chiefs, behind the three-hit pitching of Russ King, who battled Power's Tim McClure in a pitching duel all afternoon, scored both of their runs in the fifth inning to win its third game of the season.

Powers scored their only run and all three of its hits in the first inning before King found the range and shut them out the remaining eight innings. Tim Moran had the key hit for Powers, a single to score the only run for his teammates.

Kim Hartman hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning with the bases loaded to score the Chiefs' first run and on the throw in from the Powers centerfielder the ball hit the base runner and the final run scored.

King, in picking up the mound victory, had 14 strikeouts while McClure, who gave up only four hits, fanned nine batters.

Wild Races Top Speedway Card

For the second consecutive week, racing fans witnessed a wild racing card at the Escanaba Speedway, that saw Canadian Ed Powley capture the modified feature, and Wennel Tourangeau of Bark River the sportsman feature.

The action was witnessed by the largest crowd of the year, 2,698, and the fans also saw the largest number of cars this year, 40 sportsmen and 33 modified. The track was in excellent condition and the races were the fastest they've been this year.

A wild 20 lap feature highlighted the action that saw many of the top drivers drop out of the race for various reasons. Bob Iverson and Jerry Richer went out early with car trouble. Gary Randall lost a front wheel, Ray Gardner caught on fire, and Don Benoit hit the concrete wall. No injuries were reported in any of the mishaps.

After two restarts in the first six laps, the track was cleared and Powley got down to serious work. After seven laps the veteran driver moved into the lead and held off the challenges of the remaining drivers. Herb Iverson of Hyde and Allen Yelle of Sands moved up to challenge late in the race, but Powley had too big of a lead and they couldn't catch him, and they finished second and third respectively.

In the semi-feature Bob Derouin of Escanaba led for all 15 laps and won easily over his only challenger Dave Seabrook of the Soo.

The second heat saw Ed Provo of Escanaba, and Gary Randall of Escanaba battle bumper to bumper for all 12 laps, and when the checkered flag dropped Provo was just ahead for the victory.

The second heat featured two crack-ups before the race could get underway. The second crack-up was the most serious as Tom Chailler of Wells and Dave Christiansen of Escanaba collided in front of the grandstand, sending both into the concrete wall. The drivers were uninjured, but their cars were severly damaged.

Bob Iverson of Hyde captured the third heat easily winning over Powley and Jerry Richer of Schaffer, while Seabrook egded out Derouin and Duke Gardiner of Escanaba in the first heat.

Gene Coleman of Menominee took top time for the fourth time this year with a clocking of 21.33.

Tourangeau captured the sportsmen feature, but the number one ranked driver had to work hard and drive a near perfect race to beat Joe Haferkorn of Norway. The two battled from lap eight to the finish, with Tourangeau leading for the last 12 laps. Carl Chaltry of Marinette was a distant third.

Another close race saw Jim Hansen of Norway edging out Paul Smith of Sands for honors in the semi-feature. The two battled side-by-side for 15 laps, with Hansen just ahead at the finish. John O'Polka of Hermansville picked up third place money.

Heat winners saw Pat Temple of Norway edge Haferkorn out on the last lap, as a lapped car slowed Haferkorn down, in the third heat. O'Polka picked up his first win, winning the second heat, while Ken Viau of Escanaba won for the first time in the first heat.

Billy Peterson of Escanaba won sportsmen time trials for the fourth time this year in a clocking of 23:30.

Tigers Concerned About Poor Playing Conditions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers -- Cesar Gutierrez in particular--were pretty concerned about the playing condition of the Tiger Stadium infield today as they awaited Denny McLain's return to the majors Wednesday.

Gutierrez was felled by a rifle like drive Sunday while the Tigers were splitting a doubleheader with the free swinging Cleveland Indians. The Indians romped away with the opener 8-2 while Detroit took the second game 5-1.

The Indians, paced by shortstop Jack Heideman with five consecutive singles in the opener, racked up 16 hits in that swingfest before Mike Kilkenny slowed them down to a walk in the nightcap in which he gave up only six hits.

The drive which felled Gutierez came in the seventh inning of the second game as Chuck Hinton hit a sizzling grounder which bounced up and hit "Coco" just over the right ear and bounced into short left field.

Gutierrez was felled by the drive but staggered to his feet after first aid treatment.

"I turned my head at the last possible moment and that is all that saved me from a possible serious injury," Gutierrez explained after the game.

Tiger general manager Jim Campbell expressed concern about the way the ball was hopping on the unusually hard surface of the infield. "Mayo Smith (Tiger manager) told me quite a few of the players were upset about the way the ball was bouncing and the Indians said pretty much the same thing," Campbell said.

He summoned Jess Walls, Tiger stadium manager to an informal meeting after the doubleheader to see what could be done to make the field more playable.

"Maybe we could put a crew out there and give the field a real good, deep raking, opening up some air holes so the grass could breathe easier," Campbell said.

Wall said that a work detail had been assigned right after the conclusion of the second game to give the infield a real through overnight soaking.

Walls expressed some doubts that the raking would be very effective but he agreed the stadium turf is causing infield balls to take some weird hops, with balls which normally would be easy outs, turning into funny bouncing, tough chances for infielders.

The Indians found base hits fairly easy to come by in the opener Sunday as they jumped on Tiger starter Earl Wilson in a two run, three hit first inning to get a lead they never relinquished. The win went to Indians lefthander Sam McDowell (11-4) who outlasted Wilson (4-5) and three Tiger relief pitchers.

"I knew we were in trouble when the Indians got those two quick runs for McDowell is the kind of a pitcher who is tough in a situation like that," said Campbell.

The Tigers came up with some strong pitching on their own in the nightcap as Mike Kilkenny, who had failed to last an inning in his last two starts, cooled off the Indian batters with six safeties.

He had to work all the way as Mike Paul, still looking for his first win after suffering four losses, protected a 1-0 Cleveland lead until the roof fell in on him during a five run, six hit Tiger sixth inning.

Gutierrez opened that inning with a single and Dick McAuliffe walked. Indian manager Alvin Dark reached into his bullpen in a hurry for relief pitcher Fred Lasher, a former Tiger. Mickey Stanley greeted him with a double down the right field line, scoring Gutierrez and McAuliffe. Lasher got Willie Horton on an infield out and Dark then switched pitchers again, bringing in Dick Ellsworth.

That move backfired as Jim Northrup singled and Norm Cash did likewise. Dean Chance was rushed in as the fourth Indian pitcher of the inning and pinchhitter Gates Brown greeted him with a single, scoring Northrup. Mike Kilkenny scored Cash on a sacrifice fly to wrap up the Tigers outburst. Up to that inning, they had managed only two hits off Paul.

Dark told newsmen in the postgame interview that Paul had turned in five strong innings in each of his last two appearances but that he then had weakened in a hurry. "I figured we had to get him out of there in a hurry once he showed signs of faltering," Dark said.

Tiger home run bats were stilled in the doubleheader but the Indians managed to pick up one as hard hitting Roy Foster collected No. 9 off relief pitcher John Hiller in the opener.

McLain Slated To Return Wednesday; Faces Yanks

DETROIT (AP) — In one of the most heralded regular season games in recent baseball history, suspended pitcher Denny McLain is scheduled to return Wednesday night and go right to work pitching against the New York Yankees at Tiger Stadium.

And to many Tiger fans that hopefully means a salvation for Detroit's American League pennant hopes.

Sellout Expected

There is certain to be a 53,000 spectator sellout, with many of the fans hoping Denny bounces back from his half-season layoff and probably many others hoping he falls flat on his face because of "the black mark he made on baseball."

The 26-year-old righthander was suspended April 1 by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn through June 30 for what Kuhn said was McLain's association with illegal bookmaking in Flint, Mich. in 1967.

The day of the announcement Smith said McLain would start against the Yankees July 1 if the pitcher felt he was ready. Denny said then he'd be ready and hasn't changed his tune.

"I've been in touch with Mayo throughout this thing and it is set. I will pitch July 1," he said.

"I wouldn't be walking out there if I didn't think I could win," said the sometimes brash hurler. "I expect to win."

"I've never taken the mound unless I thought I could win," he added, speaking in a telephone interview from his home in Lakeland, Fla.

Ready To Go

"I think I'm strong enough to pitch nine innings. Of course, New York will have something to say about that too."

The Tigers have been struggling most of the year, spending much of the time in third place in the East Division anywhere from seven to 10 games behind front-running Baltimore.

Primarily it has been the pitching that has been the problem. Detroit hitters have been fairly consistent but starting pitchers and the bullpen have faltered. For nearly a month the bullpen was rarely able to hold a lead. And the starters, particularly Mickey Lolich who was expected to hold the fort until McLain's return, have not come through.

Can McLain possibly be ready? He has been working out in Lakeland since Detroit's spring training there, but how much good practice can a major league pitcher get throwing to high school batters?

"All I can say about that is 'I've faced them before,' " he said confidently, referring to big league hitting.

Remarkable Record

No one can say that the 5-foot-11, 185-pounder, isn't a superstar already at 26. Since he broke in with the Tigers in 1964 Dennis Dale McLain has posted 114 victories against 57 losses for a remarkable .667 percentage.

During baseball's 100th anniversary year in 1969, McLain was voted by Detroit fans as the Greatest All-Time Tiger Right-handed Pitcher.

McLain — who won the Cy Young award as the best pitcher in the American League in 1968 and tied for it last year — had signed for an estimated $90,000 for the current season. But Kuhn's suspension cut the salary in half.

Denny McLain

His first year as a regular was 1965 when he had a 16-6 record for the fourth-place Tigers.

The next year Detroit was third and McLain was a 20-game winner, losing 14.

The following season the Tigers tied for second, missing a chance for the pennant on the last day of the season. It was that September McLain suffered a toe injury that could have been the pennant-costing blow. He finished 17-16.

Pennant Winners

In 1968 Detroit won its first pennant in 23 years behind McLain's 31-6 record and 1.96 earned-run average. It was a year in which he continually took cortisone shots to relieve inflammation in his muscular right shoulder, a problem that has bothered him off and on since.

McLain showed everyone the 31-victory season was not just luck by coming back last year with a 24-9 record in the Tigers' second place divisional finish.

He said Detroit can win the pennant "if we just get some pitching. I think we just have to get hot."

McLain, who is from Chicago and was originally in the White Sox farm system, said he couldn't predict how many games he will win this season.

"It's tough for me to set goals since I'll only have 20 - some starts," he said. "But my one goal is to win the pennant."

Smith said recently: "We certainly are looking forward to McLain's return. He may not win right off but when he gets in the groove he usually pitches complete games and that definitely will perk up our staff."

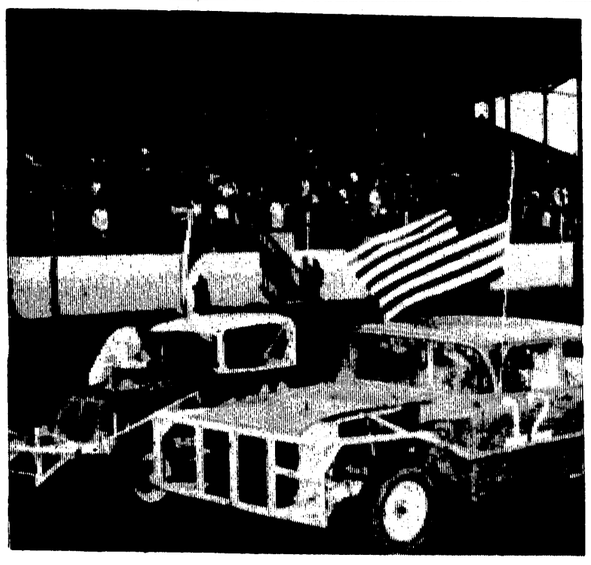

Mayo also has said, "I don't know how many starts he'll get, maybe 25."

Jim Hanley, formerly in the Tiger organization, has been catching for McLain. Dennny has been prevented by Kuhn's edict from working out with any pro or semi-pro teams.

McLain said he and his wife, Sharyn, who is the daughter of baseball Hall of Famer Lou Boudreau, have found a place to live in the Detroit area for this season. But his permanent home is in Lakeland.

"I feel great physically and am looking forward to July 1," he said, adding that "my control is good."

"I just want to get July 1 over with," McLain emphasized.

Vietnam Veteran Second

Bruce Devlin Wins Cleveland Open Title

CLEVELAND (AP) — He's got to be the happiest loser of the year.

"I'm still in a cloud," Steve Eichstaedt said Sunday after his upset bid failed and he settled for second place in the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

"I'll probably have to pinch myself tomorrow when I wake up to make sure it isn't all a dream."

The tall, rail-thin young veteran of combat duty in Vietnam had to be the biggest longshot in the field—many of the touring pros didn't know him, hadn't heard of him—when they started play.

He hadn't made a dime in three previous tournaments this year. But, at one point down the stretch of the leg-wearying 36-hole windup, he holed out a six-iron shot for an eagle and took the lead.

But the 24-year-old couldn't keep up with Bruce Devlin's scorching pace and finished second, shooting a final 68 for 272, four strokes back of Devlin.

The Australian tour regular opened with a 66, then flashed in with a six-under-par 64, matching the course record for the hilly, 6,661 yard, Aurora Country Club course.

That gave him a 72-hole total of 268, 12 under par, for the $30,000 first prize and his second championship of the year. He won the Bob Hope Desert Classic early in the season and has earned over $87,000 for his best year since joining the tour in 1962

Bob Murphy, 68, and Larry Hinson, 66, tied for third at 273, with Lee Trevino, Dave Hill and Lou Graham locked at 274. Hill had a 69, Trevino a 67 and Graham a 66. Tom Weiskopf was alone at 275.

Who's Who; Orioles Find Out Hard Way

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles are rapidly learning who's who on the Washington Senators but they'd rather find out what's what with Eddie Watt.

Reliever Watt came on in the late innings Saturday night and again Sunday to try to protect slim Baltimore leads and both times the Orioles went out like a light. Sunday's score was 4-3 as pinch hitter Rick Reichardt, the only batter Watt faced, belted a 3-2 pitch for a two-run homer in the bottom of the 12th inning.

Saturday night, Watt came on in the eighth inning with the bases loaded and one out and Baltimore in front by a similar 3-2 score. The first batter to face him, pinch hitter Wayne Comer, promptly doubled home the tying and go-ahead runs in the Senators' 5-3 triumph.

Yankees 2½ Out

The Orioles' lead in the American League East dropped to 2½ games when the New York Yankees trounced Boston 8-2 after losing the opener of their doubleheader 5-3. Elsewhere, Detroit downed Cleveland 5-1 after losing 8-2, Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 9-1 but dropped an 11-10 nightcap slugfest, California nipped Kansas City 2-1 before the Royals romped 13-1 in the second game and Oakland took a pair from Milwaukee by identical 4-1 scores.

The Orioles had gone ahead of Washington in the top of the 12th when Paul Blair raced home from second as first baseman Mike Epstein dropped a throw for what would have been the third out.

But Dick Hall walked pinch hitter Jim French to open the Senators' half. Pete Richert came on and retired Ed Stroud but Watt replaced him when the right-hand hitting Reichart was announced as the batter for Lee Maye.

"That French walk was a key," said Washington manager Ted Williams. "He gets a walk and it's the game. The base on balls is the most unaccredited thing in baseball. It's as good as a hit and you're making the pitcher throw a lot of pitches."

Baltimore's Earl Weaver, however, said the game was decided "by eight inches." Before slamming his ninth homer of the season, Reichart fouled a sharp grounder to third baseman Brooks Robinson, who started what would have been a game-ending double play.

"He's a hero by eight inches," lamented Weaver. "If the ball is fair, we're on our way back to Baltimore with a victory."

Home Run Power

Carl Yastrzemski's three-run homer off Mel Stottlemyre and George Scott's solo shot helped the Red Sox withstand late first-game homers by New York's Bobby Murcer, Thurman Munson and Ron Woods.

But reserve catcher Jake Gibbs walloped a three-run homer and Roy White connected with a man on as the Yankees won the nightcap behind Stan Bahnsen. Tom Satriano homered for Boston.

"It's been so damn long I can't remember the last one," said Gibbs, who hand't homered since 1968. "I felt it was gone and I was just hoping it wouldn't go foul. I know Thurman's the number one catcher, but I try to stay ready and when my name's on the line-up card I just do the best job I can."

Twins Split

The White Sox, who had lost both ends of their previous seven twin bills this season, squeezed past Minnesota in their nightcap on home runs by Ken Berry, Danny Murphy, Luis Aparicio and Bill Melton. Tony Oliva and George Mitterwald homered for the Twins, while Harmon Killebrew smacked two homers and Oliva one in Minnesota first-game romp.

The Angels, who also split, remained three games behind the Twins in the AL West. Jim Fregosi doubled to set up one run and hit a tie-breaking homer in the fifth to provide the margin of victory in the opening game. But the Royals pounded out 18 hits, including a homer by Lou Piniella and two doubles and two singles by Amos Otis, in taking the nightcap.

Pirates Leave Forbes Field; Tie For NL East Lead

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates closed the curtain on Forbes Field Sunday and it is rapidly dropping on the Chicago Cubs as well.

The Pirates celebrated the final day of baseball in their park's 61-year history by sweeping Chicago 3-2 and 4-1, tagging the Cubs with a 10-game losing streak.

Cubs Third

It was the third doubleheader which Chicago has lost in eight days and the sagging Cubs tumbled into third place in the National League's East Division 2½ games behind New York. What's worse is that the Cubs are almost as close to fifth place Philadelphia as they are to the first place Mets.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Montreal tripped New York 3-2, St. Louis split a doubleheader with Philadelphia, winning 5-4 before losing 8-3 in 10 innings, San Francisco took two from Atlanta 6-4 in 10 innings and 4-3, Los Angeles blanked San Diego 2-0 and Cincinnati nipped Houston 3-2.

The Cubs and Pirates were tied at 2-2 in the eighth inning of their opener when Roberto Clemente doubled. Reliever Larry Gura hit Al Oliver and then Phil Regan came on. In between umpire examinations of the baseball, Regan's cap and glove for possible foreign substances, Gene Alley and Jerry May both walked, forcing in Pittsburgh's winning run

In the second game, the score was tied 1-1 in the fifth when Bob Robertson singled and stole second. Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked and then Jim Hickman dropped a throw on pitcher Jim Nelson's bouncer, loading the bases. Maty Alou followed with a two-run single.

7th Straight

The sweep was a happy sendoff for the old stadium and moved the streaking Pirates to their seventh straight victory and a virtual tie for the NL East Lead. Pittsburgh trails the Mets by two percentage points and starts a three-game series in New York tonight.

The Mets fell victim to some late-inning thunder in Montreal with Rusty Staub hammering a two-run eighth inning homer that brought the Expos from behind.

Dave Marshall, who had three hits, homered in the top half of the eighth for New York, breaking a 1-1 tie. But Staub connected after Don Hahn's single to win it in the bottom half of the inning.

St. Louis moved to within one game of the Cubs by splitting with Philadelphia. The Cards took the opener with Richie Allen's seventh inning single driving in the deciding run against his ex-teammates. Joe Torre had two singles and a homer and drove in two runs.

In the nightcap, the Phillies earned the split by getting five runs in the 10th inning to break the game open. Johnny Briggs' pinch single delivered the tie-breaking run and an error and four more singles produced the insurance runs. Reliever Dick Selma lost the first game and won the second.

9 Game Lead

In the West Division, Cincinnati maintained its nine game lead by knocking off Houston on three solo home runs by Pete Rose, Bobby Tolan and Tony Perez. Rose and Tolan connected consecutively at the start of the game and then Perez' lead-off homer in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Los Angeles, running second in the West, won its sixth straight with Allan Foster and Jim Brewer combining to shut out San Diego. Wes Parker and Jim Lefebvre drove home the Dodgers runs in the first inning and that was enough to tag the Padres with their eighth consecutive loss. the Braves' losing streak stretched to seven games with the doubleheader loss to San Francisco. Rookie Alan Gallagher's 10th inning homer won the opener for the Giants after San Francisco had rallied to tie the game on Ken Henderson's RBI-single in the seventh.

In the second game, Frank Johnson substituting for Willie Mays, drove in three runs with a triple and a single as the Giants completed the sweep.

McLain Slated To Return Wednesday; Faces Yanks

DETROIT (AP) — In one of the most heralded regular season games in recent baseball history, suspended pitcher Denny McLain is scheduled to return Wednesday night and go right to work pitching against the New York Yankees at Tiger Stadium.

And to many Tiger fans that hopefully means a salvation for Detroit's American League pennant hopes.

Sellout Expected

There is certain to be a 53,000 spectator sellout, with many of the fans hoping Denny bounces back from his half-season layoff and probably many others hoping he falls flat on his face because of "the black mark he made on baseball."

The 26-year-old righthander was suspended April 1 by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn through June 30 for what Kuhn said was McLain's association with illegal bookmaking in Flint, Mich. in 1967.

The day of the announcement Smith said McLain would start against the Yankees July 1 if the pitcher felt he was ready. Denny said then he'd be ready and hasn't changed his tune.

"I've been in touch with Mayo throughout this thing and it is set. I will pitch July 1," he said.

"I wouldn't be walking out there if I didn't think I could win," said the sometimes brash hurler. "I expect to win."

"I've never taken the mound unless I thought I could win," he added, speaking in a telephone interview from his home in Lakeland, Fla.

Ready To Go

"I think I'm strong enough to pitch nine innings. Of course, New York will have something to say about that too."

The Tigers have been struggling most of the year, spending much of the time in third place in the East Division anywhere from seven to 10 games behind front-running Baltimore.

Primarily it has been the pitching that has been the problem. Detroit hitters have been fairly consistent but starting pitchers and the bullpen have faltered. For nearly a month the bullpen was rarely able to hold a lead. And the starters, particularly Mickey Lolich who was expected to hold the fort until McLain's return, have not come through.

Can McLain possibly be ready? He has been working out in Lakeland since Detroit's spring training there, but how much good practice can a major league pitcher get throwing to high school batters?

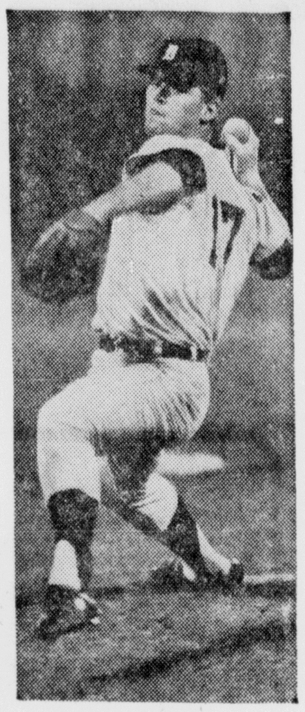

"All I can say about that is 'I've faced them before,' " he said confidently, referring to big league hitting.

Remarkable Record

No one can say that the 5-foot-11, 185-pounder, isn't a superstar already at 26. Since he broke in with the Tigers in 1964 Dennis Dale McLain has posted 114 victories against 57 losses for a remarkable .667 percentage.

During baseball's 100th anniversary year in 1969, McLain was voted by Detroit fans as the Greatest All-Time Tiger Right-handed Pitcher.

McLain — who won the Cy Young award as the best pitcher in the American League in 1968 and tied for it last year — had signed for an estimated $90,000 for the current season. But Kuhn's suspension cut the salary in half.

Denny McLain

His first year as a regular was 1965 when he had a 16-6 record for the fourth-place Tigers.

The next year Detroit was third and McLain was a 20-game winner, losing 14.

The following season the Tigers tied for second, missing a chance for the pennant on the last day of the season. It was that September McLain suffered a toe injury that could have been the pennant-costing blow. He finished 17-16.

Pennant Winners

In 1968 Detroit won its first pennant in 23 years behind McLain's 31-6 record and 1.96 earned-run average. It was a year in which he continually took cortisone shots to relieve inflammation in his muscular right shoulder, a problem that has bothered him off and on since.

McLain showed everyone the 31-victory season was not just luck by coming back last year with a 24-9 record in the Tigers' second place divisional finish.

He said Detroit can win the pennant "if we just get some pitching. I think we just have to get hot."

McLain, who is from Chicago and was originally in the White Sox farm system, said he couldn't predict how many games he will win this season.

"It's tough for me to set goals since I'll only have 20 - some starts," he said. "But my one goal is to win the pennant."

Smith said recently: "We certainly are looking forward to McLain's return. He may not win right off but when he gets in the groove he usually pitches complete games and that definitely will perk up our staff."

Mayo also has said, "I don't know how many starts he'll get, maybe 25."

Jim Hanley, formerly in the Tiger organization, has been catching for McLain. Dennny has been prevented by Kuhn's edict from working out with any pro or semi-pro teams.

McLain said he and his wife, Sharyn, who is the daughter of baseball Hall of Famer Lou Boudreau, have found a place to live in the Detroit area for this season. But his permanent home is in Lakeland.

"I feel great physically and am looking forward to July 1," he said, adding that "my control is good."

"I just want to get July 1 over with," McLain emphasized.

Who's Who; Orioles Find Out Hard Way

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles are rapidly learning who's who on the Washington Senators but they'd rather find out what's what with Eddie Watt.

Reliever Watt came on in the late innings Saturday night and again Sunday to try to protect slim Baltimore leads and both times the Orioles went out like a light. Sunday's score was 4-3 as pinch hitter Rick Reichardt, the only batter Watt faced, belted a 3-2 pitch for a two-run homer in the bottom of the 12th inning.

Saturday night, Watt came on in the eighth inning with the bases loaded and one out and Baltimore in front by a similar 3-2 score. The first batter to face him, pinch hitter Wayne Comer, promptly doubled home the tying and go-ahead runs in the Senators' 5-3 triumph.

Yankees 2½ Out

The Orioles' lead in the American League East dropped to 2½ games when the New York Yankees trounced Boston 8-2 after losing the opener of their doubleheader 5-3. Elsewhere, Detroit downed Cleveland 5-1 after losing 8-2, Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 9-1 but dropped an 11-10 nightcap slugfest, California nipped Kansas City 2-1 before the Royals romped 13-1 in the second game and Oakland took a pair from Milwaukee by identical 4-1 scores.

The Orioles had gone ahead of Washington in the top of the 12th when Paul Blair raced home from second as first baseman Mike Epstein dropped a throw for what would have been the third out.

Vietnam Veteran Second

Bruce Devlin Wins Cleveland Open Title

CLEVELAND (AP) — He's got to be the happiest loser of the year.

"I'm still in a cloud," Steve Eichstaedt said Sunday after his upset bid failed and he settled for second place in the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

"I'll probably have to pinch myself tomorrow when I wake up to make sure it isn't all a dream."

The tall, rail-thin young veteran of combat duty in Vietnam had to be the biggest longshot in the field—many of the touring pros didn't know him, hadn't heard of him—when they started play.

He hadn't made a dime in three previous tournaments this year. But, at one point down the stretch of the leg-wearying 36-hole windup, he holed out a six-iron shot for an eagle and took the lead.

But the 24-year-old couldn't keep up with Bruce Devlin's scorching pace and finished second, shooting a final 68 for 272, four strokes back of Devlin.

The Australian tour regular opened with a 66, then flashed in with a six-under-par 64, matching the course record for the hilly, 6,661 yard, Aurora Country Club course.

That gave him a 72-hole total of 268, 12 under par, for the $30,000 first prize and his second championship of the year. He won the Bob Hope Desert Classic early in the season and has earned over $87,000 for his best year since joining the tour in 1962

Bob Murphy, 68, and Larry Hinson, 66, tied for third at 273, with Lee Trevino, Dave Hill and Lou Graham locked at 274. Hill had a 69, Trevino a 67 and Graham a 66. Tom Weiskopf was alone at 275.

Pirates Leave Forbes Field; Tie For NL East Lead

The Pittsburgh Pirates closed the curtain on Forbes Field Sunday and it is rapidly dropping on the Chicago Cubs as well.

The Pirates celebrated the final day of baseball in their park's 61-year history by sweeping Chicago 3-2 and 4-1, tagging the Cubs with a 10-game losing streak.

In the second game, the score was tied 1-1 in the fifth when Bob Robertson singled and stole second. Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked and then Jim Hickman dropped a throw on pitcher Jim Nelson's bouncer, loading the bases. Maty Alou followed with a two-run single.

7th Straight

The sweep was a happy sendoff for the old stadium and moved the streaking Pirates to their seventh straight victory and a virtual tie for the NL East Lead. Pittsburgh trails the Mets by two percentage points and starts a three-game series in New York tonight.

Dave Marshall, who had three hits, homered in the top half of the eighth for New York, breaking a 1-1 tie. But Staub connected after Don Hahn's single to win it in the bottom half of the inning.

9 Game Lead

In the West Division, Cincinnati maintained its nine game lead by knocking off Houston on three solo home runs by Pete Rose, Bobby Tolan and Tony Perez. Rose and Tolan connected consecutively at the start of the game and then Perez' leadoff homer in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Los Angeles, running second in the West, won its sixth straight with Allan Foster and Jim Brewer combining to shut out San Diego. Wes Parker and Jim Lefebvre drove home the Dodgers runs in the first inning and that was enough to tag the Padres with their eighth consecutive loss. the Braves' losing streak stretched to seven games with the doubleheader loss to San Francisco. Rookie Alan Gallagher's 10th inning homer won the opener for the Giants after San Francisco had rallied to tie the game on Ken Henderson's RBI-single in the seventh.

Old, New Taboos Facing Visitors At Oahu Temple

HONOLULU (AP) — Some old and new taboos will be imposed when Kaneaki, largest of Oahu's ancient Hawaiian temples, is opened to the public this summer.

Women's liberation aside, ladies will be banned from the temple's upper platform—lest Lono, the god of peace, be upset.

"We didn't want to offend Hawaiians who revere the traditions of their ancestors," says Russell Apple, a historian for the National Park Service.

Smoking will be forbidden, too, because of the dry pili grass," Apple said.

Honolulu's Bishop Museum and the National Park Service are restoring the four-century-old temple, in which Hawaii's most powerful king is believed to have sought blessing for his fleet of longboats.

Apple said all the work is being done by hand, using only the ancient Hawaiian house-building arts and materials.

"There isn't a single nail," he said.

The restored temple features two prayer towers, an altar, two grass houses and five hand-carved images, including one of the god Lono.

The site was dedicated with a noomanalo, "a sweetening ceremony to remove any bitterness or bad influences left from the old days," Apple said.

Sharp Cuts Indicated In U.P. Doe Permits

By RAY VOSS
Grand Rapids Press Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—When the Natural Resources Commission holds its big annual "deer meeting" at the Higgins Lake Conservation School July 9 and 10, sharply reduced antlerless feer hunting quotas will be on the agenda.

The reductions being weighed by game biologists of the Department of Natural Resources may reach 40 per cent in both the Upper Peninsula and northern half of the Lower Peninsula, but the quotas in the Southern Michigan farm country may be increased 25 per cent.

These quotas are based on biology and do not take into account the heavy pressure in the Legislature to call off antlerless hunting entirely, especially in the Upper Peninsula. Somewhere in the Legislative mill is a joint resolution asking the commission to declare a moratorium, which sparked sharp discussion at a recent commission meeting.

Tired Of Pressure

"I'm sick and tired of being constantly pressured by the Legislature," said August Scholle of Detroit at that time. "If they want to take it off our hands, let them do it by law."

Whether the commission at Higgins Lake will accept the biological recommendations or be swayed by the Legislature is anybody's guess, but it's tradition is to hold firm with a scintific management and accept the biologists' recommendations. A decade ago, however, the commission with a different membership "ran scared" from Legislators' threats to cancel its authority to manage the deer herd and called off antlerless hunting for a year. The very next winter brought heavy starvation losses, by the way.

Specific area by area quotas are being worked over in the game division and field recommendations are under study, but David Arnold, game division deer specialist, said the above overall reductions are fairly definite.

Reasons Different

Reasons for the cutbacks on both sides of the Straits are entirely different.

The Upper Peninsula deer herd is down so far, including two successive years of poor fawn production, that the game men want to avoid cutting into the basic breeding stock. The U. P. herd is in poor condition, he said, and so is the winter range.

"While the range can't carry any more deer at this point, it appears it won't have more to carry because of poor fawn production," he said.

"We're looking to an overall cutback in anterless quotas there of about 40 per cent, but some few areas probably will be closed entirely where the herd is way down, while a few others where the range is still overloaded will remain the same. The quota reduction, however, is planned for a majority of the Upper Peninsula."

In the northern Lower Peninsula, where 15 years of anterless hunting has succeeded in achieving a balance between the herd and its winter range, and the range in some areas actually has improved, the anterless quotas are reduced to increase the herd.

Herd Balanced

"We've been looking real hard at this for more than a year, and it appears that we finally have accomplished what we've been trying for 15 years to do—balance the herds," Arnold said.

"It begins to look like some of the range in Region 2 actually is capable now of carrying more deer. If the herd increases again, we can take advantage of the surplus. Region 2 deer have come through two tough winters in very good condition and that means, finally that they're getting enough to eat."

Here, too, the overall decrease in antlerless permits may approach 40 per cent, although in some areas of continuing crop damage and where the range has not improved the quotas will be maintained.

In Region 3, south of M20, where the herd is steadily increasing and highway crashes are still serious, the overall quotas may be increased as much as 25 per cent in a continuing effort to control the thriving deer population.

"Despite previous antlerless seasons, hunter success continues to rise and it's obvious the herd continues to increase, so we'll probably add a couple of new antlerless areas and generally raise the quotas," Arnold said.

Hope Wanes For Life Of Argentine Leader

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Pedro Eugenio Aramburu was mysteriously kidnaped a month ago today. Argentines in general have abandoned hope of seeing their ex-president alive.

Aramburu's disappearance has revived old memories and unanswered questions, many of them bitter issues.

One of the questions, supposedly underlying the kidnaping, concerns the execution of 27 people during the Aramburu administration of 1955-58.

Although 67, the tall and distinguished-looking Aramburu, a retired army general, was believed to be a favorite of the military to replace President Juan Carlos Ongania. Then Aramburu was kidnaped from his home on May 29 by two young men masquerading as army officers. The disappearance undermined what was left of public confidence in Ongania's government, and it toppled June 8.

Aramburu's friends charged that fascists connected with Ongania's government kidnaped the general to remove him from the political scene. Many Argentines believe this, but others believe a conflicting story told by persons claiming to be the kidnapers. They identified themselves as followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now living in exile in Spain.

The self-proclaimed kidnapers say they seized and executed Aramburu for his role in the 1956 executions. They claim to be members of a group named for Gen. Juan Jose Valle, leader of a Peronist uprising which led to the 27 executians.

The kidnapers, whoever they are, have sent proof that Aramburu was their prisoner. An envelope containing the ex-president's personal effects was found shortly after he vanished.

Communiques from the kidnapers claimed that Aramburu was tried by a "revolutionary court" and executed on June 2, just as Gen. Valle and 26 of his followers were executed 14 years ago.

Rubber Workers Accept Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Local 7, United Rubber Workers, voted overwhelmingly Sunday to accept a three-year contract with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

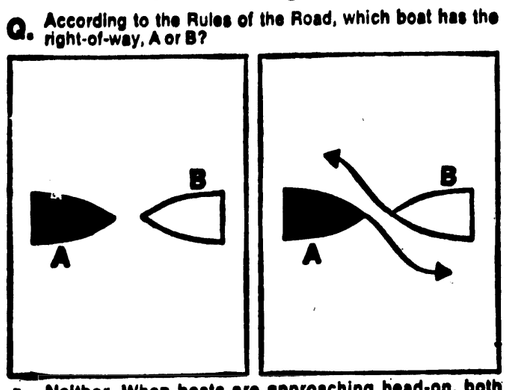

Of the 1,000 or so URW members attending the ratification meeting, union spokesmen said only about 10 were against the contract.

The new contract calls for pay increases totaling 82 cents an hour, plus improved fringe benefits. A tentative agreement had been reached June 18.

The pact covers 19,000 production workers at 14 plants in 13 cities.

Sharp Cuts Indicated In U.P. Doe Permits

By RAY VOSS
Grand Rapids Press Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—When the Natural Resources Commission holds its big annual "deer meeting" at the Higgins Lake Conservation School July 9 and 10, sharply reduced anterless feer hunting quotas will be on the agenda.

The reductions being weighed by game biologists of the Department of Natural Resources may reach 40 per cent in both the Upper Peninsula and northern half of the Lower Peninsula, but the quotas in the Southern Michigan farm country may be increased 25 per cent.

These quotas are based on biology and do not take into account the heavy pressure in the Legislature to call off anterless hunting entirely, especially in the Upper Peninsula. Somewhere in the Legislative mill is a joint resolution asking the commission to declare a moratorium, which sparked sharp discussion at a recent commission meeting.

Tired Of Pressure

"I'm sick and tired of being constantly pressured by the Legislature," said August Scholle of Detroit at that time. "If they want to take it off our hands, let them do it by law."

Whether the commission at Higgins Lake will accept the biological recommendations or be swayed by the Legislature is anybody's guess, but it's tradition is to hold firm with a scintific management and accept the biologists' recommendations. A decade ago, however, the commission with a different membership "ran scared" from Legislators' threats to cancel its authority to manage the deer herd and called off anterless hunting for a year. The very next winter brought heavy starvation losses, by the way.

Specific area by area quotas are being worked over in the game division and field recommendations are under study, but David Arnold, game division deer specialist, said the above overall reductions are fairly definite.

Reasons Different

Reasons for the cutbacks on both sides of the Straits are entirely different.

The Upper Peninsula deer herd is down so far, including two successive years of poor fawn production, that the game men want to avoid cutting into the basic breeding stock. The U. P. herd is in poor condition, he said, and so is the winter range.

"While the range can't carry any more deer at this point, it appears it won't have more to carry because of poor fawn production," he said.

"We're looking to an overall cutback in anterless quotas there of about 40 per cent, but some few areas probably will be closed entirely where the herd is way down, while a few others where the range is still overloaded will remain the same. The quota reduction, however, is planned for a majority of the Upper Peninsula."

In the northern Lower Peninsula, where 15 years of anterless hunting has succeeded in achieving a balance between the herd and its winter range, and the range in some areas actually has improved, the anterless quotas are reduced to increase the herd.

Herd Balanced

"We've been looking real hard at this for more than a year, and it appears that we finally have accomplished what we've been trying for 15 years to do—balance the herds," Arnold said.

"It begins to look like some of the range in Region 2 actually is capable now of carrying more deer. If the herd increases again, we can take advantage of the surplus. Region 2 deer have come through two tough winters in very good condition and that means, finally that they're getting enough to eat."

Here, too, the overall decrease in antlerless permits may approach 40 per cent, although in some areas of continuing crop damage and where the range has not improved the quotas will be maintained.

In Region 3, south of M20, where the herd is steadily increasing and highway crashes are still serious, the overall quotas may be increased as much as 25 per cent in a continuing effort to control the thriving deer population.

"Despite previous antlerless seasons, hunter success continues to rise and it's obvious the herd continues to increase, so we'll probably add a couple of new antlerless areas and generally raise the quotas," Arnold said.

Hope Wanes For Life Of Argentine Leader

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Pedro Eugenio Aramburu was mysteriously kidnaped a month ago today. Argentines in general have abandoned hope of seeing their ex-president alive.

Aramburu's disappearance has revived old memories and unanswered questions, many of them bitter issues.

One of the questions, supposedly underlying the kidnaping, concerns the execution of 27 people during the Aramburu administration of 1955-58.

Although 67, the tall and distinguished-looking Aramburu, a retired army general, was believed to be a favorite of the military to replace President Juan Carlos Ongania. Then Aramburu was kidnaped from his home on May 29 by two young men masquerading as army officers. The disappearance undermined what was left of public confidence in Ongania's government, and it toppled June 8.

Aramburu's friends charged that fascists connected with Ongania's government kidnaped the general to remove him from the political scene. Many Argentines believe this, but others believe a conflicting story told by persons claiming to be the kidnapers. They identified themselves as followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now living in exile in Spain.

The self-proclaimed kidnapers say they seized and executed Aramburu for his role in the 1956 executions. They claim to be members of a group named for Gen. Juan Jose Valle, leader of a Peronist uprising which led to the 27 executians.

The kidnapers, whoever they are, have sent proof that Aramburu was their prisoner. An envelope containing the ex-president's personal effects was found shortly after he vanished.

Communiques from the kidnapers claimed that Aramburu was tried by a "revolutionary court" and executed on June 2, just as Gen. Valle and 26 of his followers were executed 14 years ago.

Rubber Workers Accept Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Local 7, United Rubber Workers, voted overwhelmingly Sunday to accept a three-year contract with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

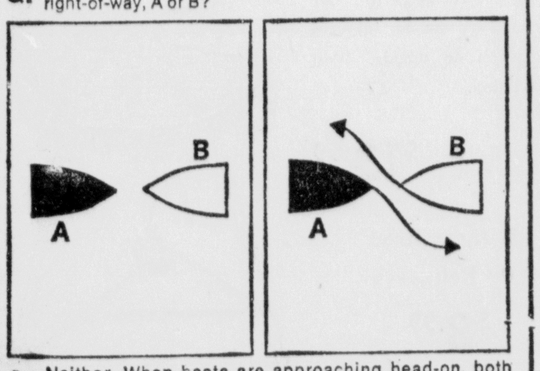

Of the 1,000 or so URW members attending the ratification meeting, union spokesmen said only about 10 were against the contract.

The new contract calls for pay increases totaling 82 cents an hour, plus improved fringe benefits. A tentative agreement had been reached June 18.

The pact covers 19,000 production workers at 14 plants in 13 cities.

Safe Boating Quiz...

Q. According to the Rules of the Road, which boat has the right-of-way, A or B?

A. Neither. When boats are approaching head-on, both should give way by turning to the right and then resuming course so that they pass each other with ample clearance. Boat safety experts at State Farm Fire and Casualty Company warn against playing "chicken" unless you want to wind up in the soup.

Justice Officials Pleased Over Pot War Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says it is highly pleased with initial results of "Operation Cooperation," the joint U.S.-Mexican drive to destroy opium poppies and marijuana in Mexico and catch those who trade in the illicit drugs.

Citing figures from a report to be published later this week, Bob Funesti of the department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs listed some examples of arrests due to the two-country cooperation:

Tons Seized

—In Mexicali, Mexican police arrested a "major trafficker as he attempted to deliver one ton of marijuana to a BNDD undercover agent."

—In Guadalajara, the Mexican army seized five tons of marijuana and arrested 15 U.S. citizens alleged to have arranged to smuggle it into this country.

—In Jalisco, BNDD agents helped when Mexican police captured a fully equipped heroin labcratory, arrested three persons and seized 225 grams of pure heroin.

Other examples involved arrests in New York City, Las Vegas, California and Tucson, Ariz., and elsewhere.

In addition, the Mexican government wiped out 5,745 acres of poppies and 44 tons of marijuana in a drive last spring, Funesti said.

Operation Cooperation started last fall after an earlier antidrug drive—"Operation Intercept"—soured U.S.-Mexican relations by creating big jam-ups at U.S. Customs points that discouraged tourism and inconvenienced Mexicans working in the United States.

Sending Planes

Under Operation Cooperation, the United States this week is sending Mexico three light aircraft and five radio-equipped helicopters seating five persons. They are valued at a total $815,000.

In addition, the Mexican government will receive $15,000 for remote sensing experiments aimed at detecting opium poppies and marijuana in their rolling hills. Another $35,000 will go for equipment to eradicate the poppies and other drug-yielding plants.

Cooperative training programs are planned to widen the pool of people able to detect and eradicate the plants and maintain the specialized equipment. Also, the U.S. Customs Bureau as of June 1 had strengthened its Mexico and Canadian border staffs by 900 men.

Hatfield Scores Course Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mark O. Hatfield says GOP leaders are on a course to the political right that "spells possible disaster for the Republican party."

The Oregon Republican—a leader of his party's liberal wing—indicated Sunday such a move is exemplified by the so-called "Southern strategy" and might win the White House for the GOP in 1972.

But, he added, "When you consider that that type of rightward movement excludes the black people, it excludes the young people, it excludes most of those within the small business groups, perhaps, and labor, and ethnic groups of all kinds; you can't be a national party on that kind of a narrow base, the Southern strategy and the rightward movement represents."

Hatfield spoke on Metromedia Radio's "Profile" program.

If President Nixon cannot make satisfactory progress soon on the Indochina war, unemployment and inflation a "dump-Nixon" movement—led by someone like California Gov. Ronald Reagan—might materialize from the party's right wing and "there just might not be a Nixon-Agnew ticket in 1972."

He said the President's Vietnamization policy was a face-saving device to cover a "no-win policy" of unilateral withdrawal, and said he was somewhat skeptical of Nixon's ability to end the war and heal the economy.

Ford Says U.S. Inflation Slowing, But Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says inflation is being slowed less than he would like, but he thinks the rate will be down to about 5 per cent by the end of this year.

Prices rose 6 per cent in the 12 months ending May 31.

"President Nixon and the administration are confident we are making headway against it," the Michigan lawmaker said, "but I will admit it is not as much as I would like."

He also said in an interview that he does not believe Nixon will change his economic policies because of the upcoming congressional elections.

Ford said he thinks the Nixon policies will drop the rate of inflation and the economy will move out of its present state and rally in August or September for the rest of the year.

Illinois Offers Bill To Protect Lake Michigan

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP) — Proposed legislation to ban dredging, drilling, construction and salvage operations in Lake Michigan would give Illinois "The toughest environmental control bill to the nation," Atty. Gen. William J. Scott said Sunday.

The Illinois official presented the proposal Sunday to conservation officials from Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois who met to draw up a four-state compact to protect Lake Michigan from "ecological disaster."

The bill, which Scott said he will introcuce into the Illinois legislature in January 1971, would require written permission for drilling or dredging from four Illinois agencies — the Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Public Works, the Department of Conservation and the attorney general' office.

All offshore mining, including drilling for sand and gravel, would be prohibited under the proposed bill. The dumping of polluted dredgings back into Lake Michigan would also be banned.

"We're very much concerned with the fate of Lake Michigan," Scott said. "We're also concerned about the control of mineral and oil rights in the lake so that exploitation of these rights would not lead us into ecological disaster."

Blast Damages Drake Building

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Iowa's fourth dynamite bombing in less than two months damaged the Harvey Ingham Hall of Science at Drake University early today.

No one was injured from the explosion, which was detonated in a sunken mall on the south side of the 20-year-old building about 3:45 a.m.

Police Chief Wendell Nichols sid it was dynamite. An investigator for the Alcohol, Firearms and Tobacco Tax Division of the U.S. Treasury said he believed 15 to 20 pounds of high power dynamite was used.

Damage to the building was undetermined, but the federal investigator estimated it might reach $250,000.

Mrs. Nixon Pledges U.S. Help For Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Arriving with nine tons of relief goods, Pat Nixon promised American help Sunday night for earthquake-stricken Peru until reconstruction ends "and everything is rosy once again."

The First Lady of the United States was welcomed with a warm, affectionate Latin embrace and kisses on both cheeks by Peru's first lady, Consuela Gonzalez de Velasco.

"In this embrace and kiss which I give you," said Mrs. Velasco, "is the spirit of all my Peru and of all that which we are suffering in these moments."

Never Met Before

The two women, whose husbands are presidents of lands 4,000 miles apart, had never met before. They were brought together by the Western Hemisphere's worst earthquake in this century and by the desire of both their countries to improve strained relations.

Together, they launched two days of good will touring designed to get more relief supplies to the 500,000 Peruvians made homeless by the quake May 31.

Mrs. Nixon and her hostess were flying into the devastated Huaylas Canyon today to deliver some of the blankets and tents Mrs. Nixon brought in her husband's personal jet plane Sunday night. A U.S. military cargo plane brought the bulk of the supplies.

Showed Photos

Shortly after Mrs. Nixon's arrival at the U.S. Embassy residence, U.S. and Peruvian officials showed her before-and-after photos and gave her a 45-minute briefing on the disaster.

The devastation covered an area the size of Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands combined, said Augusto Zimmerman, director of Peru's information office, who estimated it would take $500 million to rebuild the devastated towns and villages.

Center To Treat Drug Problems Opens In State

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The nation's first center for treatment of drug problems in returning Vietnam war veterans will operate at the Veterans Administration Neuropsychiatric Hospital in Battle Creek, officials have announced.

VA officials say that drug addiction among returning veterans has grown at a "severe and alarming" rate and that the new facility is "an absolute necessity."

The center will utilize a group therapy approach and does not plan to use methadone treatment.

Methadone, an addicting drug, reduces the addict's physical craving for heroin, but does not produce the euphoric effect of other narcotics.

"We will not substitute one crutch for another," said Dr. Stewart Armitage, chief planner for the new center. "Our aim will be to help the veteran adjust to real-life stresses and problems. We don't want to risk expanding the drug problem by introducing new drugs."

Berlin Shows Romney Contrast In Freedom

BERLIN (AP) — George Romney, the secretary for housing and urban development, spent several hours in East Berlin Sunday and called the contrast between East and West Berlin a contrast in freedom.

Romney is touring West Germany and Scandinavia to study European housing methods.

Returning from East Berlin, the onetime Republican presidential aspirant said in a statement: "West Berlin's freedom is so much a part of our freedom, that we are committed to both . . . Unless Berlin remains free, freedom everywhere is jeopardized."

Describing the Wall dividing Berlin, Romney declared: "It is like seeing a heavily guarded prison wall with innocent people within.

"Hopefully, present efforts to replace armed confrontation-with a negotiated reduction of arms will eventually pierce barriers like this Wall of shame and will reunite family and friends in a city that has been cruelly cut in half."

Romney, a Mormon, also attended three church services Sunday, twice meeting with Mormon members of the U.S. Army's Berlin Brigade.

He also preached a sermon entitled: "Where the Lord is, there is liberty."

Romney flies to Hamburg Monday.

War No Worse

Action elsewhere was light and scattered, with U.S. forces reporting at least 14 wounded, two of them in Cambodia.

South Vietnamese forces reported several clashes with 45 North Vietnamese killed and two captured in a fight two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The war was going no better for the Cambodian army today than it has in weeks, but it also was going no worse. The Cambodian High Command's spokesman told newsmen in Phnom Penh the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had made ground assaults on the major arms depot at Long Vek, 23 miles north of Phnom Penh, and had fired mortars at government positions in the Siem Reap-Angkor area.

In Laos, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma replied to a new Pathet Lao peace proposal termed by informants "slightly more conciliatory" than previous Pathet Lao offers.

Government sources declined to disclose the contents of the letter, a reply to a proposal sent June 12, but diplomatic sources said the offer from Pathet Lao chief Prince Souphanouvong modified an earlier demand for complete and unconditional halt of American bombing raids against Pathet Lao positions.

The new offer, the sources said, leaves open the possibility the Pathet Lao will agree to peace moves if the United States stops bombing Pathet Lao territory but not the Laotian pontion of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Foreign Policy Occupies Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, launching a work week emphasizing foreign policy questions, scheduled meetings today with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and the foreign minister of Communist Romania.

Nixon confers with Rogers just before the secretary of state heads for Southeast Asia.

The Romanian foreign minister, Corneliu Manescu, one of Nixon's hosts in Bucharest last August, was in California for the San Francisco observance of the 25th birthday of the United Nations. Romania is among Warsaw Pact countries proposing a mutual East-West European troop pullback.

Rogers flew to California Sunday night with Marshall Green, assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs, and Richard Pedersen, counselor for the State Department. Green and Pedersen were joining in the meeting with the President.

In announcing Sunday Manescu's visit, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon certainly would discuss with him recent disastrous floods in their native land. He did not say whether the East-West troop pullback plan would be on the agenda.

Nixon spent most of Sunday preparing for a report he will issue Tuesday on U.S. ground troops in Cambodia and for an hour-long live television discussion Wednesday night on foreign policy matters with representatievs of the three major TV networks.

The chief executive went to his office in the Western White House early Sunday morning after flying to El Toro Marine Air Station, north of here, to bid bon voyage to Mrs. Nixon, who went to Peru to dramatize American concern about victims of earthquakes. Mrs. Nixon will return to San Clemente Tuesday night.

Describing the Wall dividing Berlin, Romney declared: "It is like seeing a heavily guarded prison wall with innocent people within.

"Hopefully, present efforts to replace armed confrontation with a negotiated reduction of arms will eventually pierce barriers like this Wall of shame and will reunite family and friends in a city that has been cruelly cut in half."

Romney, a Mormon, also attended three church services Sunday, twice meeting with Mormon members of the U.S. Army's Berlin Brigade.

He also preached a sermon entitled: "Where the Lord is, there is liberty."

Romney flies to Hamburg Monday.

War No Worse

Action elsewhere was light and scattered, with U.S. forces reporting at least 14 wounded, two of them in Cambodia.

South Vietnamese forces reported several clashes with 45 North Vietnamese killed and two captured in a fight two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The war was going no better for the Cambodian army today than it has in weeks, but it also was going no worse. The Cambodian High Command's spokesman told newsmen in Phnom Penh the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had made ground assaults on the major arms depot at Long Vek, 23 miles north of Phnom Penh, and had fired mortars at government positions in the Siem Reap-Angkor area.

In Laos, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma replied to a new Pathet Lao peace proposal termed by informants "slightly more conciliatory" than previous Pathet Lao offers.

Government sources declined to disclose the contents of the letter, a reply to a proposal sent June 12, but diplomatic sources said the offer from Pathet Lao chief Prince Souphanouvong modified an earlier demand for complete and unconditional halt of American bombing raids against Pathet Lao positions.

The new offer, the sources said, leaves open the possibility the Pathet Lao will agree to peace moves if the United States stops bombing Pathet Lao territory but not the Laotian portion of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Foreign Policy Occupies Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, launching a work week emphasizing foreign policy questions, scheduled meetings today with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and the foreign minister of Communist Romania.

Nixon confers with Rogers just before the secretary of state heads for Southeast Asia.

The Romanian foreign minister, Corneliu Manescu, one of Nixon's hosts in Bucharest last August, was in California for the San Francisco observance of the 25th birthday of the United Nations. Romania is among Warsaw Pact countries proposing a mutual East-West European troop pullback.

Rogers flew to California Sunday night with Marshall Green, assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs, and Richard Pedersen, counselor for the State Department. Green and Pedersen were joining in the meeting with the President.

In announcing Sunday Manescu's visit, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon certainly would discuss with him recent disastrous floods in their native land. He did not say whether the East-West troop pullback plan would be on the agenda.

Nixon spent most of Sunday preparing for a report he will issue Tuesday on U.S. ground troops in Cambodia and for an hour-long live television discussion Wednesday night on foreign policy matters with representatievs of the three major TV networks.

The chief executive went to his office in the Western White House early Sunday morning after flying to El Toro Marine Air Station, north of here, to bid bon voyage to Mrs. Nixon, who went to Peru to dramatize American concern about victims of earthquakes. Mrs. Nixon will return to San Clemente Tuesday night.

Last American Troops Pulled From Cambodia

Five Men Held For Gun Attack Against Police

DETROIT (AP) — Five men who police believe to be members of a group which planned to kill police officers were to be arraigned in Detroit today on charges stemming from the shooting of three policemen early Sunday morning.

Petitions of habeas corpus filed on behalf of all five men were denied Sunday by a Detroit Recorder's Court judge.

Two of the men, Lawrence White, Jr. 26, and Michael Anderson, 22, were booked on preliminary charges of attempted murder. Bond was set at $25,000 for each man.

Patrolmen Shot

Three others, Anthony Williams, 28, Hayward DeVrille, 20 and Richard Edmonds, 21, were jailed pending investigation of a conspiracy to murder. Bond was set for Williams at $1,500 and $500 for the other two.

Detroit Patrolmen Richard Gordon, 24, and Norman Sieloff, 28, were shot as they patrolled a street on the city's east side shortly after midnight Sunday.

According to police, the officers' car was struck by gunfire as they slowed for an intersection. Both men were wounded when they jumped out of the car returning the fire.

Responding to the wounded men's call for help, Chief Inspector Anthony Bertoni was also slightly injured when his car was struck by several shots, one of which shattered the windshield.

Chased Men

Police said they chased two men to a house where they were met with gunfire. Police returned fire and then began firing tear gas into the house.

A few minutes later, Anderson emerged from the building and surrendered, police said. They said White surrendered after conversations with his father, Lawrence White Sr., who urged his son to give himself up.

Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Jay Nolan, testifying in court Sunday, said that police arrested six more men, including Williams, DeVrille and Edmonds, based on informaton developed by surveillance units that linked them with the shooting.

Planned Attack

Nolan said all five men had been under surveillance Saturday before the shooting, as they drove to and from the house where Anderson and White later surrendered. He said two of the five men left the automobile within two blocks of the shooting scene. Nolan said the surveillance car continued to follow the automobile, and police arrested the three men remaining in the car moments after the shooting occurred. The three were later identified as Edmonds, Williams and Devrille, Nolan said.

Nolan also testified that police intelligence officers had received information that an unidentified group planned to attack and kill uniformed policemen at random. But he did not say whether that information had resulted in the Saturday night surveillance of the five men accused in the shooting.

Sieloff was treated for gunshot wounds and released in good condition. Gordon was admitted to a Detroit hospital, where he was reported in fair condition Sunday.

Election Attacks Take 22 Lives

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese officials claimed more than 72 per cent of the voters turned out Sunday for provincial elections despite Viet Cong attacks that killed at least 22 persons and wounded 81.

The highest toll was in the northernmost provinces, where enemy troops mortared Mo Duc, a district town in Quang Ngai Province, killing seven persons and wounding 11 at a polling place.

In some areas, Viet Cong political cadres summoned voters together and warned them not to vote. But government officials claimed 72.6 per cent of the 6.1 million turned out in the 44 provinces, with a heavier participation in rural areas than in the cities.

The claims appeared highly questionable in some areas, however, as witnesses to the voting reported turnouts apparently much below the figures issued by the government.

In Da Nang, for example, officials reported 104,421 voters, or about 73 per cent of the total in South Vietnam's second largest city. But another Vietnamese source said the actual showing probably was below 50 per cent.

At stake were 554 provincial council seats contested by 1,930 candidates, an average of more than three candidates for each post.

The provincial elections were the first since 1967 and the first under a reform program that gives the councils more power and a more representative base.

Nasser Huddles With Russians

By The Associated Press

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser arrived in the Soviet Union today and was expected to discuss with Soviet leaders the new American Middle East peace proposals and his country's defense needs.

The Arab leader's visit came in the wake of statements by Palestinian guerrilla leaders that they would sabotage any effort at reaching a political settlement between Arab governments and Israel.

On the battle fronts, Israeli warplanes raided Jordan and southeast Lebanon Sunday in retaliation for Arab guerrilla attacks that killed one civilian and wounded two civilians and two policemen. The Israeli air force also kept up its day-and-night attacks on Egyptian posts along the Suez Canal.

The military command in Tel Aviv said its planes attacked Arab guerrilla strongholds on Mt. Hermon in southeast Lebanon for 35 minutes and hit guerrilla bases in Jordan three times Sunday. Large numbers of planes also bombed intermittently along the canal during the day, and the strikes continued through the night.

No Israeli planes were lost, a spokesman said.

Arab and Israeli leaders continued to discuss the new American peace proposals for the Middle East. In Amman, one influential guerrilla official declared: "We are the joker in the pack. Without our consent they can do nothing and we will never agree to a peaceful settlement."

Legislature Begins Final Week Of Work

LANSING (AP)— The Michigan Legislature today began a hectic scramble to get its work done by Friday, so members might adjourn for some equally frantic campaigning before the Aug. 4 primary election.

Left up in the air when the House and Senate adjourned late Friday were such pressing issues as the more than $1.7 billion budget for the fiscal year that begins Wednesday, a school aid bill including parochiaid, the 18-year-old vote and drug law reform.

Leaders had already pushed the Legislature, however, to final action on a $92 million revenue bill—revoking a lion's share of property tax credits against the state income tax—and a major antipollution bill that allows private citizens to sue government and industry for endangering the state's environment.

Work Acknowledged

Leaders acknowledged the load of work still remaining. But they eyed the calendar that shows only one month before the primary and spoke confidently of completing the immediate business of the session by week's end.

State government normally would be shut down on Friday, the day before the Fourth of July, but all signs pointed to business-as-usual for the lawmakers and their staffs.

Chief order of business for both houses is action on the long-stalled school aid bill for 1970-71.

The Senate passed the bill last year, calling for some $972 million. But the House completely revamped the bill and passed a $1.2 million measure tied to a plan for increased reliance on income taxes for paying school bills.

Vote To Be Battle

A $22 million grant for parochiaid was included in both versions of the school aid bill.

The antiparochiaid forces still are working against the state subsidy for private and church-affiliated schools—to the point that Gov. William Milliken said Friday the vote on the school aid bill would be a "battle."

But with the tax bill to pay for increased school aid on the way to Milliken's desk for signing, the school aid fight appeared nearly over.

Several appropriations bills, doling out specified sums of money for state-supported institutions and agencies, remained on legislative schedules. Chief among them is the $335.3 million appropriation for higher education, now a topic of a House-Senate conference committee.

Voting Age Bill

Both House and Senate have passed resolutions that would put the question of lowering Michigan's voting age on the November ballot. But lawmakers still must settle the hassle over which proposal to give full legislative endorsement.

The House passed a lowered voting age proposal authored by Rep. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit, while the Senate approved one introduced by Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo.

The Senate also is facing final action on proposals that revise Michigan laws dealing with the classification of marijuana and penalties for sale of narcotics.

Senate Nears Vote On Future War Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Nixon's promised deadline for withdrawing U.S. forces from Cambodia less than two days away, the Senate moved toward the climax of its two-month debate on limiting future American operations there.

Following today's GOP efforts —led by Assistant Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin and Colorado Sen. Gordon Allott—to water down the proposal, the Senate votes Tuesday afternoon on the Cooper-Church amendment to cut off funds for U.S. actions in Cambodia after June 30.

That date was picked by the amendment's sponsors—Republican John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Idaho Democrat Frank Church—because Nixon said all American troops would be out of Cambodia by then.

Today's Republican moves were the rear guard of constant efforts by defenders of Nixon Southeast Asia policies to take the edge off Cooper-Church—such as Griffin's try at softening the language.

Wanted War Debate

Allott's proposal to seek an earlier vote than war critics originally sought on the amendment to cut off all funds for the Indochina war after Dec. 31, 1971, had been introduced in hopes it would be defeated now.

Its original sponsors wanted action later this summer so the proposal could serve as another vehicle for extended debate on Vietnam and opposed Allott's maneuvering for a quicker decision.

Today's Senate action was played against these other developments:

—Secretary of State William P. Rogers said in advance of his scheduled meeting with the President at the Western White House that Nixon would make a renewed peace initiative after all U.S. forces are out of Cambodia.

—The President continued preparing a written statement to be issued Tuesday on the Cambodian operation.

—North Vietnam broadcast Sunday a statement that the United States had obtained none of its objectives in Cambodia and was claiming an "imaginary victory."

House Action

—Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the House Republican leader, said the Cambodian incursion had been successful "far beyond expectations" and he personally thought it might even lead to an accelerated withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam. He also said the House might knock out the Cooper-Church amendment even if the Senate passed it.

Irish Violence Subsides, Death Toll Rises To Six

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Violence subsided in Northern Ireland today. Britain's Cabinet went into emergency session in London and defense officials there moved to dispatch even more troops to help stop religious fighting.

The death today in a hospital of a man brought to six the toll of dead from fighting between Roman Catholics and Protestants over the weekend. More than 200 other persons have been injured.

Soldiers with orders to shoot armed civilians on sight patrolled rubble-strewn sections of Belfast.

Bombs Thrown

Violence developed in the independent Irish Republic in the south when Irish raiders threw gasoline bombs into British railroad offices and a British veterans' organization building in Cork.

That republic's foreign minister Patrick Hiller, flew to London to discuss the crisis with the British foreign secretary, Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

There was considerably less violence Sunday night as the British government rushed more troops in and emergency measures were proclaimed. Another 40 persons were injured in street fights, an explosion started a fire at an oil depot, but only one shooting was reported —a shotgun blast that wounded two soldiers slightly.

Police reported all quiet by 4 a.m.

Violence began Friday night over the jailing of Bernadette Devlin, the fiery young Roman Catholic leader sentenced to six months in prison for leading anti-Protestant riots last summer. The bloodiest toll came in 12 hours of fighting Saturday night as Catholics and Protestants fought each other and the steel-helmeted troops with rocks, bottles and gasoline bombs, and troops and snipers exchanged gunfire. Five civilians were killed and 161 civilians and soldiers were injured.

Provincial Premier James Chichester-Clark declared that his government was facing an attempted revolution. He ordered emergency measures into force, including a partial curfew and early closing of bars. He also promised new laws to deal with rioters but ruled out martial law for the time being.

"All civilians carrying firearms or using firearms in any way whatsoever are liable to be shot without warning," said Lt. Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, commander of British forces in Northern Ireland.

Britain's new Conservative prime minister, Edward Heath, dispatched another 3,000 troops to Northern Ireland, bringing the total to 11,350.

Golf Clubhouse Leveled By Fire

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) —A raging fire destroyed the clubhouse at Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens Sunday.

Firemen from eight communities fought the blaze, which apparently started as a kitchen grease fire. Three firemen suffered smoke inhalation injuries.

A club official described the building as "a total loss" and there were estimates of damage ranging as high as $2 million.

Advisors Ready To Leave By Tuesday Night

SAIGON (AP) — The last American combat troops in Cambodia pulled back into South Vietnam this afternoon, in effect completing the U.S. withdrawal one day ahead of President Nixon's deadline.

Still in Cambodia but scheduled to leave by midnight Tuesday were a handful of American advisors to some of the 39,000 South Vietnamese troops also still there. Although these Americans also are being pulled out, the South Vietnamese will keep forces beyond the border for an indefinite period to bolster the shaky government of Premier Lon Nol.

Light Contract

Only very light contact was reported as the last mud-caked 1,800 men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division walked or flew across the border north of Saigon, closing out the 60-day drive into enemy munitions and supply dumps that Nixon has called the "most successful" operation of the Vietnam war.

Meanwhile, Premier Lon Nol of Cambodia said in Phnom Penh that he hoped Nixon would send U.S. troops back into his country if his government's military situation deteriorated further.

Nol made clear at a news conference that U.S. air forces have been giving tactical air support to Cambodian ground troops and said the Pentagon had assured him this would continue after June 30.

No Deaths Reported

U.S. officials contend that all U.S. air attacks in Cambodia have been against enemy supply lines, and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said last Friday that this bombing would continue after June 30. But Laird refused to say whether American planes would also provide support for Cambodian troops, commenting: "I don't believe that it's good practice . . . to give flat answers on operational orders as far as the future is concerned."

The U.S. Command announced that no Americans were killed in either South Vietnam or Cambodia in the 24-hour period ending at midnight Sunday, the first time this had occurred since last Christmas Day when a cease-fire was in effect. But early today three Americans were killed and 11 wounded in a North Vietnamese attack

Judge Rejects Trial Change

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A defense request that the first-degree murder trial of John Norman Collins be moved to a site outside the county was denied today in Washtenaw Circuit Court.

Judge John W. Conlin ruled that there was not sufficient cause to believe that an impartial jury could not be chosen.

In denying the change of venue motion made by defense attorney Joseph Louisell, Conlin said that of 164 prospective jurors who have been questioned and excused only 46 were were excused because they had opinions about the case.

Conlin said this was not a high enough percentage to warrant moving the trial from the county.

New Panel Ordered

Conlin ordered a new panel of 300 prospective jurors to be drawn for the case. The judge also denied a defense motion which asked that the 13 jurors tentatively seated be dismissed because their terms expired on Sunday.

Conlin ruled that state law permits jurors to remain on a case until it is completed.

The 23-year-old Collins is accused of slaying Karen Sue Beineman on July 23, 1969 when Miss Beineman and Collins were students at Eastern Michigan University in nearby Ypsilanti. Miss Beineman was the seventh young woman found slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area over a two-year period.

No charges have been filed in the other six cases.

Appeal Possible

Louisell said that Conlin's ruling was "tantamount to forcing a trial in this community."

"It has been fairly demonstrated," Louisell added, "that there is such a feeling in this community and that that feeling is so widespread and general that it is impossible to draw a fair and impartial jury here."

Louisell said "the entire atmosphere of Washtenaw County has been permeated by a feeling of prejudice.

"This community feels it has been victimized."

Louisell did not say whether he would appeal Judge Conlin's ruling.

General Asks U.S. Help For Lockheed On New Cargo Jet

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general has suggested to Congress that the government share up to half Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s predicted $647 million loss on the C5 cargo jet and loan Lockheed money to cover the rest.

Lt. Gen. Otto J. Glasser, a deputy Air Force chief of staff, denied it is a bailout plan for Lockheed.

"We are in the same boat with them," Glasser told the House defense appropriations subcommittee April 20 in testimony released today. "So we are bailing us out, if that is the word to use."

He said this might be the best and even cheapest way for the Air Force to get the giant transport plane.

Suggesting Lockheed hid its cost problems in 1968 so the Air Force would buy more of the planes, Glasser said the company's management has been "less than satisfactory." His suggested solution includes an Air Force voice in Lockheed's management of the program.

The C5 loss-sharing, loan plan was included in testimony in closed-door hearings on the military's full range of aircraft, missiles, ships, tanks and other hardware procurement requests.

Other highlights:

—The Air Force plans to halt its purchases of the controversial F111 swing-wing jet fighter with the 40 requested next year, for a total force of 554 of the planes. Glasser said he is "not completely satisfied" with the F111—he said it is a little heavier and slower than originally planned—but he said it is a good plane and will carry out its mission.

—The Air Force has 10 MIRV - tipped Minuteman III missiles in silos and plans to install 500, apparently by 1975 although the censored transcript left the time schedule unclear.

Four Flint Men Caught In Raid

HARRISON (AP)—Four men from Flint were arrested early today by state police and charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

The arrests came after troopers said they received reports from two service station attendants who reported the men tried to lure them into card games. Troopers were also checking to see whether the men may have been involved in a $150 robbery at a Grayling service station.

The arrested men were identified as Mrvin Riley, 33, Peter S. McLeish, 37, Raymond W. Hill, 29, and Richard L. Youmans, 42.

Costs Keep Rising:

Fire Protection Plan Discussed With Townships

The cost of protecting life and property from fire in the Escanaba area continues to rise, as it does in other sections of the country, and here the units of government are discussing a more equitable method of sharing the cost.

Fire protection cost is likely to go higher in the coming fiscal year in Escanaba with the firemen's union and the city now engaged in arbitration in efforts to arrive at a wage contract.

For several years Escanaba has, with the cooperation of some townships in the area, extended fire protection service on a more or less nominal basis.

At the City Hall in Escanaba tonight City Manager George Harvey and representatives of the townships will meet to further discuss a proposed new —and more effective—fire protection agreement.

Townships Buy Truck

"We have been committed to our neighbors in the adjacent townships for many years and they have been most cooperative in the past in increasing their financial support as the cost of fire services continue to rise," said Harvey.

Wells, Ford River and Escanaba Townships purchased a fire truck a couple of years ago and this equipment is housed in the North Escanaba station and manned by city firefighters. It is used for both township and city calls.

Harvey reports that the discussions include consideration of cost sharing among the townships and the city on both the basis of population and assessed valuation. For example, the per capita cost in Escanaba for fire protection is $20.

If the question of financial participation were based on population, the three townships would contribute a total of about $35,000.

Equitable Basis

On the basis of assessed valuation, fire protection costs Escanaba about 8 mills of property tax or $318,000 annually. Escanaba has a valuation of $40,520,800.

The total assessed valuation of the three townships (Wells Township alone has a valuation of nearly $30 million) is $35,330,575.

On the basis of assessed valuation, therefore, "townships on a millage basis would be paying a substantial amount for such fire protection," said Harvey.

Manpower is the basic need in the fire department, Harvey continued, and in preliminary meetings with the townships it was suggested they pay for three additional men.

Proposed Plan

The proposal the township representatives were to carry back to their boards, and to be discussed tonight, essentially provides:

Three townships will pay for the cost of four firemen in the Escanaba department.

Wells Township will pay the cost of two firemen, Escanaba and Ford River townships will pay for one each.

The city will advertise and will hire three of the four under regular city civil service procedures, "but we will advertise these firemen positions so that the citizens in the townships will be able and be allowed to apply," said Harvey.

Presently the Escanaba City Council holds to a policy of long standing that positions with the city be held by persons residing within the city.

INSTANT CITY — A Sheriff's estimate of 40,000 to 45,000 persons took over a 200-acre farm near Iola, Wis., in Portage County where People's Fair rock festival was staged this weekend. Officials said traffic was snarled on the two-lane county roads. All persons paid $10 each to attend. (AP Wirephoto.)

Cyclists Arrested After Rock Festival Shootings

IOLA, Wis. — Three rock festival patrons were hospitalized with gunshot wounds Sunday following a confrontation between members of a motorcycle group and young persons during the last day of the three day fest near here.

There also were complaints that up to 45 women were raped by the motorcyclists prior to the fight, Portage County Sheriff Nick Check said.

Twenty-three members of a motorcycle group—19 men and four women — were arrested after the fracas. Check said they could not immediately be identified and he could not specify the charges. They were being detained in the Portage County jail.

Victims Unidentified

The three young persons shot were taken to St. Michael's Hospital in Stevens Point and were reported in fair or good condition. They were not immediately identified.

Witnesses and police gave this account of the confrontation:

About 7 a.m. Sunday, members of a motorcycle group, who had been drinking heavily throughout the night and bothering some of the estimated 45,000 rock fans, began ganging up and beating a small group of young persons near a barn on the 200 acre fest site. The barn, which was used as a campsite by several motorcycle groups, was located about 80 yards downhill from the rock fans' main campsites.

Rock Throwing

As the cyclists were fighting with the group of spectators, another group of youths began throwing rocks from the top of the hill.

The angered cyclists began riding up the hill on their motorcycles.

One shot was fired, officials said, but there were conflicting reports on whether the cyclists first fired the shot or whether a spectator fired a warning shot into the air from the top of the hill in an attempt to force the cyclists back.

The cyclists began shooting into the crowd as they backed their vehicles down the hill and fled the festival site.

Stopped At Roadblock

They were stopped by a sheriff's department roadblock at the junction of County Trunk MM and Highway 92. A handful of officers forced the 23 cyclists off their vehicles and ordered them to strip. They were detained until they were taken to the jail.

When asked why the motorcyclists were ordered to strip, Check replied "When you only have a few men, you've got to do something."

Following the shooting incident, Check went on stage and asked for co-operation from witnesses who had either seen or taken photographs of the confrontation. He added that the fest patrons helped in every way possible with the investigation.

Multicolored Affair

The state's second rock festival, which began Friday, was a hodgepodge of multicolored tents, makeshift shelters, water and sound problems and an abundancy of drugs, some selling at ridiculously high prices.

More than 35 acid rock jazz and blues groups performed during the event although promoters had problems getting the sound system to work during the first six hours of the festival. Most of the fans could not hear the music even after the system was repaired.

From the time the festival began at least eight persons were treated for acute drug reactions in area hospitals. A larger number, however, were treated at the festival's medical center.

'Revolutionary' On FBI List

DETROIT (AP) — Lawrence "Pun" Plamondon is one of the 10 men most wanted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but he is hardly typical of the dozens of other men who have made the list in its 20 years of existence.

Unlike the bank robbers, kidnapers and murderers who normally appear on the 10 most wanted list, Plamondon is a self-proclaimed revolutionary. He is sought for his alleged role in the 1968 bombing of the recruiting office of the Central Intelligence Agency in Ann Arbor.

Plamondon, 25, was born in Traverse City and never completed high school. He was a leader of the Ann Arbor White Panthers, a revolutionary group claiming allegiance with the Black Panthers but also dedicated to drug use and a free lifestyle.

Plamondon has been on the FBI shopping list for 56 days; the FBI says men on the list average 133 days between the time their names are posted and their arrest.

Petoskey Marina To Be Dedicated

PETOSKEY (AP) — Charles A. Boyer, a member of the State Waterway Commission, will be the featured speaker Saturday when Petoskey dedicates the newest marina on the Great Lakes.

The marina has 80 slips and can handle boats up to 60 feet. It also features a host of modern conveniences for boaters.

The dedication will be part of the city's July 4 festivities.

Mass Protest Details Mapped

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Delegates to a national radical strategy conference have mapped plans for an intensified antiwar campaign to be climaxed by mass demonstrations in Washington in October.

The proposal includes a series of marches to converge on the nation's capital from various parts of the country.

Details were deferred pending a series of regional meetings to be held within the next month. Organizers said the regional meetings would be followed by another national conference.

Organizers said the proposed Washington demonstrations would demand not only U.S. withdrawal from Southeast Asia but a guaranteed annual income of $5,500 for all families and home rule for the District of Columbia.

The conference was sponsored by a variety of militant organizations, including the Black Panther party.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference, a spearhead of the black civil rights movement, and the National Welfare Organization were among the larger groups represented by delegations.

May Liquor Sales Show Sharp Increase In U.P.

May was colder than usual weather-wise, but apparently there was a "hot time" in some places in the Upper Peninsula.

Liquor sales in the U.P. jumped from $521,000 in 1969 to $584,000 for the month this year, according to Dexter Babcock, Escanaba, district manager for the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Babcock commented as the Liquor Control Commission convened at 10 a.m. today in the conference room of the State Office Building. The meeting is required by Michigan law to allow the commission to obtain first-hand suggestions and complaints from the Upper Peninsula.

Business Good

Business is better than ever, Babcock reported.

Although figures for fiscal 1969-70 are not available, Babcock pointed out that in fiscal 1968-69 all of the state stores in the Upper Peninsula showed an increase in sales except Laurium, where the shutdown of Calumet & Hecla mining operations caused economic problems. Escanaba was up 19 per cent, Manistique 16 per cent, and Hancock and St. Ignace each 12 per cent, he said.

Through five months this year, he said, sales in the Upper Peninsula have increased from $2,293,000 to $2,483,000.

Some of the increase in sales revenue can be attributed to price increases, Babcock said, but the impact has been small in the Upper Peninsula. The brands which made the most significant price changes have not been big sellers in the U.P., he said.

Seminar To Open

A two-day training seminar for managers of Upper Peninsula stores in store operations, tax laws, liquor laws, etc., will begin in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington at 9 a. m. Tuesday. The program will be conducted by John C. Bennett, Lansing, director of stores operations, and Babcock.

Costas S. Tentas, chairman of the New Hampshire Liquor Control Commission and head of the National Alcoholic Board of Control Association, will be featured on the program.

Officials attending the meeting and program this week are:

Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor, Control Commission chairman; Commissioners Joseph L. Wisniewski of Detroit, Edward J. Wiest of Wyoming Louis G. Jarboe of Rogers City and Thomas A. Van Tiem of Lansing, and the following LCC officials from Lansing—George —. Burke Jr., business manager; John Q. Adamson, acting director of finance; Bennett; Joseph T. Keating, administrative officer; Roger J. Rosendale, director of licensing; Earl V. Shewell, executive assistant and manager of District II; David Savidge, director management systems; Harland K. Johnson, assistant director of finance; Wayne Dunlap, chief auditor, and Daniel Samohovetz, distribution.

Besides Babcock, Roland L. Collins, stores supervisor, Joseph C. Chaison, warehouse superintendent, and Robert P. Killips, U.P. auxiliary store manager will attend from the Escanaba office.

U.P. liquor store managers who will participate in the program Tuesday and Wednesday are:

Clarence B. Jacobs, Newberry; Morris J. Parker, Mackinac Island; John A. Fisher, Escanaba; Joseph LaBissonniere, Laurium; Gordon E. Brazil, Sault Ste. Marie; Francis R. Lesica, Ishpeming; Edward J. Ross, Hancock; Joseph N. LaFave, Iron Mountain; Ervin J. Beaudo, Menominee; Nestor Hendrickson, Ironwood; Charles C. Molle, Iron River; Joseph P. Harvey, Manistique; John Hintsala, Marquette; Reino F. Pennala, Ontonagon; Jack R. Fenlon, St. Ignace; William Wallin, L'Anse, and Robert M. Legault, Munising.

Death Claims Mrs. Halligan

Mrs. Mary Ethel Halligan, 84, of 318 Lake Shore Drive, died Sunday morning at St. Francis Hospital following an illness of several weeks.

She was the widow of Dr. Raymond H. Halligan and he died in November of 1955. Since his death Mrs. Halligan has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. William LeMire of Escanaba. She was a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Mrs. Halligan was born March 16, 1886 in Marcellus, Mich. and she had lived here since 1956.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Louis A. (Kathryn) Weil Jr. of Lansing and Mrs. William (Margaret) LeMire of Escanaba, seven grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 7 to 9 p.m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. Joseph's Church with the Rev. Fabian Gerstle officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

In Service

Pat J. Douck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll F. Douck, 1119 6th Ave. S., has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force. Sgt. Douck, an aircraft mechanic at Elmendorf AFB, Alaska, serves with a unit of the Military Airlift Command, which provides global airlift for U.S. military forces. He is a 1964 graduate of Holy Name High School and attended Bay de Noc Community College.

Residents Don't Fear Indians

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— White residents of the Bay Mills Subdivision on Lake Superior near here say they are not afraid they will be displaced by angry Chippewa Indians, who claim the land is theirs.

The Chippewas, who are also seeking the Iroquois Point Lighthouse and land surrounding it, claim the Bay Mills land was leased from them for 99 years on a lease which has now expired.

Abstract records at the Chippewa Abstract Co. in the Soo show that the Bay Mills land has been deeded to white men since 1851 and that the deed apparently originated from a government charter.

There is no record of any lease from the Chippewas.

Representatives of the U.S. Forest Service, which owns the Iroquois Point Light and the land around it in the Hiawatha National Forest, have promised to help the Indians obtain the land to build a youth center and museum.

'Honor America' Day Scheduled In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is, its sponsors say, going to be just a plain Fourth of July celebration, like in the old days, with fireworks, a speech, some prayers, some band music, some entertainment and a grand display of Old Glory.

Except that in 1970 America, especially in Washington, especially when it's designated "Honor America Day," there will be bigger fireworks, a most important speaker, more music and entertainment and more flags than Grandma ever saw on the town square. And more people.

Just the motive behind an Honor America Day is suspect in the quarters that have used the same arena—the area of Washington's proudest monuments—to proclaim their dissent, and so this particular Fourth of July celebration also is more controversial than most preceding it in the 194 years since America's birth.

No Political Speeches

But the Honor America Day committee made it plain the only speech will be by evangelist Billy Graham and none of the day will be political.

"Everybody included in this program is going to be interested in building up America to make people appreciate the great joy of being an American citizen," said J. Willard Marriott, chairman of the event, a restaurant-motel magnate and good friend of President Nixon.

Honor America Day's entertainment will be headlined by Bob Hope and the big-name show people.

The day will begin at a patriotic-religious service at the Lincoln Memorial with a speech by Graham, benedictions by ministers of different faiths, and a parade of flags to the Ellipse, the grassy area south of the White House.

Nixon Won't Attend

President Nixon is in San Clemente, Calif., and won't come back for Honor America Day. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's plans haven't been announced, but Marriott says he will not be a speaker.

In the afternoon there will be activities on the long mall between the Lincoln Memorial and the Capitol.

Police say the crowd estimates have ranged to a half million people and they are prepared for a peaceful crowd.

Picture Changes

In just one year the job prospects of a young college gradaute with a teaching degree have undergone a radical change.

No longer can a prospective teacher pick his place of employment at will. Superintendents and boards of education are getting plenty of applications for all available jobs. Some Upper Peninsula superintendents already have dozens of applications from hopeful English, math, science, home economics and physical education teachers, including many from natives and former residents of the area.

This is not to say that there are no openings for new teachers, but the young teacher who expected to pick a choice spot to start his career is likely to be disappointed. Jobs are not that easy to find. Nationally, although the supply of teachers has not caught up with the demand, that point is not far in the future.

* * *

Dr. John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction in Michigan, touched on the subject in a recent statement to the Michigan Association of Student Teaching:

"We have lived for a long time with the idea that anyone can be a teacher and that there is a job for every teacher produced."

But he pointed out that the nation expects a national surplus of three-quarters of a million teachers by 1975. "These circumstances will necessitate teachers becoming more skilled in what I call the ABC's of the 1970's — accountability, bargainability and comparability," Porter said.

In Porter's view, the concept of accountability calls for a revamping of thinking about the roles of educational personnel and educational institutions at all levels.

"It links student performance with teacher performance; it implies precise educational goals; it forecasts the measure of achievement.

"It means, in effect, that schools and colleges will be judged by how they perform, not by what they promise," he said.

Bargainability, Porter added, means that teachers must sharpen their skills in dealing with people — school administrators, parents or students — so that they can be as successful in providing the services that are needed and wanted as they wish to be in securing their own terms of employment.

Comparability, Porter said, deals with the fact that every child in Michigan is entitled to an educational opportunity as good as that of every child, regardless of where he lives or how much money his parents have.

* * *

In the past, school superintendents have had to go looking on college campuses to find teachers. Today, unemployed teachers are walking unanounced through superintendents' doors, seeking employment.

There are a number of reasons for the change in the teacher employment picture. Many teachers have been released from their contracts in some districts, due to cutbacks, half-day sessions, lack of millage support from taxpayers. An ever-increasing number of college students are being poured into the market each year, many with no marketable skills except teaching.

Many teacher layoffs have been blamed on the uncertain budget situations faced by boards of education because of the delay in action by the Legislature on the state aid bill. The state aid hangup, in fact, has led to the gloomy prediction that Michigan schools will not be able to open their doors in September.

It all adds up to an unexpectedly difficult task for college gradautes who are attempting to join the teaching fraternity.

Florence Miller Scott celebrated her 105th birthday at the Mackinac Medical Care Facility in St. Ignace. Mrs. Scott was born in Perryville, Ohio, June 23, 1865 — the year President Lincoln was assassinated. She moved to Cedarville in 1953. Recalling events of by-gone days, she said she well remembers the first airplane and the first car. "We all ran to see it (the first car)," she said. "We called it the buggy on wheels." Her eyesight has failed since she reached the century mark, but her health is good. She attributes her longevity to the use of lemon juice.

Iron Mountain Mayor Philip Rahoi and Kingsford Mayor Bruno Maule today urged residents of their cities to call the respective city halls if they have any reason to believe they were not counted in the 1970 census. The two cities along with several other Upper Peninsula municipalities have questioned preliminary census figures. Mayor Rahoi noted that the preliminary figure for Iron Mountain is about 8,800 persons, a loss of approximately 677 from 10 years ago. Maule pointed out that preliminary totals revealed Kingsford had only gained 126 resients during the past decade. He questioned this figure since 109 residents were added with the construction of Pine Manor, which leaves Kingsford with only 17 others since 1960.

Germans Too Efficient For Their Own Good?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

FRANKFORT—At first, listening to officials of the Bundesbank, the West German equivalent of the Federal Reserve, and the Commerzbank, which is third among the big publicly owned business banks, you think, like Bob Hope in Vietnam, that you have never left home.

The economic woes of West Germany sound so terribly familiar. Costs and prices here are on a steady upward climb.

The recent revaluation of the mark, combined with stiff wage increases, has trimmed the German lead in the export markets. The 11 per cent rise in what is paid out in both wages and salaries is double the increase in productivity.

In capital goods, the price inflation is 9 per cent; in consumer goods it is 5 per cent. The rise in the overall cost of living stands at 4 per cent for the year, though there has been a slight tendency recently toward price stability. The prediction is that building costs will mount by 16 per cent by 1971.

As for profits, it also seems to be the American story all over again. The yields of business were good in 1969. But profit margins are now under pressure, and the Comerzbank says that by next December the earnings of private enterprises will be feeling the effects of a "hefty squeeze." Profits will be down in spite of an increase in the volume of sales.

The building trades, as in the U. S., have been running on old contracts. And there has been a trend towards a moratorium on public projects. Both federal and local government projects are suffering because of a national decision to retrench.

* * *

When you dig below the surface, however, you learn that the West German problem differs from the U. S. problem in important ways. In certain respects West Germany is blessed beyond other nations. Willy Brandt's government has many worries, but it will not be voted out of office because of unemployment, which is negligible.

The labor shortage here is so spectacular that the demand for foreign workers, from all the countries of southern Europe, is still climbing. It will probably go from 1.7 million to 1.8 million by October. If they could find workers, German industrialists could put 860,000 extra people to work by the middle of next week.

The advocates of the "zero population" concept (two children per family) would cheer the tendency of modern Germans to have small families, but the economists don't exactly like the prospect that, by the middle of the 1970s, there will be fewer people of employment age. It will take considerable automation to keep the volume of German production on the upgrade—either that, or still more foreign workers will be needed.

* * *

With full employment a presumably long-term reality, one is tempted to scoff at the long faces the local bankers pull because wages are outdistancing productivity. Nobody seems to be suffering. But the very fact that there is some inflation creates a special fear in these parts.

Twice in a generation the Germans have been totally ruined because their money became worthless. It happened in 1923—and Adolf Hitler and the disasters of World War II were the ultimate result. It happened again because of the loss of World War II. Thus inflation has a meaning here that it has never had in the U. S., or even in countries like Brazil.

The trouble is that the Germans seem condemned by their own transcendent abilities to import inflation. They revalued their currency to make it less profitable for foreigners to buy in Germany and so contribute to the internal price rise. To some extent imports were encouraged to increase faster than exports.

Nevertheless, the export surplus for the first four months of 1970 stood at 4.1 billion marks (almost $1,000,000,000). There will likely be a favorable trade balance this year of 12 billion marks as compared to 16 billion the year before.

President Nixon, looking across the ocean, might very well say that he wished he had the German troubles. But if it takes unemployment to kill inflation—and who has succeeded in finding another way in this age of trade union strength?—the Germans are on the spot.

There is no prospect of recession through unemployment. And the employed workers don't want to see taxes eat away their wage increases.

Council Forum

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Council for Environmental Quality will hold a forum at Lansing July 8 on the problem of heat discharges from power plants into the Great Lakes. Loring Oeming, council chairman, said citizens are invited to express their concern. Oeming said discussions will be held later with power companies constructing facilities along the Great Lakes and state and federal regulatory agencies.

Letters To The Press

GUARD, WAR, GAP

I have been in Milwaukee since September attending business college. Since I have been here I have had the Escanaba Daily Press sent to me and have read some of the letters in the Press about the war, riots and others.

There has been a lot of talk since the killings of the Kent University students. A lot of this talk was geared to the National Guardsmen. Too many people said it was their fault. It seems that whenever there is trouble and our Guardsmen are called out, they get blamed for everything that happens. They are only doing their job. That job is a very big one; protecting the people. If those kids did not want trouble and if they did not want to get killed they should not have been there.

My brother is in the Michigan National Guard. While at summer camp, two years ago, he and all the other Michigan Units were called down to Detroit to one of the worse riots around this area. They had a pretty rough time while they were there. There again the Guards got blamed for something. Only because they were doing their job.

You cannot tell me that you would not protect yourself if you were in danger. Would you go into a crowd of angry people unarmed? Would you walk among them as they pushed you around? Say they throw stones and sticks at you. Would you not defend yourself? I am sure you would, just like our Guardsmen are doing. They are protecting the people as well as themselves. So the next time our guardsmen go out to stop a riot think of them as protecting the people of the United States of America!

About the Viet Nam situation, I feel that we have the right to be there. Let us just say that we pulled our troops out of there and every country that we have our troops in. Now, also, let us say that the Communists came in and took over all the countries. If that happens, we would become a very small country enclosed by a Communistic Fence. We would not be able to turn around. Nor would we be able to ask for help because there would not be any country free to help us.

Let us also say that we were a small country being invaded by Communistic forces. Would we want help from other countries? I am sure we would. How would we feel if all the other countries said "No, we do not want to get involved." What President Nixon is doing is good. . .

Everyone is complaining about the Generation Gap. I don't believe there is one, at least not as big as what everyone says. Sure older people and young people do not understand each other all the time but hasn't it always been like that?

Do not forget we have good young people and bad young people. We also have good grownups and bad grownups. So grownups, if you have kids that are bad take a darn good look at yourself. Are you one who swears in front of the children? Do you sit in a bar as soon as you get out of work? Do you ever take time out of your so called busy day to sit down and play with your children? Do you listen to them when they try to tell you something? Do you go to them if you might have something on your mind?

Young people will listen if you take time out of your day to listen to them. But do not forget, like adults, teens want to be their ownselves. They want to be able to make decisions on their own. Do not tell them what to do but be there to guide them.

HOUSEKEEPING

The world's largest cement plant at Alpena has had an acute dust problem since 1909. The citizens of Alpena have lived with and complained about excessive dust all these years. Now the owners of the plant, National Gypsum, after much study will spend up to $12 million for a filter system. It is said the proposed system will stop up to 90 per cent of this limestone and cement dust from floating in the breeze. The collected dust will be made into bricks.

The Abitibi fiber plant, also located at Alpena, will install a new system which will eliminate much of the odor of pulping. After all, most large corporations are owned by thousands of people (now all of whom are rich or even half rich by today's standards) and managed by qualified executives.

As far as all around pollution, fire traps, etc., there should be a law to have all homes inspected at least once a year. This, in turn, would prompt careless folks to clean up their homes more often. Careless housekeepers should also be fined, the fine to be raised with each repitition of the offense.

The bidding:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | Pass | 1 ♦ |
| Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass | 1 NT |

Opening lead — three of hearts.

You wouldn't think that such a simple hand could produce a spectacular result, but it just goes to show you never can tell when things will pop at the bridge table. The deal arose in the Italy-Argentina match in 1959.

Nothing much happened at the first table, where the Argentine South bid and made a notrump for 90 points.

But at the second table, with Italy North-South, the bidding went:

| West | North | East | South |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1 ♣ | Dble |
| Pass | 1 ♠ | Pass | Pass |
| 1 NT | Dble | | |

The Argentine West, deliberately playing with fire, was unwilling to sell out for one spade and ventured a notrump which got doubled. North led a low spade. South won with the jack and shifted to a low diamond.

North took West's queen with the ace and returned the ten. South overtook with the jack, cashed two more diamonds, then led the ace and another spade to produce this position:

North
♠ 9
♥ 8
♣ Q 8 7 3

West
♥ K J 7 3
♣ J 6

East
♥ A Q 9 5
♣ K 9

South
♥ 10 6 2
♣ A 10 5

When North cashed the nine of spades, dummy and South each discarding a heart, the Argentine declarer elected to part with a club. This discard proved very expensive when North led the queen of clubs, covered by the king and ace.

The defense then cashed three more clubs and the outcome was that West went down six—1,100 points!

Ann Landers

Father's New Job Has Daughter Upset

Dear Ann Landers: Two weeks ago my husband was offered a beautiful promotion. It means we will have to move from Louisville to Omaha by September 1. We love Louisville, but how well I remember that we hated to leave St. Louis to move here. And we loved Evansville before that. It's been the story of my life.

Our 13-year-old daugnter hasn't stopped crying since her father told her about the upcoming transfer. Joyce hasn't eaten enough to keep a bird alive. She is begging us to let her live with her best friend's family for one year — until she is ready to enter high school. Then she will join us in Omaha.

Joyce has an 11-year-old sister, Molly, who is looking forward to the move, although she has many friends here. Molly is an "A" student, which Joyce is not.

I don't know how much longer I can put up with Joyce's mooning around the house and crying. Her best friend's mother has telephoned me to say Joyce is welcome to stay with them for a year and she hopes I say yes because her daughter has been crying, too. Please advise. — Mrs. Van Oriented

Dear Mrs.: Someone should tell those two girls to turn off the waterworks. They are wasting the natural resources. I hope you won't cave in and let Joyce have her way. A 13-year-old gril belongs with her family. And Omaha isn't exactly Outer Mongolia. There are good schools and friendly people there.

The challenge of making a place for herself in a new city will be a healthy experience for Joyce. Don't allow her to evade it.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: You are right most of the time but when you are wrong — oh, baby, are you wrong! I refer to your comment to "Can't Get A Word In Edgewise." You said a person faced with a non-stop talked should end a senseless conversation by frankly saying it's time to stop. Obviously you have never lived in Ottawa, Canada.

All the women up here are born talking and they don't let up until a physician declares them officially dead. They learn from their mothers (who learned from THEIR mothers) the skillful art of tacking "so" or "and" or "but" to the end of every sentence. This enables them to hold the floor indefinitely.

I have listened to these nonstop talkers all my life and I can tell you there is no polite way to get in your say. I learned long ago, if you live in Ottawa, manners be damned. The only way to fight these females is to break in when they come up for air. Even then you can't wait forever because in addition to having superb voices they have fantastic lungs and can go without breathing for incredible periods of time. (They could all swim the English Channel.)

So please, Ann Landers, when you hand out advice, be aware that the advice that works in Chicago might not work in Ottawa. The yakkity yak of the women up here is indeed a difficulty which I'm sure is not found elsewhere on the North American continent. What we need is special help, not support for the loquacious females who will be thrilled when they see that Ann Landers says it is impolite to interrupt. — Capital O

Dear Cap.: I have known plenty of women who have never left the U. S. who are incessant talkers, so please get it out of your head that Ottawa has a corner on this market because it just isn't true nor is it fair to make a regional problem out of what is in reality a human weakness and I thank you for writing.

City Swelters After Showers

Although the forecast called for variable cloudiness and the chance of occasional showers or thundershowers, temperatures in the Escanaba area this morning soared into the high 80's, with all indications that they would go even higher.

At 10 a.m. this morning, the temperature in Escanaba was 86 degrees, giving the possibility that the city may be in for its hottest day of the summer and making the beach a rather crowded place to be.

Sunday's rain was the first the Escanaba area has received in over two weeks and amounted to .11 inch. There was a 30 per cent chance of precipitation today, 20 per cent tonight and 10 per cent Tuesday.

The highest temperature record at the U.S. Weather Bureau on Sunday was 66 degrees and the lowest temperature overnight was 60 degrees .

Indications are that Tuesday would be as warm or warmer than today, as the forecast calls for temperatures to be around the 85 degree mark.

The forecast for tonight calls for fair to partly cloudy conditions with a low expected in the mid 50 to 60 degree range.

Senate Nears Vote On Future War Operations

R-Md., said in a Senate speech prepared for today he had suggested to the White House 10 days ago creation of "fire-free" no-combat zones in South Vietnam as a peace initiative. He told newsmen he had received no response but thought such an idea was under consideration.

—In another speech prepared for today, Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., suggested Borneo might be a good place to send pro-U.S. South Vietnamese in the event of a Communist takeover of their country.

City, Electricians Wage Pact Now Up To Council

Ratification of a wage contract between the city and its electrical union is scheduled at a meeting of the City Council to be held at the Civic Center at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The wage contract is similar to that approved between the electrical union and the U.P. Power Co.

Other business to come before the Council:

Acceptance of an offer in the amount of $1,126,000 of a state grant for the sewage works project; the vacating of N. 25th St. in the shopping center development area; and report on bids for an aerial lift truck for the electrical department.

Petition to pave one block of 16th Ave. N. from Stephenson Ave. to N. 18th St.; and consideration of a change in the parking meter ordinance to provide for parking meter stickers for commercial vehicles.

Special Clothing Meetings Planned

Special meetings on clothing construction have been scheduled for 1 p.m., Thursday, July 2 at the Charles Rassmussen home in Garden and 1 p.m. Wednesday, July 8, at the Fayette town hall. The meetings are open to all interested women and older 4-H members.

Clothing construction techniques to be included are understanding information given with a pattern, sewing knit fabrics, hem and seam finishes, a new method for putting in a zipper, a new snap closure and a few other details. The group will also look at a few simple-to-make garments that will include slacks, topper, dress and coverall apron.

Foods, materials and recipes will also be distributed.

For any further information, call Mrs. Bernard Grenier in Garden or Mrs. Garth Briggs in Fayette. Ingrid Tervonen, Extension Home Economist, will be the instructor.

FIREMEN FIGHT FIRE which erupted Thursday when three trucks collided on the Delaware Turnpike several miles south of Wilmington, Del. Collision occurred when two tractor trucks, one loaded with cigarettes, and a third truck carrying a racing car collided. Police said two persons were killed in the fiery crash. ## Tax To Expire, Checks To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The initial installment of a $6.5-billion boost in the public's spending power shows up in workers' paychecks starting next Wednesday when the 5 per cent income surcharge expires and personal income tax exemptions rise.

While acknowledging the buildup of spendable income won't help anti-inflation efforts, administration economists said privately it may be a needed boost for the economy.

"The economy is soft and personal income has begun to decline," one official said.

"Dropping the surtax may be just about the right thing to do at the right time, though it wasn't exactly planned that way."

A 10 per cent surtax on personal and corporate incomes was imposed in April 1969, effective for all that year. It added about $9 billion to tax collections for 1969.

The rate was cut to 5 per cent last January under the new tax reform act and the surtax itself set for expiration as of midnight June 30.

On the basis of various federal fiscal moves, purchasing power worth $18.5 billion a year will have been handed consumers and businesses as of July 1—a boost in Social Security payments, a government pay raise, the phaseout of the surtax and the start of tax reductions.

In the same period, government spending has shifted from surplus to deficit. While tightening credit even more, it is not necessarily inflationary, the administration insists, because there is ample slack in the private economy to absorb the flow of federal dollars.

Besides the elimination of the surtax, July brings the first major benefits of the tax relief voted by Congress in December.

This includes an increase in the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $650 a person. In subsequent years it will rise to $750. The change will be built into the withholding schedules, along with a cut in the tax liabilities of lower-income families through a new low-income allowance.

These gains in immediately disposable income should offset the weakness of personal income, which turned downward in May for the first time since 1965.

Assistant Chief Late For Wedding, Nabbed Speeding

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Deputy Kalamazoo Police Chief Orville Ragan was best man at his boss' wedding, but he arrived a little late because of a speeding ticket.

After being told he was driving 41 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone, Ragan talked the traffic patrolman into letting him continue to the wedding and delivering the ticket later at the reception Saturday for just-married Chief of Police Dean Fox.

Elks Club And Shops Entered

Escanaba police are investigating several burglaries and attempted burglaries in the city over the weekend.

The Elks Club in the 500 block of Ludington St., was broken into Sunday night and a quantity of beer is missing. Entry was made through a rear door.

Buckbee Labels manufacturing plant at 2300 20th Ave. N., was entered and vending machines were broken open. Money, candy and cigarettes were taken.

Erickson's Warhouse at 1325 Sheridan Rd. was entered by breaking a lock on the front door, but nothing appeared to have been taken.

There was an attempted breaking and entering at the Palm Bar, 203 N. 18th St.

The Mayflower restaurant rear storage room was broken into sometime over the weekend and eight cases of empty pop bottles are missing.

Escanaba police are also investigating the theft of an automobile owned by John Pratt of 809 N. 18th St., which was found abandoned near the Pine Ridge School on Sunday.

Firm Sold

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission has approved the sale of the Glenn Telephone Co. to the New Glenn Telephone Co., a subsidiary of Mid-Continent Telephone Co. of Hudson, Ohio. The company serves some 350 customers in southwestern Allegan County.

Violence Probers Run Out Of Money

LANSING — Members of the State Board of Education delayed their probe into high school violence to get their $60 a day allowance under the new budget for 1970-71.

Financial spokesmen said the board has run out of money in the account to pay the members.

The new board budget is snagged in a political struggle in the House but after July 1 the members will be able to draw on the account at the current rate of spending until it is ready.

Four of the next seven meetings of the board will take up the problem of disturbances in the high schools, but will not discuss violence on the college and university campuses .

Dr. John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction, said the meetings in Marquette, Cadillac, Pontiac and Kalamazoo would get into the student problems.

Other meetings will be in Lansing (3) and will be limited to regular board business. Members earlier stated they wanted to hold outstate meetings to familiarize the public with its operations.

Porter said the board hopes to set up guidelines for school administrators in the event of student disturbances and determine what rights of procedure must be guaranteed to the students.

At each of the meetings on student problems, the board will have experts from the colleges and universities, the state Civil Rights Commission and the Michigan State Police.

The student violence meetings will be scheduled for Cadillac, July 21-22; Marquette, Aug. 11-12, Pontiac, Sept. 22-23 and Kalamazoo, Oct. 13-14. Regular meetings will be held in Lansing July 14-15, Aug. 25-26 and Oct. 27-28.

The meetings on student problems was prompted by disturbances in a high school in Oak Park.

Police Capture Prison Inmates

L'ANSE—Two inmates who fled Camp Baraga June 23 were back in custody Saturday, after being apprehended Friday noon by Michigan State Police from the L'Anse post.

Truman H. Lay, 43, and Herbert R. Grenke, 32, offered no resistance when they were picked up on the King Lake Road in Baraga County's Covington Township, state police reported.

The trusties, who had been in the Upper Peninsula only a matter of days, after being transferred from downstate facilities of the Michigan Corrections Department, were reported missing Tuesday night from Camp Baraga.

Lay was sentenced from Kent County April 8, 1970, to a 2-5 year term for larceny by conversion; Grenke from Macomb County Feb. 23, 1969, to a 5-10 year term for breaking and entering.

Both were to be brought to Marquette State Prison and will face breaking prison charges.

'Fatigue, Overindulgence' Plaguing U.S. Economy

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — At midyear the economy of the United States is suffering from symptoms of fatigue and overindulgence, and while dutiful assurances from Washington might tranquilize fears they cannot smother facts.

Unemployment is growing more than was expected, sales are sluggish, production is off and prices are rising steeply. Figuratively speaking, the red lights are flashing and the dials on statistical indicators are pointing down.

By this time, it is generally should have been turning up. But the failure of expectations to be realized has become chronic and is turning some economists into pessimists.

The administration, however, maintains that its game plan is about as plotted, and that while the layman may not be able to detect the changing conditions, the more sophisticated analysts can see an upturn coming very soon.

Dial Needs Turning Up

It isn't only statistics that disturb the disbelievers and suggest to them that the problems of the economy may be more than temporary. Some ominous signs have appeared.

The Penn Central Railroad bankruptcy reorganization seems to be the greatest of them. Unable to meet its bills, the big railroad was forced to file for reorganization under Section 77 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

Other companies, some of them associated with the glamor-growth syndrome of the late 1960s, have met similar fates. And more companies, laden with debts, are trying to work without sufficient immediate cash.

Investors are so suspicious that companies may be having liquidity crises that trading in the stock of Chrysler Corp. was delayed a good part of one day by an influx of sell orders. Chrysler issued a statement saying it was liquid, that it had assets readily convertible to cash. But the need to issue such a statement was considered noteworthy.

Appeal Needed

Lockheed Aircraft has had to appeal to the federal government for payment on some contracts in which its money is tied up. And two other aerospace companies, McDonnell Douglas and North American Rockwell, have had to suspend supplemental unemployment benefits to laid-off workers.

On Wall Street, the financial condition of many brokerage houses is dismal, lending urgency to plans for a federally backed insurance program to protect investors from the insolvency of their brokers.

Internationally, the United States is still running a deficit in its payments to other nations, but this problem has been forced to the rear, temporarily, by domestic problems. It could, however, mean more pressure on the dollar later in the year.

Statistics Don't Tell Story

Statistics don't tell the full story either of the decay in the physical plant of America: the local road and sewer jobs postponed for lack of funds or because of high interest rates; the rotten housing that isn't being replaced because the mortgage markets have been depleted of funds.

The problems are not new. They have developed for years and are now serious illnesses because medication wasn't used in time. There were too many other things to do, among them, fighting a war.

The Nixon administration sees a key to all these problems in attacking inflation. It is dedicated to the proposition that the ills troubling the economy have a common source in that financial malady.

Questions Arise

At midyear the big economic question is this: Is the administration's anti-inflation program working? Will results be forthcoming from its use of fiscal and monetary policy?

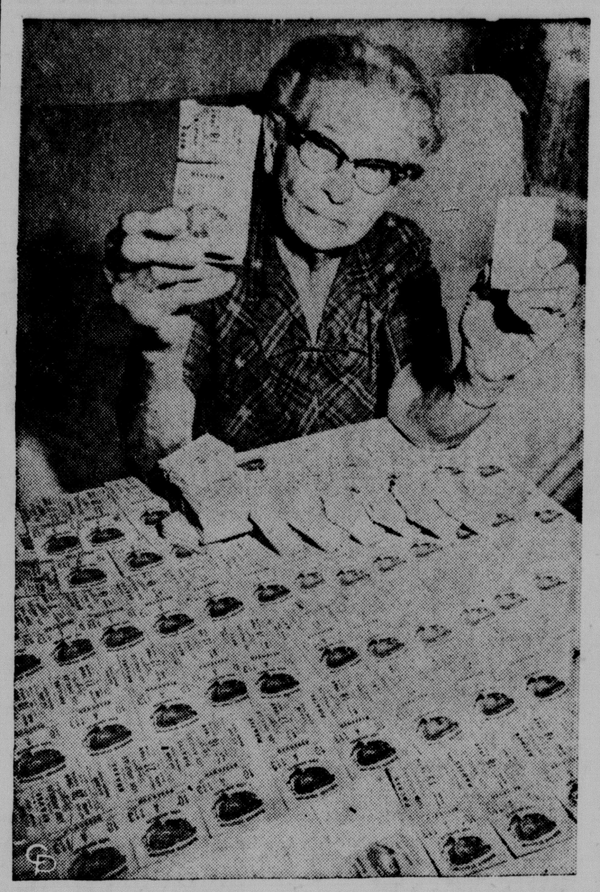

Or, somehow, will the forces of inflation continue to defy the measures so far used: cutbacks in federal spending and, until recently, a tight clamp on the artery through which money flows from the Federal Reserve?

Pressure has been rising for the administration to step into the marketplace with restraints —even a freeze—on wages, prices and some forms of credit.

The conflicting opinions are scheduled to be highly publicized during the next few weeks. On July 8 the Joint Economic Committee of Congress will begin hearings on just these questions.

Side Slit Skirts Highlight Fall Fashion Showing

NEW YORK — (AP) — "They're clothes. The important thing this season is to smile. Nobody's smiling," says designer Stan Herman.

Herman, who designs for Mr. Mort, introduced his fall collection Thursday at the American Designer Showings, Fall 1970.

In spite of the fact many people find the somber-colored midis depressing, there were bright moments at Thursday's showings.

For one thing, Victor Joris for Cuddlecoat presented some of the highest side slit skirts of the season.

Herman said he believes in long skirts "with a bravado and appeal far surpassing the mini," read the commentary. It would definitely take bravado to wear some of the skirts, believe it or not.

Aside from the quiet colors in his midi collection, Joris showed a cheerful tomato-red pants ensemble.

"I think we're going to more color next spring," said Stan Herman. "I don't want to see the people depressed."

His colors were often dark reds, camels and greys.

His "knee knockers" are two inches below the knee. His coats are midcalf. His standard lengths are four inches longer than last year.

However, he says, "I don't think the short skirt is completely dead. It may come back in new shapes and sizes."

Designer Lynn Stuart of Mister Pants said her short skirts didn't sell for fall, but longer lengths sold well.

"If a woman is not ready for the midi, she'll wear pants before she'll wear a short skirt," she says.

State Champs Win Gladstone Tourney

CLASS C-D FINAL
Petoskey 3, Trenary 0
Semi-Final Games
Trenary 6, Jolly Roger 1
Trenary 3, Gladstone 1
Petoskey 3, Trenary 0

By DON HOWES

GLADSTONE — Petoskey, the defending 1969 State Class D Champions, behind top notch pitching performances, emerged victorious in the First Annual Gladstone Invitational Softball Tournament held here over the weekend.

Petoskey, who never lost a game in the double elimination tournament, squeezed by a good Trenary nine by identical scores of 3-0 in the final and semi-final games. Ted Potter, the No. 1 hurler for Petoskey, blanked Trenary in both games by tossing a one hitter in the semi-final and a two hitter in the final game.

Sonny Pasanen, Trenary's hard working pitcher, who pitched three games on Sunday and hurled five games overall in the tournament, kept Trenary in contention by winning four and losing only to Petoskey in the semi-final round.

Championship Tilt

In the final game, Petoskey scored all three runs in the first two innings on only two hits off Marv Parrot, Trenary's back up pitcher and held off two rallies by Trenary to win the championship.

Don Kelly and Frank Mayle paced Petoskey to victory in the final game with two hits apiece while Dennis Ylinen and Jerry Mytinen had the only two hits for Trenary.

Trenary gained the finals, by stopping Jolly Roger and Gladstone in the semi-finals. Behind the three hit pitching of Pasanen and a big third inning outburst in which Pasanen hit a three-run homer, Trenary eliminated Jolly Roger 6-1.

Jolly Roger gained the semi-finals the hard way, coming out of the losers bracket after losing to Trenary 5-4 on Saturday. They then registered a 5-1 victory over Perronville behind the four hit pitching of Tom Bourdeau and edged Powers 2-0, as Bourdeau hurled another four-hitter. Mike King played the big role in the Powers game, as he hit a double after Dennis Lancour walked and Bob Bourdeau singled in the fifth inning to drive in both runs.

Gladstone Come-Back

Gladstone gained the semi-finals the hard way also. It lost to the Paper Mill 11-10 on Saturday, defeated the Escanaba Independents 8-6 in the first game Sunday and then gained revenge on the Paper Mill by blanking the Papermakers 2-0 before losing to Trenary.

Cliff Young, Gladstone's ace pitcher, hurled all five games and after the first three games opposing batters had a hard time getting hits off of him, as he shut the Paper Mill out on two hits and gave up only three hits in a losing effort against Trenary.

The highlight of the 24 game tournament was a sparkling perfect pitching performance by Petoskey's Jack Ingalls, who is the Gladstone basketball coach, against Michigan Hotel. Ingalls retired the first 15 batters in a row in the five inning affair in which Petoskey won 16-0.

In other tournament games Paper Mill defeated Michigan Hotel 5-1 before losing to Trenary 7-1; Powers upended Tri-County rival Bark River 10-3; the Escanaba Independents topped Goebels 7-4 and 8-1; Perronville surprised Goebel 9-6; Bark River edged Rapid River 5-4 and Powers won a slugfest from Schaffer 14-10 to round out the tournament action.

MSU Senior Wins State PGA Golf Crown

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — When he showed up for the start of Michigan's 59th Amateur Golf Championship, Denny Vass reported, he felt good and "might be able to go all the way." He did.

Vass, 21, a senior next year at Michigan State, defeated Rod Sumpter of Grand Blanc, on the last putt on the 18th hole Saturday for a 1-up victory.

In previous competition in the Michigan Amateur, Vass failed to qualify twice and two years ago was defeated in the first round. Last year he did not enter.

Last year, Sumpter was low amateur in the Michigan Open, finishing sixth. This year, he won the Michigan medal play championship at Grosse Ile.

NHL To Expand To Four More Teams By 1973

FREDERICTON, N.B. (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, predicts the NHL will add four more teams, probably by 1973.

He said in an interview following the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame Dinner Saturday that he expects Atlanta, Kansas City, Dallas and Seattle to be in the league by 1973.

Campbell said this probably mean the NHL would operate in three divisions with six teams in each league, instead of the present two divisions.

He predicted there would eventually be a European division with Russia, Sweden and Czechoslovakia taking part. The European division would never become a member of the NHL because the players are government employes, he said.

Cubs, Chiefs Post Waubung Victories

Sunday's Results
Escanaba 10, Schaffer 3
Manistique 2, Powers 1

The Escanaba Cubs behind the two hit pitching of Tom Kangas won their fifth straight game in Waubung League Action Sunday by defeating Schaffer 10-3, while Manistique moved into second place in the league standings with a narrow 2-1 victory over Powers.

The Cubs took an early 5-0 lead in the second inning against Schaffer when Kangas singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Bill Baum followed with a single to score Kangas and Jeff Sheedlo followed Baum with another single. Three errors and a sacrifice fly put the Cubs on top for the remainder of the game.

Schaffer came within three runs of the Cubs in the fifth when Terry Bittner and Terry Schaaneman singled and both scored on a double by Ed Pach.

Escanaba clinched its victory in the eighth inning when they scored four more runs. The key hits in the inning were by Bob McGinn, Joe Joran and Brian Larson, who all had singles in the inning.

Kangas, in picking up the mound victory, struck out 145 and walked two. Mark Kleiman took the defeat for Schaffer with Dale Klein finishing the game in relief. Joran paced the Cubs to victory with two hits while Scheeneman led Schaffer with three hits.

At Manistique, the Chiefs, behind the three-hit pitching of Russ King, who battled Power's Tim McClure in a pitching duel all afternoon, scored both of their runs in the fifth inning to win its third game of the season.

Powers scored their only run and all three of its hits in the first inning before King found the range and shut them out the remaining eight innings. Tim Moran had the key hit for Powers, a single to score the only run for his teammates.

Kim Hartman hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning with the bases loaded to score the Chiefs' first run and on the throw in from the Powers centerfielder the ball hit the base runner and the final run scored.

King, in picking up the mound victory, had 14 strikeouts while McClure, who gave up only four hits, fanned nine batters.

Tigers Concerned About Poor Playing Conditions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers -- Cesar Gutierrez in particular--were pretty concerned about the playing condition of the Tiger Stadium infield today as they awaited Denny McLain's return to the majors Wednesday.

Gutierrez was felled by a rifle like drive Sunday while the Tigers were splitting a doubleheader with the free swinging Cleveland Indians. The Indians romped away with the opener 8-2 while Detroit took the second game 5-1.

The Indians, paced by shortstop Jack Heideman with five consecutive singles in the opener, racked up 16 hits in that swingfest before Mike Kilkenny slowed them down to a walk in the nightcap in which he gave up only six hits.

The drive which felled Gutierrez came in the seventh inning of the second game as Chuck Hinton hit a sizzling grounder which bounced up and hit "Coco" just over the right ear and bounced into short left field.

Gutierrez was felled by the drive but staggered to his feet after first aid treatment.

"I turned my head at the last possible moment and that is all that saved me from a possible serious injury," Gutierrez explained after the game.

Tiger general manager Jim Campbell expressed concern about the way the ball was hopping on the unusually hard surface of the infield. "Mayo Smith (Tiger manager) told me quite a few of the players were upset about the way the ball was bouncing and the Indians said pretty much the same thing," Campbell said.

He summoned Jess Walls, Tiger stadium manager to an informal meeting after the doubleheader to see what could be done to make the field more playable.

"Maybe we could put a crew out there and give the field a real good, deep raking, opening up some air holes so the grass could breathe easier," Campbell said.

Wall said that a work detail had been assigned right after the conclusion of the second game to give the infield a real through overnight soaking.

Walls expressed some doubts that the raking would be very effective but he agreed the stadium turf is causing infield balls to take some weird hops, with balls which normally would be easy outs, turning into funny bouncing, tough chances for infielders.

The Indians found base hits fairly easy to come by in the opener Sunday as they jumped on Tiger starter Earl Wilson in a two run, three hit first inning to get a lead they never relinquished. The win went to Indians lefthander Sam McDowell (11-4) who outlasted Wilson (4-5) and three Tiger relief pitchers.

"I knew we were in trouble when the Indians got those two quick runs for McDowell is the kind of a pitcher who is tough in a situation like that," said Campbell.

The Tigers came up with some strong pitching on their own in the nightcap as Mike Kilkenny, who had failed to last an inning in his last two starts, cooled off the Indian batters with six safeties.

He had to work all the way as Mike Paul, still looking for his first win after suffering four losses, protected a 1-0 Cleveland lead until the roof fell in on him during a five run, six hit Tiger sixth inning.

Gutierrez opened that inning with a single and Dick McAuliffe walked. Indian manager Alvin Dark reached into his bullpen in a hurry for relief pitcher Fred Lasher, a former Tiger. Mickey Stanley greeted him with a double down the right field line, scoring Gutierrez and McAuliffe. Lasher got Willie Horton on an infield out and Dark then switched pitchers again, bringing in Dick Ellsworth.

That move backfired as Jim Northrup singled and Norm Cash did likewise. Dean Chance was rushed in as the fourth Indian pitcher of the inning and pinchhitter Gates Brown greeted him with a single, scoring Northrup. Mike Kilkenny scored Cash on a sacrifice fly to wrap up the Tigers outburst. Up to that inning, they had managed only two hits off Paul.

Dark told newsmen in the postgame interview that Paul had turned in five strong innings in each of his last two appearances but that he then had weakened in a hurry. "I figured we had to get him out of there in a hurry once he showed signs of faltering," Dark said.

Tiger home run bats were stilled in the doubleheader but the Indians managed to pick up one as hard hitting Roy Foster collected No. 9 off relief pitcher John Hiller in the opener.

Wild Races Top Speedway Card

For the second consecutive week, racing fans witnessed a wild racing card at the Escanaba Speedway, that saw Canadian Ed Powley capture the modified feature, and Wennel Tourangeau of Bark River the sportsman feature.

The action was witnessed by the largest crowd of the year, 2,698, and the fans also saw the largest number of cars this year, 40 sportsmen and 33 modified. The track was in excellent condition and the races were the fastest they've been this year.

A wild 20 lap feature highlighted the action that saw many of the top drivers drop out of the race for various reasons. Bob Iverson and Jerry Richer went out early with car trouble. Gary Randall lost a front wheel, Ray Gardner caught on fire, and Don Benoit hit the concrete wall. No injuries were reported in any of the mishaps.

After two restarts in the first six laps, the track was cleared and Powley got down to serious work. After seven laps the veteran driver moved into the lead and held off the challenges of the remaining drivers. Herb Iverson of Hyde and Allen Yelle of Sands moved up to challenge late in the race, but Powley had too big of a lead and they couldn't catch him, and they finished second and third respectively.

In the semi-feature Bob Derouin of Escanaba led for all 15 laps and won easily over his only challenger Dave Seabrook of the Soo.

The second heat saw Ed Provo of Escanaba, and Gary Randall of Escanaba battle bumper to bumper for all 12 laps, and when the checkered flag dropped Provo was just ahead for the victory.

The second heat featured two crack-ups before the race could get underway. The second crack-up was the most serious as Tom Chailler of Wells and Dave Christiansen of Escanaba collided in front of the grandstand, sending both into the concrete wall. The drivers were uninjured, but their cars were severly damaged.

Bob Iverson of Hyde captured the third heat easily winning over Powley and Jerry Richer of Schaffer, while Seabrook egded out Derouin and Duke Gardiner of Escanaba in the first heat.

Gene Coleman of Menominee took top time for the fourth time this year with a clocking of 21.33.

Tourangeau captured the sportsmen feature, but the number one ranked driver had to work hard and drive a near perfect race to beat Joe Haferkorn of Norway. The two battled from lap eight to the finish, with Tourangeau leading for the last 12 laps. Carl Chaltry of Marinette was a distant third.

Another close race saw Jim Hansen of Norway edging out Paul Smith of Sands for honors in the semi-feature. The two battled side-by-side for 15 laps, with Hansen just ahead at the finish. John O'Polka of Hermansville picked up third place money.

Heat winners saw Pat Temple of Norway edge Haferkorn out on the last lap, as a lapped car slowed Haferkorn down, in the third heat. O'Polka picked up his first win, winning the second heat, while Ken Viau of Escanaba won for the first time in the first heat.

Billy Peterson of Escanaba won sportsmen time trials for the fourth time this year in a clocking of 23:30.

McLain Slated To Return Wednesday; Faces Yanks

DETROIT (AP) — In one of the most heralded regular season games in recent baseball history, suspended pitcher Denny McLain is scheduled to return Wednesday night and go right to work pitching against the New York Yankees at Tiger Stadium.

And to many Tiger fans that hopefully means a salvation for Detroit's American League pennant hopes.

Sellout Expected

There is certain to be a 53,000 spectator sellout, with many of the fans hoping Denny bounces back from his half-season layoff and probably many others hoping he falls flat on his face because of "the black mark he made on baseball."

The 26-year-old righthander was suspended April 1 by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn through June 30 for what Kuhn said was McLain's association with illegal bookmaking in Flint, Mich. in 1967.

The day of the announcement Smith said McLain would start against the Yankees July 1 if the pitcher felt he was ready. Denny said then he'd be ready and hasn't changed his tune.

"I've been in touch with Mayo throughout this thing and it is set. I will pitch July 1," he said.

"I wouldn't be walking out there if I didn't think I could win," said the sometimes brash hurler. "I expect to win."

"I've never taken the mound unless I thought I could win," he added, speaking in a telephone interview from his home in Lakeland, Fla.

Ready To Go

"I think I'm strong enough to pitch nine innings. Of course, New York will have something to say about that too."

The Tigers have been struggling most of the year, spending much of the time in third place in the East Division anywhere from seven to 10 games behind front-running Baltimore.

Primarily it has been the pitching that has been the problem. Detroit hitters have been fairly consistent but starting pitchers and the bullpen have faltered. For nearly a month the bullpen was rarely able to hold a lead. And the starters, particularly Mickey Lolich who was expected to hold the fort until McLain's return, have not come through.

Can McLain possibly be ready? He has been working out in Lakeland since Detroit's spring training there, but how much good practice can a major league pitcher get throwing to high school batters?

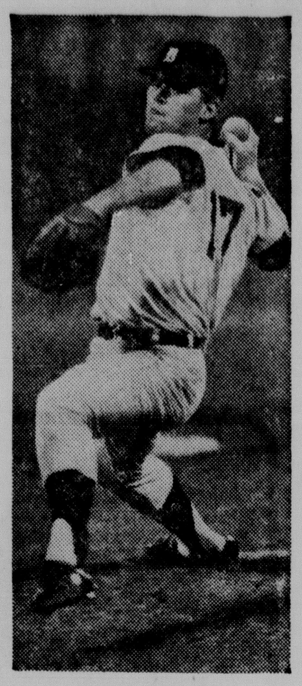

"All I can say about that is 'I've faced them before,' " he said confidently, referring to big league hitting.

Remarkable Record

No one can say that the 5-foot-11, 185-pounder, isn't a superstar already at 26. Since he broke in with the Tigers in 1964 Dennis Dale McLain has posted 114 victories against 57 losses for a remarkable .667 percentage.

During baseball's 100th anniversary year in 1969, McLain was voted by Detroit fans as the Greatest All-Time Tiger Right-handed Pitcher.

McLain — who won the Cy Young award as the best pitcher in the American League in 1968 and tied for it last year — had signed for an estimated $90,000 for the current season. But Kuhn's suspension cut the salary in half.

Denny McLain

His first year as a regular was 1965 when he had a 16-6 record for the fourth-place Tigers.

The next year Detroit was third and McLain was a 20-game winner, losing 14.

The following season the Tigers tied for second, missing a chance for the pennant on the last day of the season. It was that September McLain suffered a toe injury that could have been the pennant-costing blow. He finished 17-16.

Pennant Winners

In 1968 Detroit won its first pennant in 23 years behind McLain's 31-6 record and 1.96 earned-run average. It was a year in which he continually took cortisone shots to relieve inflammation in his muscular right shoulder, a problem that has bothered him off and on since.

McLain showed everyone the 31-victory season was not just luck by coming back last year with a 24-9 record in the Tigers' second place divisional finish.

He said Detroit can win the pennant "if we just get some pitching. I think we just have to get hot."

McLain, who is from Chicago and was originally in the White Sox farm system, said he couldn't predict how many games he will win this season.

"It's tough for me to set goals since I'll only have 20 - some starts," he said. "But my one goal is to win the pennant."

Smith said recently: "We certainly are looking forward to McLain's return. He may not win right off but when he gets in the groove he usually pitches complete games and that definitely will perk up our staff."

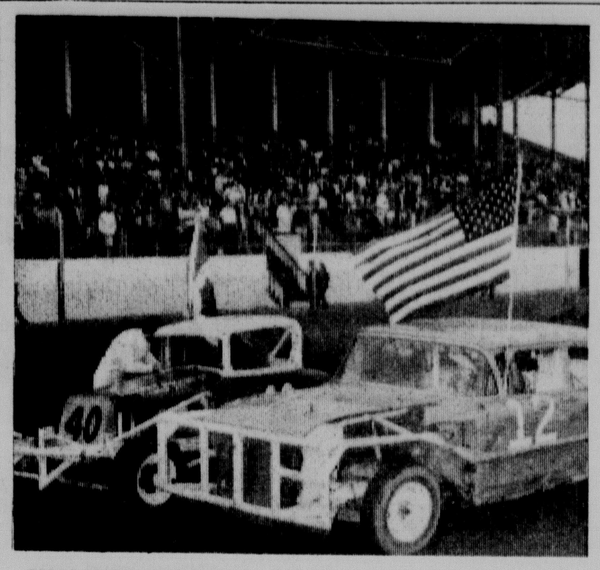

Mayo also has said, "I don't know how many starts he'll get, maybe 25."

Jim Hanley, formerly in the Tiger organization, has been catching for McLain. Dennny has been prevented by Kuhn's edict from working out with any pro or semi-pro teams.

McLain said he and his wife, Sharyn, who is the daughter of baseball Hall of Famer Lou Boudreau, have found a place to live in the Detroit area for this season. But his permanent home is in Lakeland.

"I feel great physically and am looking forward to July 1," he said, adding that "my control is good."

"I just want to get July 1 over with," McLain emphasized.

Bruce Devlin Wins Cleveland Open Title

CLEVELAND (AP) — He's got to be the happiest loser of the year.

"I'm still in a cloud," Steve Eichstaedt said Sunday after his upset bid failed and he settled for second place in the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

"I'll probably have to pinch myself tomorrow when I wake up to make sure it isn't all a dream."

The tall, rail-thin young veteran of combat duty in Vietnam had to be the biggest longshot in the field—many of the touring pros didn't know him, hadn't heard of him—when they started play.

He hadn't made a dime in three previous tournaments this year. But, at one point down the stretch of the leg-wearying 36-hole windup, he holed out a six-iron shot for an eagle and took the lead.

But the 24-year-old couldn't keep up with Bruce Devlin's scorching pace and finished second, shooting a final 68 for 272, four strokes back of Devlin.

The Australian tour regular opened with a 66, then flashed in with a six-under-par 64, matching the course record for the hilly, 6,661 yard, Aurora Country Club course.

That gave him a 72-hole total of 268, 12 under par, for the $30,000 first prize and his second championship of the year. He won the Bob Hope Desert Classic early in the season and has earned over $87,000 for his best year since joining the tour in 1962.

Bob Murphy, 68, and Larry Hinson, 66, tied for third at 273, with Lee Trevino, Dave Hill and Lou Graham locked at 274. Hill had a 69, Trevino a 67 and Graham a 66. Tom Weiskopf was alone at 275.

Pirates Leave Forbes Field; Tie For NL East Lead

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates closed the curtain on Forbes Field Sunday and it is rapidly dropping on the Chicago Cubs as well.

The Pirates celebrated the final day of baseball in their park's 61-year history by sweeping Chicago 3-2 and 4-1, tagging the Cubs with a 10-game losing streak.

Cubs Third

It was the third doubleheader which Chicago has lost in eight days and the sagging Cubs tumbled into third place in the National League's East Division 2½ games behind New York. What's worse is that the Cubs are almost as close to fifth place Philadelphia as they are to the first place Mets.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, Montreal tripped New York 3-2, St. Louis split a doubleheader with Philadelphia, winning 5-4 before losing 8-3 in 10 innings, San Francisco took two from Atlanta 6-4 in 10 innings and 4-3, Los Angeles blanked San Diego 2-0 and Cincinnati nipped Houston 3-2.

The Cubs and Pirates were tied at 2-2 in the eighth inning of their opener when Roberto Clemente doubled, Reliever Larry Gura hit Al Oliver and then Phil Regan came on. In between umpire examinations of the baseball, Regan's cap and glove for possible foreign substances, Gene Alley and Jerry May both walked, forcing in Pittsburgh's winning run

In the second game, the score was tied 1-1 in the fifth when Bob Robertson singled and stole second. Bill Mazeroski was intentionally walked and then Jim Hickman dropped a throw on pitcher Jim Nelson's bouncer, loading the bases. Maty Alou followed with a two-run single.

7th Straight

The sweep was a happy sendoff for the old stadium and moved the streaking Pirates to their seventh straight victory and a virtual tie for the NL East Lead. Pittsburgh trails the Mets by two percentage points and starts a three-game series in New York tonight.

The Mets fell victim to some late-inning thunder in Montreal with Rusty Staub hammering a two-run eighth inning homer that brought the Expos from behind.

Dave Marshall, who had three hits, homered in the top half of the eighth for New York, breaking a 1-1 tie. But Staub connected after Don Hahn's single to win it in the bottom half of the inning.

St. Louis moved to within one game of the Cubs by splitting with Philadelphia. The Cards took the opener with Richie Allen's seventh inning single driving in the deciding run against his ex-teammates. Joe Torre had two singles and a homer and drove in two runs.

In the nightcap, the Phillies earned the split by getting five runs in the 10th inning to break the game open. Johnny Briggs' pinch single delivered the tie-breaking run and an error and four more singles produced the insurance runs. Reliever Dick Selma lost the first game and won the second.

9 Game Lead

In the West Division, Cincinnati maintained its nine game lead by knocking off Houston on three solo home runs by Pete Rose, Bobby Tolan and Tony Perez. Rose and Tolan connected consecutively at the start of the game and then Perez' leadoff homer in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Los Angeles, running second in the West, won its sixth straight with Allan Foster and Jim Brewer combining to shut out San Diego. Wes Parker and Jim Lefebvre drove home the Dodgers runs in the first inning and that was enough to tag the Padres with their eighth consecutive loss. the Braves' losing streak stretched to seven games with the doubleheader loss to San Francisco. Rookie Alan Gallagher's 10th inning homer won the opener for the Giants after San Francisco had rallied to tie the game on Ken Henderson's RBI-single in the seventh.

In the second game, Frank Johnson substituting for Willie Mays, drove in three runs with a triple and a single as the Giants completed the sweep.

Who's Who; Orioles Find Out Hard Way

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles are rapidly learning who's who on the Washington Senators but they'd rather find out what's what with Eddie Watt.

Reliever Watt came on in the late innings Saturday night and again Sunday to try to protect slim Baltimore leads and both times the Orioles went out like a light. Sunday's score was 4-3 as pinch hitter Rick Reichardt, the only batter Watt faced, belted a 3-2 pitch for a two-run homer in the bottom of the 12th inning.

Saturday night, Watt came on in the eighth inning with the bases loaded and one out and Baltimore in front by a similar 3-2 score. The first batter to face him, pinch hitter Wayne Comer, promptly doubled home the tying and go-ahead runs in the Senators' 5-3 triumph.

Yankees 2½ Out

The Orioles' lead in the American League East dropped to 2½ games when the New York Yankees trounced Boston 8-2 after losing the opener of their doubleheader 5-3. Elsewhere, Detroit downed Cleveland 5-1 after losing 8-2, Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 9-1 but dropped an 11-10 nightcap slugfest, California nipped Kansas City 2-1 before the Royals romped 13-1 in the second game and Oakland took a pair from Milwaukee by identical 4-1 scores.

The Orioles had gone ahead of Washington in the top of the 12th when Paul Blair raced home from second as first baseman Mike Epstein dropped a throw for what would have been the third out.

But Dick Hall walked pinch hitter Jim French to open the Senators' half. Pete Richert came on and retired Ed Stroud but Watt replaced him when the right-hand hitting Reichart was announced as the batter for Lee Maye.

"That French walk was a key," said Washington manager Ted Williams. "He gets a walk and it's the game. The base on balls is the most unaccredited thing in baseball. It's as good as a hit and you're making the pitcher throw a lot of pitches."

Baltimore's Earl Weaver, however, said the game was decided "by eight inches." Before slamming his ninth homer of the season, Reichart fouled a sharp grounder to third baseman Brooks Robinson, who started what would have been a game-ending double play.

"He's a hero by eight inches," lamented Weaver. "If the ball is fair, we're on our way back to Baltimore with a victory."

Home Run Power

Carl Yastrzemski's three-run homer off Mel Stottlemyre and George Scott's solo shot helped the Red Sox withstand late first-game homers by New York's Bobby Murcer, Thurman Munson and Ron Woods.

But reserve catcher Jake Gibbs walloped a three-run homer and Roy White connected with a man on as the Yankees won the nightcap behind Stan Bahnsen. Tom Satriano homered for Boston.

"It's been so damn long I can't remember the last one," said Gibbs, who hand't homered since 1968. "I felt it was gone and I was just hoping it wouldn't go foul. I know Thurman's the number one catcher, but I try to stay ready and when my name's on the line-up card I just do the best job I can."

Twins Split

The White Sox, who had lost both ends of their previous seven twin bills this season, squeezed past Minnesota in their nightcap on home runs by Ken Berry, Danny Murphy, Luis Aparicio and Bill Melton. Tony Oliva and George Mitterwald homered for the Twins, while Harmon Killebrew smacked two homers and Oliva one in Minnesota first-game romp.

The Angels, who also split, remained three games behind the Twins in the AL West. Jim Fregosi doubled to set up one run and hit a tie-breaking homer in the fifth to provide the margin of victory in the opening game. But the Royals pounded out 18 hits, including a homer by Lou Piniella and two doubles and two singles by Amos Otis, in taking the nightcap.

VFW Proposes New VA Hospital In Detroit Area

BAY CITY (AP)— The Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting in their annual convention here, have passed a resolution calling for construction of a new Veteran's Hospital in the Detroit area.

The Allen Park Veterans Hospital, the largest in the state, was built in 1939 and VFW State Rehabilitation Director Ray O'Neill described it as "second rate."

Old, New Taboos Facing Visitors At Oahu Temple

HONOLULU (AP) — Some old and new taboos will be imposed when Kaneaki, largest of Oahu's ancient Hawaiian temples, is opened to the public this summer.

Women's liberation aside, ladies will be banned from the temple's upper platform—lest Lono, the god of peace, be upset.

"We didn't want to offend Hawaiians who revere the traditions of their ancestors," says Russell Apple, a historian for the National Park Service.

Smoking will be forbidden, too, because of the dry pili grass," Apple said.

Honolulu's Bishop Museum and the National Park Service are restoring the four-century-old temple, in which Hawaii's most powerful king is believed to have sought blessing for his fleet of longboats.

Apple said all the work is being done by hand, using only the ancient Hawaiian house-building arts and materials.

"There isn't a single nail," he said.

The restored temple features two prayer towers, an altar, two grass houses and five hand-carved images, including one of the god Lono.

The site was dedicated with a noomanalo, "a sweetening ceremony to remove any bitterness or bad influences left from the old days," Apple said.

Sharp Cuts Indicated In U.P. Doe Permits

By RAY VOSS
Grand Rapids Press Writer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—When the Natural Resources Commission holds its big annual "deer meeting" at the Higgins Lake Conservation School July 9 and 10, sharply reduced anterless feer hunting quotas will be on the agenda.

The reductions being weighed by game biologists of the Department of Natural Resources may reach 40 per cent in both the Upper Peninsula and northern half of the Lower Peninsula, but the quotas in the Southern Michigan farm country may be increased 25 per cent.

These quotas are based on biology and do not take into account the heavy pressure in the Legislature to call off anterless hunting entirely, especially in the Upper Peninsula. Somewhere in the Legislative mill is a joint resolution asking the commission to declare a moratorium, which sparked sharp discussion at a recent commission meeting.

Tired Of Pressure

"I'm sick and tired of being constantly pressured by the Legislature," said August Scholle of Detroit at that time. "If they want to take it off our hands, let them do it by law."

Whether the commission at Higgins Lake will accept the biological recommendations or be swayed by the Legislature is anybody's guess, but it's tradition is to hold firm with a scintific management and accept the biologists' recommendations. A decade ago, however, the commission with a different membership "ran scared" from Legislators' threats to cancel its authority to manage the deer herd and called off anterless hunting for a year. The very next winter brought heavy starvation losses, by the way.

Specific area by area quotas are being worked over in the game division and field recommendations are under study, but David Arnold, game division deer specialist, said the above overall reductions are fairly definite.

Reasons Different

Reasons for the cutbacks on both sides of the Straits are entirely different.

The Upper Peninsula deer herd is down so far, including two successive years of poor fawn production, that the game men want to avoid cutting into the basic breeding stock. The U. P. herd is in poor condition, he said, and so is the winter range.

"While the range can't carry any more deer at this point, it appears it won't have more to carry because of poor fawn production," he said.

"We're looking to an overall cutback in anterless quotas there of about 40 per cent, but some few areas probably will be closed entirely where the herd is way down, while a few others where the range is still overloaded will remain the same. The quota reduction, however, is planned for a majority of the Upper Peninsula."

In the northern Lower Peninsula, where 15 years of anterless hunting has succeeded in achieving a balance between the herd and its winter range, and the range in some areas actually has improved, the anterless quotas are reduced to increase the herd.

Herd Balanced

"We've been looking real hard at this for more than a year, and it appears that we finally have accomplished what we've been trying for 15 years to do—balance the herds," Arnold said.

"It begins to look like some of the range in Region 2 actually is capable now of carrying more deer. If the herd increases again, we can take advantage of the surplus. Region 2 deer have come through two tough winters in very good condition and that means, finally that they're getting enough to eat."

Here, too, the overall decrease in antlerless permits may approach 40 per cent, although in some areas of continuing crop damage and where the range has not improved the quotas will be maintained.

In Region 3, south of M20, where the herd is steadily increasing and highway crashes are still serious, the overall quotas may be increased as much as 25 per cent in a continuing effort to control the thriving deer population.

"Despite previous antlerless seasons, hunter success continues to rise and it's obvious the herd continues to increase, so we'll probably add a couple of new antlerless areas and generally raise the quotas," Arnold said.

Hope Wanes For Life Of Argentine Leader

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Pedro Eugenio Aramburu was mysteriously kidnaped a month ago today. Argentines in general have abandoned hope of seeing their ex-president alive.

Aramburu's disappearance has revived old memories and unanswered questions, many of them bitter issues.

One of the questions, supposedly underlying the kidnaping, concerns the execution of 27 people during the Aramburu administration of 1955-58.

Although 67, the tall and distinguished-looking Aramburu, a retired army general, was believed to be a favorite of the military to replace President Juan Carlos Ongania. Then Aramburu was kidnaped from his home on May 29 by two young men masquerading as army officers. The disappearance undermined what was left of public confidence in Ongania's government, and it toppled June 8.

Aramburu's friends charged that fascists connected with Ongania's government kidnaped the general to remove him from the political scene. Many Argentines believe this, but others believe a conflicting story told by persons claiming to be the kidnapers. They identified themselves as followers of former dictator Juan D. Peron, now living in exile in Spain.

The self-proclaimed kidnapers say they seized and executed Aramburu for his role in the 1956 executions. They claim to be members of a group named for Gen. Juan Jose Valle, leader of a Peronist uprising which led to the 27 executians.

The kidnapers, whoever they are, have sent proof that Aramburu was their prisoner. An envelope containing the ex-president's personal effects was found shortly after he vanished.

Communiques from the kidnapers claimed that Aramburu was tried by a "revolutionary court" and executed on June 2, just as Gen. Valle and 26 of his followers were executed 14 years ago.

Rubber Workers Accept Contract

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Local 7, United Rubber Workers, voted overwhelmingly Sunday to accept a three-year contract with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

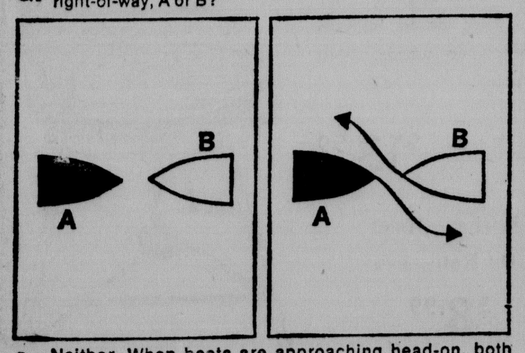

Of the 1,000 or so URW members attending the ratification meeting, union spokesmen said only about 10 were against the contract.

The new contract calls for pay increases totaling 82 cents an hour, plus improved fringe benefits. A tentative agreement had been reached June 18.

The pact covers 19,000 production workers at 14 plants in 13 cities.

Justice Officials Pleased Over Pot War Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department says it is highly pleased with initial results of "Operation Cooperation," the joint U.S.-Mexican drive to destroy opium poppies and marijuana in Mexico and catch those who trade in the illicit drugs.

Citing figures from a report to be published later this week, Bob Funesti of the department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs listed some examples of arrests due to the two-country cooperation:

Tons Seized

—In Mexicali, Mexican police arrested a "major trafficker as he attempted to deliver one ton of marijuana to a BNDD undercover agent."

—In Guadalajara, the Mexican army seized five tons of marijuana and arrested 15 U.S. citizens alleged to have arranged to smuggle it into this country.

—In Jalisco, BNDD agents helped when Mexican police captured a fully equipped heroin laboratory, arrested three persons and seized 225 grams of pure heroin.

Other examples involved arrests in New York City, Las Vegas, California and Tucson, Ariz., and elsewhere.

In addition, the Mexican government wiped out 5,745 acres of poppies and 44 tons of marijuana in a drive last spring, Funesti said.

Operation Cooperation started last fall after an earlier antidrug drive—"Operation Intercept"—soured U.S.-Mexican relations by creating big jam-ups at U.S. Customs points that discouraged tourism and inconvenienced Mexicans working in the United States.

Sending Planes

Under Operation Cooperation, the United States this week is sending Mexico three light aircraft and five radio-equipped helicopters seating five persons. They are valued at a total $815,000.

In addition, the Mexican government will receive $15,000 for remote sensing experiments aimed at detecting opium poppies and marijuana in their rolling hills. Another $35,000 will go for equipment to eradicate the poppies and other drug-yielding plants.

Cooperative training programs are planned to widen the pool of people able to detect and eradicate the plants and maintain the specialized equipment. Also, the U.S. Customs Bureau as of June 1 had strengthened its Mexico and Canadian border staffs by 900 men.

WHEN A SHOPLIFTING OCCURRED in a shoe store at St. Petersburg, Fla., Mickey Williams, manager of the store, didn't take time to call police. He tackled the man as he tried to get away. Williams didn't know that the suspect had friends to help him. The shoplifting suspect finally escaped. (AP Wirephoto.)

Hatfield Scores Course Of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mark O. Hatfield says GOP leaders are on a course to the political right that "spells possible disaster for the Republican party."

The Oregon Republican—a leader of his party's liberal wing—indicated Sunday such a move is exemplified by the so-called "Southern strategy" and might win the White House for the GOP in 1972.

But, he added, "When you consider that that type of rightward movement excludes the black people, it excludes the young people, it excludes most of those within the small business groups, perhaps, and labor, and ethnic groups of all kinds; you can't be a national party on that kind of a narrow base, the Southern strategy and the rightward movement represents."

Hatfield spoke on Metromedia Radio's "Profile" program.

If President Nixon cannot make satisfactory progress soon on the Indochina war, unemployment and inflation a "dump-Nixon" movement—led by someone like California Gov. Ronald Reagan—might materialize from the party's right wing and "there just might not be a Nixon-Agnew ticket in 1972."

He said the President's Vietnamization policy was a face-saving device to cover a "no-win policy" of unilateral withdrawal, and said he was somewhat skeptical of Nixon's ability to end the war and heal the economy.

Ford Says U.S. Inflation Slowing, But Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says inflation is being slowed less than he would like, but he thinks the rate will be down to about 5 per cent by the end of this year.

Prices rose 6 per cent in the 12 months ending May 31.

"President Nixon and the administration are confident we are making headway against it," the Michigan lawmaker said, "but I will admit it is not as much as I would like."

He also said in an interview that he does not believe Nixon will change his economic policies because of the upcoming congressional elections.

Ford said he thinks the Nixon policies will drop the rate of inflation and the economy will move out of its present state and rally in August or September for the rest of the year.

Library Meeting

DETROIT (AP)— Librarians attending the American Library Association (ALA) Conference this week in Detroit will focus on intellectual freedom and the relationship of libraries to social problems. About 10,000 delegates from public, state, college and medical libraries will attend the five-day conclave.

Mrs. V. Sharkey Taken By Death

Mrs. Vine M. Sharkey, 68, of 305 S. 10th St., died Sunday morning at St. Francis Hospital following a lengthy illness. She was born July 30, 1901 in Perkins and had resided in Escanaba for the past 40 years.

She is survived by one son, Todd of Escanaba; two daughters, Mrs. Raymond (Lois) Robitaille and Mrs. John (Joyce) Holland, Jr., both of Escanaba; seven grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Ethel Michaels and Mrs. Eilen Roach, both of California, Mrs. Lyle (Lilliam) Blossom of Berkley, Mich., Mrs. Gladys Jiroux of Escanaba and Mrs. Rene (Louella) Maskart of Gladstone; four brothers, Walter Jereau of Danforth, Wallace of Detroit, Kenneth of Newberry and Stanley of Munising.

Friends may call at the Degnan-Crawford Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Anne's Church with the Rev. Louis Cappo officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Illinois Offers Bill To Protect Lake Michigan

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP) — Proposed legislation to ban dredging, drilling, construction and salvage operations in Lake Michigan would give Illinois "The toughest environmental control bill to the nation," Atty. Gen. William J. Scott said Sunday.

The Illinois official presented the proposal Sunday to conservation officials from Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois who met to draw up a four-state compact to protect Lake Michigan from "ecological disaster."

The bill, which Scott said he will introcuce into the Illinois legislature in January 1971, would require written permission for drilling or dredging from four Illinois agencies — the Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Public Works, the Department of Conservation and the attorney general' office.

All offshore mining, including drilling for sand and gravel, would be prohibited under the proposed bill. The dumping of polluted dredgings back into Lake Michigan would also be banned.

"We're very much concerned with the fate of Lake Michigan," Scott said. "We're also concerned about the control of mineral and oil rights in the lake so that exploitation of these rights would not lead us into ecological disaster."

Blast Damages Drake Building

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Iowa's fourth dynamite bombing in less than two months damaged the Harvey Ingham Hall of Science at Drake University early today.

No one was injured from the explosion, which was detonated in a sunken mall on the south side of the 20-year-old building about 3:45 a.m.

Police Chief Wendell Nichols sid it was dynamite. An investigator for the Alcohol, Firearms and Tobacco Tax Division of the U.S. Treasury said he believed 15 to 20 pounds of high power dynamite was used.

Damage to the building was undetermined, but the federal investigator estimated it might reach $250,000.

Mrs. Nixon Pledges U.S. Help For Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Arriving with nine tons of relief goods, Pat Nixon promised American help Sunday night for earthquake-stricken Peru until reconstruction ends "and everything is rosy once again."

The First Lady of the United States was welcomed with a warm, affectionate Latin embrace and kisses on both cheeks by Peru's first lady, Consuela Gonzalez de Velasco.

"In this embrace and kiss which I give you," said Mrs. Velasco, "is the spirit of all my Peru and of all that which we are suffering in these moments."

Never Met Before

The two women, whose husbands are presidents of lands 4,000 miles apart, had never met before. They were brought together by the Western Hemisphere's worst earthquake in this century and by the desire of both their countries to improve strained relations.

Together, they launched two days of good will touring designed to get more relief supplies to the 500,000 Peruvians made homeless by the quake May 31.

Mrs. Nixon and her hostess were flying into the devastated Huaylas Canyon today to deliver some of the blankets and tents Mrs. Nixon brought in her husband's personal jet plane Sunday night. A U.S. military cargo plane brought the bulk of the supplies.

Showed Photos

Shortly after Mrs. Nixon's arrival at the U.S. Embassy residence, U.S. and Peruvian officials showed her before-and-after photos and gave her a 45-minute briefing on the disaster.

The devastation covered an area the size of Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands combined, said Augusto Zimmerman, director of Peru's information office, who estimated it would take $500 million to rebuild the devastated towns and villages.

Center To Treat Drug Problems Opens In State

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The nation's first center for treatment of drug problems in returning Vietnam war veterans will operate at the Veterans Administration Neuropsychiatric Hospital in Battle Creek, officials have announced.

VA officials say that drug addiction among returning veterans has grown at a "severe and alarming" rate and that the new facility is "an absolute necessity."

The center will utilize a group therapy approach and does not plan to use methadone treatment.

Methadone, an addicting drug, reduces the addict's physical craving for heroin, but does not produce the euphoric effect of other narcotics.

"We will not substitute one crutch for another," said Dr. Stewart Armitage, chief planner for the new center. "Our aim will be to help the veteran adjust to real-life stresses and problems. We don't want to risk expanding the drug problem by introducing new drugs."

Berlin Shows Romney Contrast In Freedom

BERLIN (AP) — George Romney, the secretary for housing and urban development, spent several hours in East Berlin Sunday and called the contrast between East and West Berlin a contrast in freedom.

Romney is touring West Germany and Scandinavia to study European housing methods.

Returning from East Berlin, the onetime Republican presidential aspirant said in a statement: "West Berlin's freedom is so much a part of our freedom, that we are committed to both . . . Unless Berlin remains free, freedom everywhere is jeopardized."

Describing the Wall dividing Berlin, Romney declared: "It is like seeing a heavily guarded prison wall with innocent people within.

"Hopefully, present efforts to replace armed confrontation-with a negotiated reduction of arms will eventually pierce barriers like this Wall of shame and will reunite family and friends in a city that has been cruelly cut in half."

Romney, a Mormon, also attended three church services Sunday, twice meeting with Mormon members of the U.S. Army's Berlin Brigade.

He also preached a sermon entitled: "Where the Lord is, there is liberty."

Romney flies to Hamburg Monday.

on a night camp of the 5th Mechanized Division's 1st Brigade just south of the demilitarized zone. The command said two of the enemy were killed.

War No Worse

Action elsewhere was light and scattered, with U.S. forces reporting at least 14 wounded, two of them in Cambodia.

South Vietnamese forces reported several clashes with 45 North Vietnamese killed and two captured in a fight two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The war was going no better for the Cambodian army today than it has in weeks, but it also was going no worse. The Cambodian High Command's spokesman told newsmen in Phnom Penh the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had made ground assaults on the major arms depot at Long Vek, 23 miles north of Phnom Penh, and had fired mortars at government positions in the Siem Reap-Angkor area.

In Laos, Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma replied to a new Pathet Lao peace proposal termed by informants "slightly more conciliatory" than previous Pathet Lao offers.

Government sources declined to disclose the contents of the letter, a reply to a proposal sent June 12, but diplomatic sources said the offer from Pathet Lao chief Prince Souphanouvong modified an earlier demand for complete and unconditional halt of American bombing raids against Pathet Lao positions.

The new offer, the sources said, leaves open the possibility the Pathet Lao will agree to peace moves if the United States stops bombing Pathet Lao territory but not the Laotian portion of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Foreign Policy Occupies Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, launching a work week emphasizing foreign policy questions, scheduled meetings today with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and the foreign minister of Communist Romania.

Nixon confers with Rogers just before the secretary of state heads for Southeast Asia.

The Romanian foreign minister, Corneliu Manescu, one of Nixon's hosts in Bucharest last August, was in California for the San Francisco observance of the 25th birthday of the United Nations. Romania is among Warsaw Pact countries proposing a mutual East-West European troop pullback.

Rogers flew to California Sunday night with Marshall Green, assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs, and Richard Pedersen, counselor for the State Department. Green and Pedersen were joining in the meeting with the President.

In announcing Sunday Manescu's visit, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon certainly would discuss with him recent disastrous floods in their native land. He did not say whether the East-West troop pullback plan would be on the agenda.

Nixon spent most of Sunday preparing for a report he will issue Tuesday on U.S. ground troops in Cambodia and for an hour-long live television discussion Wednesday night on foreign policy matters with representatievs of the three major TV networks.

The chief executive went to his office in the Western White House early Sunday morning after flying to El Toro Marine Air Station, north of here, to bid bon voyage to Mrs. Nixon, who went to Peru to dramatize American concern about victims of earthquakes. Mrs. Nixon will return to San Clemente Tuesday night.
